Will Form Ladies Auxiliary To Vets. Of Foreign Wars

All Eligible Women Invited To Attend

At a regular meeting of Sergt. Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr. Post it was decided that on next Sunday, March 5, at 2 p. m. the formation of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Post will take place. All eligible ladies are invited to attend this meeting which will be held at V. F. W. Hall, West Newton, at which time representatives of State Dept. V. F. W. Ladies Aux. will be present to assist. At this meeting the charter will be opened and all mothers, wives, daughters, step-daughters and sisters over 16 years of age that are eligible to join are requested to signify their intent to "sign-up."

Miss Olson and Miss Hughes of State Dept. V. F. W. Ladies Auxiliary were the guest speakers at the meeting held on Monday evening of this week.

On Patriot's Day, April 19, a dance under the joint auspices of the Daley Post and C. Co. 101st Inf., will be held at the State Armory in West Newton.

Past Commander John J. Keefe is chairman of a committee to conduct a Whist Party at V. F. W. Hall on Thursday evening, March 16.

Tomorrow evening a meeting will be held at Post Headquarters of all Post Commanders, Quartermasters and Adjutants of Middlesex County.

On last Sunday Commander David L. Keefe, Past Commander John J. Keefe and Comrade Harry Purcell represented the Post at a meeting of Middlesex County Council held at Somerville.

Commander Harry Hersum and Comrade Benjamin Murphy are both confined to hospitals due to illness.

A membership drive is soon to get under way under the personal direction of Charles H. Marden, chairman of the membership committee.

The next regular Post meeting will be held on Monday evening, March 13 at V. F. W. Hall.

Board of Health Tries New Serum

The Newton Board of Health is trying out the new scarlet fever serum which has been in preparation at the laboratories of the State Department of Health during the past three weeks. The serum has been developed from the blood taken from time to time in Newton from those who had recovered from the disease. It is to be administered in cases of children who have been exposed to scarlet fever in the hope that it will prevent their coming down with the disease.

The first case to be treated was a four-year old child who had been in contact with other members of the family who had scarlet fever. Dr. Arthur B. Lyon of Newton was the administering physician. When questioned over the phone by a GRAPHIC reporter, the doctor stated that the public must not expect too much from this method of treatment, as yet. While it has been tried in other parts of the country with apparent partial efficiency in preventing those who had been exposed to the disease from developing, it is new, especially in this region, and it will be a long time before the medical profession will be willing to make any very positive statement regarding the treatment, but they are hopeful that it points in the direction of the ultimate control of scarlet fever. Where immunity is derived, it apparently is efficient for a period of about a month.

ALLEN SCHOOL

Rev. Joseph McDonald spoke at the morning exercises at the Misses Allen School this week.

Lucille Cate of Auburndale is president of the Student Government and Barbara Ferguson of Waban, vice president.

Fellow Employees Honor Pensioned City Messenger

Present Lucian Davis With Radio Set

Lucian N. Davis, City Messenger retired from service today after being in the employ of the City of Newton for twenty-two years. The City Hall Associates, represented by Charles A. Mahoney, Pres., Edward F. Cannon, Vice-President and Paul Mullen, presented Mr. Davis with a radio. Mr. Davis has not been able to enjoy his gift as yet as he is confined in the Newton Hospital since Friday. Flowers were sent to him at the Hospital yesterday together with a poem written by Miss Gertrude C. Estes of the City Clerk's office.

To Lucian N. Davis (On his Retirement from Service on His Birthday Anniversary)

For more than twenty years, good sir, You've filled a useful station, At the post of City Messenger,— A worthy occupation.

You've answered to the beck and call, When'er such calls were made,— Of those whose work at City Hall Required your timely aid.

An errand here,—a message there,— Requests from everyone, And were the weather foul or fair, The business must be done.

But now has come that happy day You've had so long in mind, To leave the daily-travelled way, And rest and comfort find.

So as you ponder and reflect, Let this little token tell The true good wishes and respect Of those you've served so well.

And while today with cheerfulness Your birthday candle burns, We wish you every happiness, And only glad returns.

REAL COMFORT AND CHARM IN THE HOME

Mrs. Carolyn L. Dewing of Boston spoke on "Charm and Comfort in the Home" at the monthly meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Association on Wednesday. Mrs. Dewing, who is an interior decorator, presented ideas of economy in the selection of materials for draperies, upholsteries and curtains. She warned against the use of cheap materials and recommended rayon taffeta, tulle, prints, celanese voile and corduroy as satisfactory substitutes for more expensive materials. Attention was called to the fact that all paper appears three shades darker on the wall than in the roll. Large designs should be used in small rooms, striped paper tends to increase the apparent height of a room, and horizontal designs have the opposite effect.

APPOINTED FULL PROFESSOR AT ANDOVER-NEWTON

Amos N. Wilder, associate professor in religion at Newton-Andover Theological School has been elected professor of New Testament. Prof. Wilder succeeds Prof. F. L. Anderson who has taught at the school since 1900. He is a graduate of Yale College and of Yale Divinity School. He has studied at Brussels and at Oxford and has done graduate study at Harvard. He was ordained in 1926.

AUTOS COLLIDE AT WEST NEWTON

A car driven by Mrs. Ward Dayton of 432 Lowell ave., Newtonville and a truck driven by William Collins of Edenfield ave., Watertown, collided Monday afternoon on Washington st., near Aspen ave., Auburndale. The truck was owned by the C. H. Spring Company. Mrs. Dayton received cuts on her face.

More Than Three Thousand At Colorful and Interesting Exposition of Scout Activities

Newton and Wellesley Boy Scouts Stage Exhibits of Various Branches of Scoutcraft at State Armory, West Newton

Over 3,000 people visited the Scout Exposition in the West Newton Armory last Friday and Saturday evenings, when the Norumbega Council staged the biggest show of its existence. The Exposition covered the work of the Sea Scouts, and Cubs as well as that of the regular Scout organization. It was most attractive and interesting, covering as it did, the entire organization work of the boys themselves.

Entering the door, one looked the length of the Armory and saw a 20 foot totem pole towering from the stage, into the air topped by a big winged eagle in black and white, the work of Troop 9, Waban.

Going around the Armory, one saw railroading, 1st Class requirements and woodworking by Troop 5, Center. At the front of the center were the exhibits of the Seascouts of Ship 13, a really seagoing, salty exhibit of models and all things pertaining to that program. Beside it was the exhibit of Troop 10, Waban, of civics and the woodworking and the feature of the two-foot globe, designed and built by members of one Patrol.

Across the way was the exhibit of Troop 4B, Highlands, of Botany, with a rock garden and a fountain. In the garden were planted greens and flowers which the Scouts had raised and forced under glass particularly for the Exposition. With it also was Pathfinding. Beyond them, the sound of axes rang, as Troop 13, Center, erected a small log cabin right on the floor of the Armory.

Nearby was the little pine grove placed by Troop 5, Wellesley, with a demonstration of camp cookery and woodcraft. Then there were the Camping exhibit of Troop 22, Newton, where one would like to really camp right inside and the Pioneer-ing demonstration of Troop 7C, West Newton, with a booth erected without a single nail, all lashed with rope.

From across the way sounded the war-cries and whoops of Indians and the sound of the pioneer's voice, as Troop 11, Newton, demonstrated the evolution of Camping, showing how the Scouts learned from the Indians and Pioneers.

Back of them was a first aid demonstration by 4A, Highlands, with posters designed and made by the Scouts of that Troop. Not only did these Scouts exhibit but they performed the first aid work necessary during the Exhibition there. Hard by was the Camping exhibit of Troop 2B Wellesley, in a woods setting, with a For-ester's tent made by the Scouts. At the same time they were working on another tent.

Beside them was a real thrift job being done, as Troop 2, Auburndale, in their camp-setting, showed all the uses that can be made of tin-cans, sponges, pots, kettles and even "Oscar" the tin-can-man! Walking up a runway to the stage, one came right on the big totem pole, on which a Scout, suspended in a boy's chair was chiseling away or applying "loud" paint. To the right Scouts of 9, Waban, had a display of varicolored large and small totem-poles and were working away at others, too. The other side of the stage was the exhibit of the 5 Cub Packs of Newton, showing all phases of their work for the three ranks, Wolf, Bear and Lion.

One would hardly realize how many kinds of outdoor fires there are until seeing the show put on by Troop 7A, West Newton.

The camping booth of Troop 21, Center, with tents of various sorts, caught the eye, as did the show of Troop 20, Center, which had their pets of all sorts there and were also demonstrating wood-working. The history of the flag and forms of respect due it were worked out and shown very cleverly by Troop 19, Center. Troop 14, Upper Falls, were making and repairing radios and 6, Newtonville, had models of bridges and towers as a Pioneering show.

The Girl Scout Council had a most attractive booth, showing world-wide Scouting for Girls and a model in proper setting of the International Girl Scout Swiss chalet.

Troop 7B, West Newton, put on a rabbit show; Troop 16, Upper Falls, was busy making rustic furniture from gray birch for their cabin at the Nobscot Reservation and Troop 3, Nantum, put on poultry-keeping display with all the fixin's.

Troop 1, Newtonville, demonstrated first aid, as did Troop 6, Wellesley. By the door, Barron's, the Council Official Scout Outfitter, had a most attractive display of Cub, Boy and Girl Scout uniforms and equipment.

Mr. John M. Blier, President of the Council, presented the award to Troop 7C, West Newton, which won the most points for the largest advance sale of tickets. The award was a bronze plaque bearing the Scout Oath. The Cub award went to Pack 6, Waban and was an order for a Cub Statuette.

FINED FOR ILLEGAL DRIVING OF AUTO

Victor Knish, 29, of 115 Mount Auburn st., Cambridge, was fined $245 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court yesterday when he was found guilty of violating several automobile laws. The fines included $100 for driving an uninsured car; $50 for driving after his license had been suspended; $50 for not stopping when signalled by a policeman; $25 for speeding; $10 for not stopping when a traffic signal showed red; $10 for driving without a registration. Knish appealed. Knish was chased by Newton police from Newton Centre to Newton Corner where he eluded his pursuers. He was arrested at his home.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Senior Patrol Leaders Association feel proud of the work done by the members in their international display which they arranged at the Boy Scout Exposition.

Wednesday evening found most of the Newton Captains and Brown Owls at the home of the Newton Girl Scout Director, Miss Caroline L. Freeman, at 258 Mount Vernon st., West Newton. Subjects for discussion were: Golden Eagle requirements which were presented to them by Mrs. Grosvenor D. W. Marcy, and Mrs. E. W. Bartram spoke on the subject of First Class work, stressing the first class character requirements. The meeting was followed by games which the Leaders intensely enjoyed.

IMPROVEMENT ASSN. DISCUSSES TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Among the matters discussed at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association held on Friday evening was the possibility of avoiding the present congestion where the busses stop at the High School. Nominating and Annual Meeting committees were appointed. The meeting was held at the home of C. R. Cabot on Bullochs Park.

HEAR HOSPITAL WORKER

Rev. Bent E. Carlson, a hospital visitor under the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, spoke to the Woman's Association of Central Church on Wednesday afternoon. He is one of two regular visitors at 125 hospitals in and around Boston. His methods of helping patients are varied. He solicits gifts of flowers from various sources, especially from funerals and flower shows, gets groups of young people from churches to sing in the wards, writes letters for patients, and seeks material aid both for the patients and for their families when necessary. He reads to and prays with patients of all creeds and churches and administers communion when desired.

Mrs. Bion Weatherhead and her committee served luncheon. The tables, decorated in honor of St. Patrick's month, were the work of the serving committee in charge of Mrs. F. G. Ingraham.

TOOK PART IN BOSTON SONG FESTIVAL

The Highland Glee Club was one of fourteen represented in the male chorus composed of members of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, which took part in a choral festival given by the American Choral and Festival Alliance at the Boston Opera House last Sunday afternoon and evening.

The New England Federated Glee Clubs rendered five selections and the guest conductor was Arthur H. Turner of Springfield. Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, director of the Highland Glee Club, was organist and Carl Switzer, accompanist for the Glee Club, was pianist.

TEACHERS MERGE ORGANIZATIONS

Three organizations of teachers in the Newton public schools will merge into a single federation next Monday at a meeting to be held at the high school auditorium. The Grade Teachers' Club, High School Women Teachers' Club and Men's Educational Society will unite to promote the professional and economic welfare of the teachers.

AUTO BURNED AT NEWTON

The Highland Glee Club will sing; March 12—Methodist Church, Dr. Herbert Hitchen; March 19—Episcopal Church, Dr. Boynton Merrill; March 26—Unitarian Church, Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay; April 2—Congregational Church, Dr. Thomas S. Roy of Worcester; April 9—Baptist Church, Dr. R. H. Stafford, The United Chorus will sing; Friday, April 14—Union Communion Service in the Congregational Church.

LENT IN NEWTONVILLE

The Protestant churches in Newtonville are uniting for a series of community services on the Sundays during Lent; Central Congregational Church, The Church of the New Jerusalem, The Methodist Episcopal Church and St. John's Episcopal Church. The first one will be held in St. John's Church this Sunday, March 5, at five o'clock. Rev. Raymond Lang, Rector of St. John's, will conduct the service. Rev. Randolph S. Merrill of Congregational Church will assist and Rev. Laurence W. C. Emig of the Methodist Church will speak. The music will be by St. John's choir. In one of the later meetings the Rev. Horace W. Briggs will preach, representing the Church of the New Jerusalem. All the people of the community are very cordially invited to attend these services.

COUNTY ASSESSORS WILL MEET HERE

The annual meeting of the Middlesex County Assessors Association will be held on March 6th at Newton City Hall. The meeting will be addressed by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, David F. Crockett, Director of Local Taxation and others. Mayor Sinclair Weeks will welcome the assessors to this city. Matters of unusual importance to assessors will be discussed. John R. Prescott of the Newton Board of Assessors is Treasurer of the Association. Bernard Fallon of Cambridge, President of the association, will preside at the meeting.

MIDDLESEX COURT, M. C. O. F.

District 14, M. C. O. F., held a conference of deputies and officers of Courts in the District at Elks' Hall, Newton, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, 1933. High Secretary Treasurer Joseph J. Forrester was present and gave a detailed outline of the coming state-wide drive for members to be held March 29 to May 1, 1933. An Executive Committee was formed with D. D. H. C. R. at Large Thomas F. Fitzgerald, PCR as chairman; Miss Marion Goode, secretary; and Miss Eleanor G. Mulcahy, PCR; Miss Katherine M. Countie, PCR; Mr. Patrick J. Lally, 2nd PCR; Mr. James Milford PCR and Mrs. John J. King PCR. The general committee comprises the executive committee and the chief Ranger, Recording Secretary and five members from each of the Courts in the District. The next meeting of the general committee will be held at Sacred Heart School Hall, Newton Centre, on Tuesday evening, March 7, 1933, as the guests of Mr. James Milford, chief ranger of Father Thomas J. Lee Court No. 201, M. C. O. F. of Newton Centre.

Street Department Works Speedily In Removing Snow

Hundreds of Extra Workers, Many Trucks Hired

The heaviest snowfall of this winter occurred last Saturday night and Sunday morning. While this storm was in progress, and following it, the activity of the Newton Street Department in plowing the snow off streets to facilitate traffic, and in plowing sidewalks, was prompt and intensive. Several hundreds of men and youths were put to work early Sunday morning to assist the employees of the Street Department in clearing the snow off streets. Eighty trucks were hired to augment the city-owned trucks in plowing streets and removing snow. These extra men and hired trucks were used Sunday and Monday. Special attention was given to the business sections of the city and streets in these districts were rapidly cleared of snow. The prompt plowing of streets and the removal of snow, following last Saturday's storm, was in pleasant contrast to the delay evidenced following the snowstorm on the night of Feb. 10th.

Because of the replacement of horses by motor vehicles, the Street Department has less facilities now to play sidewalks than in past years. Sidewalk plows must be drawn by horses and the department now owns a much smaller number of these animals than it did formerly.

Tells Kiwanians Of Treatment of State's Criminals

Mr. Howard B. Gill, in charge of the Norfolk Prison, was a speaker at the noonday meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club Tuesday, February 28, at the Charles River Country Club. He understands criminals and treats their diseases as a trained medical man would other human ailments. At Norfolk the prisoners sleep in ordinary houses behind unlocked doors with no bars on the windows. There is no gun on the place. At the beginning of this experiment failure was widely predicted, but thus far many claim it a striking success.

Superintendent Howard B. Gill is rehabilitating State criminals with clear vision and splendid courage, is pointing the way to better understanding of the treatments, of the causes of crime, so that the prisoners go out into the world better equipped to begin a better useful maintenance in their communities.

Among the guests at the meeting were Harry Hageman, Building Commissioner of the City of Newton, Russell Burkhardt, Principal of the Frank A. Day Jr. High School and Police Fleming of the Wellesley Police Department.

George White, president of the Newton Kiwanis Club, presided. Next Tuesday, March 7, at the Charles River Country Club, Sinclair Weeks, Newton's popular Mayor, will be the speaker of the Kiwanis Club. His topic, "Fraternalism in Government" promises to be interesting and stimulating.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

HIGH SCHOOL BATTERYMEN TO REPORT WEDNESDAY

Coach "Jeff" Jones of the Newton High School baseball team has issued a call for battery candidates to report at the old drill shed next Wednesday afternoon at the close of school. The prospects of an outstanding pitching corps for this season which were so bright when the season closed last year have faded all though there will undoubtedly be considerable material from which the Newton mentor can develop a corps of twirlers of merit. "Lefty" Rhodes, 1932 captain and one of the best pitchers in schoolboy baseball last year has left school. Joe Choquette, sophomore sensation of last year who was expected to be one of the dependables this season, is now attending a prep school in Providence. The burden of the pitching may rest upon the shoulders of Phil Giles, relief twirler and veteran of the past two years, who is the only one of the star trio who were expected to do practically all the pitching this season.

Along with Giles the Newton coach has several veterans available for other positions including Captain Warren Huston, shortstop, Charlie Houghton first base, John Warren, second, Charles Flagg, third, Bill Terry, outfield, and Alex Kevorkian, catcher.

NEWTON PLACES EIGHTH IN STATE MEET—ENDS SEASON

Newton High's track team placed eighth in the annual State Meet at the Boston Garden last Saturday. Brookline won the championship in Class A with 21 points with Medford second with 16½ points. Lynn English with 13, Malden with 11, Lowell with 8½, and Lawrence and Boston Commerce, each with 7 finished ahead of the Newton team which scored 6½ points.

Captain Doug Sloane picked up a fourth place in the dash and Tom Fitzgerald a fourth in the 1000 to give Newton two points in addition to its 4½ points for the second best relay time of the afternoon.

In the trial heats of the dash Sloane won the second heat over Reardon of Boston Commerce to qualify for the semi-finals. Bob Quigley was in the third heat which went to Famigletti of Medford with Johnson of Brookline second. Sloane also won his semi-final over A. D. Committ of Everett. The second semi-final was won by Mannix of Boston English over Edward Cady of Boston Commerce. These four qualifiers took the mark in the final with Cady winning, Committ second, Mannix third and Sloane fourth.

Palmer York won the first trial heat in the hurdles but was shut out in a semi-final heat which saw three of the four best hurdlers of the year running together. In the 30-yard and 60-yard run neither Dick Francis nor Halstead Smith placed.

The 1000-yard run saw Capt. Ed Kozowyk of Medford, defending title holder in Class A, running third in his heat and failing to place in the points. The first heat was won by P. Lynn English with a new record of 2m. 27 sec. with the Vesper second and Kozowyk third. In the second heat McNelly of Lynn Classical won with Tom Fitzgerald of Newton coming up the back stretch to pass four other runners to take second place. Fitzgerald's time of 2m. 29.35 seconds brought him fourth place.

In the relay races Newton and Brookline closed the day's program with Newton winning in a thrilling struggle. Newton's quartet of Sloane, Miller, York and MacLellan turned in a time of 2m. 15.45 seconds which was only exceeded by the Malden team which equaled the 2m. 15 sec. and was edged out by Medford last year. Newton's victory was due to the running of Palmer York who gave MacLellan a comfortable lead. The Newton anchor was running against Joe Enwright of Brookline, a strong runner, and MacLellan held his opponent off in a struggle down the home stretch.

The meet closed the 1933 indoor season which has been none too successful from a Newton standpoint but Coach Enoch has better prospects for an outdoor season this Spring.

N. H. S. DRAMA CLUB IN "ROYAL FAMILY"

The Drama Club of the Newton High School is presenting "Royal Family," the Ferber-Kaufman play glorifying the Barrymore family, at the High School Auditorium this and tomorrow evenings. Louise Wetherbee has coached the production and Winifred Clark, Alice Mansfield and Frederick Claffee will take the leading parts.

IN CHARGE OF BARTER LUNCHEONS

Four Newton girls are members of the committee in charge of a series of barter luncheons to be given by the Y. M. C. A. at B. U. College of Liberal Arts. Lunch, which will be served for the nominal price of twenty cents, will be prepared from food solicited from students. To further reduce the overhead, members of the Y. M. C. A. will be preparing and serving the food. The Newton members of the committee are: Esther Coleman, Anna M. McPhee, Catherine E. Green, and Eleanor G. Wilson.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

A regular meeting of Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans, will be held on Thursday evening, March 9th at the War Memorial Building, Newton Centre. The attendance of all members is urged by request of Rupert Worcester, Commander and Nat Smith, Adjutant.

GALLAGHER LEADS MATES TO VICTORY AND TOP OF LEAGUE

Captain Charlie Gallagher of the Our Lady High School basketball team led his mates, 15 to 32 victory over the invading Cathedral High five last Friday on the local floor to step out in front of the Greater Boston Catholic High School league standing. The Our Lady High team defending champions of the 1932 title and the Cathedral High quintet, each having lost one game, were in a dead lock for the lead and the Our Lady High victory practically clinched the 1933 championship for the locals. Our Lady High had been defeated on the Cathedral High floor a few weeks ago for its only loss of the season and Cathedral was defeated by St. Charles High at Waltham more recently to allow the Newton team to regain a hold on the top rung.

In defeating Cathedral Gallagher tallied 22 of the winners 35 points. Eight of his points were on free tries from the foul line and the Newton captain's ability to convert these tries settled the issue although the Our Lady team was in doubt until the final minutes of play. In addition to tallying 22 points Gallagher aided in the scoring of 8 others through passes to his mates on four separate occasions.

The visitors covered the Newton captain closely, in fact so closely that Gallagher was fouled ten times covering eight of these into points was sufficient.

Our Lady High started off with Gallagher tossing in three foul tries before many minutes had been played. Marino caged a goal on a rebound of McCarthy's shot. McCarthy tossed in a foul, and Gallagher slapped in a rebound putting Our Lady High out front 10 to 2 at the end of the first period. Cathedral came right back in the second session and the half ended with the Newton five in front 18 to 15 after the visitors had deadlocked the count at 14-11.

Cathedral took the lead for the first time in the game midway of the third period with Cullane scoring to set the count at 22-20. At the end of the period the count was tied at 25-25.

In the final period with two minutes to play Our Lady High led 33 to 32. Gallagher was fouled twice and two converted points sewed up the game and clinched the victory. Except for the unexpected possibility of losing its final game of the league scheduled this afternoon.

Tuesday afternoon Our Lady High defeated Immaculate Conception High at Revere, 32 to 25. The local quintet had considerable trouble downing the Revere five as the latter covered Captain Charlie Gallagher closely. As a result the Newton star and league high scorer was held to but six points, two baskets from the floor and two on foul tries. Joe McCarthy at centre came through with 11 points and Marino with 5 to aid in keeping Our Lady High at the top of the league.

In the game St. Clement's managed to eke out a 22 to 19 win over Sacred Heart High at Newton Centre, while Cathedral High whipped Mission High 35 to 11 and St. Charles High of Waltham topped St. Mary's of Brookline, 25 to 15.

The league season closes this afternoon and Our Lady High needs a victory to finish with a clear claim to championship honors. A defeat would put Our Lady in a tie with Cathedral should the latter win this afternoon as expected.

The present league standing:

Our Lady's	12	1	611	313	923
Cathedral	11	2	492	315	846

"ON APPROVAL" DRAWS FULL HOUSES

Frederick Lonsdale's charming comedy "On Approval" is presently being presented at the Newton Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Arts on Friday and Saturday evenings last. The play drew full houses on both nights, and both from a point of dramatic excellence and of scenic values it was one of the most delightful presentations of the season. Mr. Robert C. Campbell played the role of the somewhat blase Duke of Bristol, Miss Rosalind Harris played the part of Mrs. Maria Wislack, the exceedingly sophisticated lady on the look out for a husband. Miss Pearce was Helen Hayle and Mr. Robert C. Campbell played the role of the friend of Richard Fatter.

Miss Harris scored a distinct hit in her impersonation of a shrew. She was by turns charming and vinegarish, kindly and snappy, and each time she left the stage a wave of applause greeted her efforts. Mr. Robert Campbell's acting has a degree of finish and a fine concept of the actor's art which makes his efforts appreciated by both young and old in the audience. Miss Pearce was charming and Mr. Reed gave a most convincing performance.

ST. PAUL'S PARISH ACTIVITIES

Miss Mary Buchan, Directress of the Diocesan Altar Guild of Massachusetts, and Sister Eleanor, S.S.M., were the guests of the Altar Guild of St. Paul's Parish at the regular meeting Monday afternoon, February 27, in the Parish House. Miss Buchan spoke for five minutes briefly outlining of work for the year, then Sister Eleanor lectured on the spiritual requirements of Altar Guild members and conducted a short service of litany in the church. A question period, tea and a social hour followed in the Parish House.

The Junior Altar Guild, with Mrs. George R. Loud, Directress, are to be the guests of the Junior Altar Guild of the Church of the Advent Tuesday afternoon and evening, March 7.

The "Y" track team, coached by Henry Pierce, former M. I. T. athlete, held its first dual meet of the season last Saturday at the "Y," meeting the Salem "Y" team. The Salem team won 59 to 27. The events held were those which are on the "Y" State meet program for March 18th, at the Boston "Y." John Morris won the 20-yard dash for Newton and placed second in the 300. Warren K. Lewis, Jr., placed third in the 600 and William Young third in the 1000 for the local "Y." Dr. Perlmutter, Warren Lewis, Jr., and Arthur Jacobs swept all the points in the 2-mile run. Mearls and Pierce of Newton placed second and third in the 3 standing broad jumps. White of Newton picked up third in the shot-put and Mearls a second in the high jump. The relay race was won by Salem. The visitors swept all places in the potato race.

Basketball

The "Y" five defeated the Wakefield "Y" at the Wakefield high school gym last Saturday night, 41 to 36. Art Kohler featured for Newton, scoring 12 points. Patterson, Mahler, Clarke and O'Neill figured in the Newton scoring.

In the preliminary game at Wakefield the "Y" juniors scored a 38 to 20 victory over the Wakefield 2nds. Stevens tallied 15 points for Newton. Seven of his points were on foul tries on which he had a perfect mark. Dolbeer scored 13 points.

Tomorrow night both the senior and junior teams play at the Newton "Y" with the seniors meeting Lawrence "Y."

Swimming

The "Y" junior swimming team members entered the 2-State "Y" junior championship meet held at the Newton "Y" tank last Saturday which was won by Providence. The Newton team will meet Providence in a dual meet on March 11th at Newton. The Newton swimmers who participated in the meet last Saturday were Donald Skauen, breaststroke; John Frazier and Norman McCutcheon, 50-yard freestyle; Edward Jackson, backstroke; and John Trumble, diving. The Newton relay team is comprised of Trumble, Skauen, McCutcheon and Frazier.

Newton Elks Win In Chelsea Contest

The degree team of Newton Lodge of Elks won first prize, the Nicholson Trophy, in the contest held at Chelsea. The contest was between teams from various lodges in Massachusetts in the exemplification of the Elks ritual. The percentage obtained by the Newton team was the highest in the history of such competition. The Newton Lodge team is composed of:

The election of officers of Newton Lodge will take place on March 9th. There is but one contest—for the office of Treasurer; the candidates are Walter Kearn, retiring Exalted Ruler, and George P. Brophy. The proposed candidates for the other offices are—Exalted Ruler, William Parker; Leading Knight, Hugh Boyd; Loyal Knight, Thomas L. Ryan; Lecturing Knight, David Greer; Secretary, Thomas Coppinger; Tiler, Matthew Hurley; Trustee, Stephen Hughes.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Twenty young people of the Norumbega District attended the Student Peace Conference sessions held Friday evening in Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, at which Prof. Kirtley F. Mather of Newton Centre was a speaker. Officers of the Young People's Council of the District will meet next Sunday afternoon with Mr. Grebe and Miss Barker to make plans for the Easter Sunrise Service and the Young People's Section of the District Convention. A new secretary of the Y. P. Council has been appointed, Richard E. Marshall of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. The Reading Campaign of the Norumbega District has 18 churches represented to date in its list of enrollees. It is not too late to enter this campaign, which does not end until April 29th, and for which only 300 pages are expected from each reader.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Annual Report to the Holders of 42,672,418 Life Insurance Policies

DURING the past year this Company has main-tained its strong position in the life insurance field.

Metropolitan's life insurance issued, revived and increased in 1932 amounted to more than Three and a Quarter Billion Dollars.

The income for 1932, the largest in the Company's history, showed an increase over the previous year of $14,859,229.33 and amounted to $921,953,100.70.

The Metropolitan in 1932

- paid to policyholders $562,804,650.79
- added to policy reserves $109,755,306.00
- set aside for dividends to policyholders in 1933, $101,685,956.00
- increased its contingency reserve by $26,550,000.00
- increased its surplus by $13,541,501.95.

The assets of the Company at the end of 1932 were $3,769,372,425.28, an increase of $179,256,771.56 during 1932. New investments made in 1932 amounted to more than $300,000,000 and cash on hand was increased to $64,025,923.35.

After making provision for policy reserves and other li-abilities, and after the apportionment of $101,685,956 for dividends, the Company held, on December 31st, 1932, a contingency reserve of $43,000,000, and a surplus of $240,811,739.47—a total of $283,811,739.47.

The strength of a life insurance company lies in the spread of its obligations over a long period of years and in a sound policy of diversification of investment pursued through the years under expert guidance and in accordance with conservative investment limitations prescribed by law.

Metropolitan assets consist of

Cash	1.70%
Bonds—Federal, State and Municipal	7.70%
Bonds—Railroad	18.00%
Bonds—Public Utility	9.03%
Bonds—Miscellaneous	3.28%
Stocks—(Preferred 2.028%; Common 0.002%)	2.03%

THE INAUGURAL

Tomorrow, for the first time in sixteen years, there will be an inaugural of a Democratic President. It was twenty years ago that a Democratic administration last succeeded a Republican administration. And it is the first change of party administration in twelve years. Some no doubt feel that tomorrow we will turn the long-promised "corner." Regardless of party loyalty, party differences, party policies, the principles upon which the United States is founded can endure only through government of, by, and for the people.

AN UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE

The House of Representatives of the State Legislature accepted the resignation of a Republican member and unanimously gave the seat to a Democrat this week. Inasmuch as there is a Republican majority in the House it was a most unusual occurrence. We wonder if it would have been a unanimous action had there been a Democratic majority and a Democratic member who was giving up his seat?

THERE IS MONEY

An interesting bit of phraseology or possibly philosophy—"There is more money at present than people think there is. A few years ago people thought there was more money than there was!"

Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm

Dorothy Major as "Rebecca" and Wendell Whittier as Jeremiah Cobb in Play for Children

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" has made friends everywhere, and she is bound to win many friends in Newton, when she will be presented by the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre Company in Boston on March 11th at Jordan Hall, both morning and afternoon. Kate Douglas Wiggin's delightful heroine will step forth from the pages of the book in the charming production of the play of which Clare Tree Major has lavished the care and special talent which distinguish all her presentations for children. Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell of Newton Centre is general chairman.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

HEALTH EDUCATION. Number 3. Teaching of Health Habits and Attitudes

The basis for our teaching of Health Habits and Attitudes is found in The Rules of the Game which were published by the Child Health Organization now merged into the American Child Health Association of which Mr. Herbert Hoover is president. These rules are to be found on the back of the weight record card which is sent home each month.

Rules of the Game:

1. A full bath more than once a week.
2. Brushing teeth at least once a day.
3. Sleeping long hours with windows open.
4. Drinking as much milk as possible, but no coffee or tea.
5. Eating some vegetables or fruit every day.
6. Drinking at least four glasses of water a day.
7. Playing a part of each day out of doors.
8. A bowel movement each morning.

These simple rules, meaningfully motivated, has accomplished, what seem to many, miraculous results in the health life of the children in our community. From childhood thru adult life the fundamental health habits are practically the same but, as the child grows in years and experience, he has greater responsibility for his own health behavior. To develop proper attitudes he must choose and like to do those things that are best for his growth and development.

Teaching Positive

The teaching of health habits is positive, not negative, thus emphasis is put upon what should be done rather upon what not to do. As far as possible opportunity is given for the pupil to establish his own habits of right conduct by practice rather than by simply learning and talking about them. As the child grows older, the approach to such teaching is changed to meet changing interests. To the forming of habits and attitudes is added the requirement of certain health knowledges. Health habits can only be formed by repetition but new experiences are used to sustain interest and arouse a desire for better accomplishment.

Food Habits

We teach the children that good food habits are important to bring about the best development of the growing child: 1. that he needs protein to build and repair body tissues, 2. fuel foods to furnish energy and heat, 3. minerals to build bones, teeth and blood, 4. vitamins to promote growth, to help maintain health, 5. bulk to aid digestion, 6. water to keep the digestive tract clean and to meet the various needs in all tissues of the body. We try to make desirable foods popular, to emphasize the need of milk, to discourage the excessive use of sweets, to work with the home at all times in suggesting and making good habits of eating desirable for health and for good manners.

Importance of Sleep

As during sleep the body grows, repairs itself and becomes strong again, good habits of sleep and rest are vital to health and happiness. At that time mind, nervous system and muscles rest. Children who have regularly long hours of sleep are apt to grow better, do better work in school and be more happy and cheerful. So, cooperating with the home, we try to make long hours of sleep, with windows open, popular. We emphasize the desirable bed time hour at different age levels. We try to develop a feeling of enjoyment in rest and sleep and to establish the habit of a regular bed time. Parents rejoice when their children go willingly to bed at the proper time because, "All the boys and girls in my room are doing it."

In short, all of our procedures are designed to make the health ideal attractive to children, that good health may become a vital part of complete living. Next week we will conclude our discussion of health habits and attitudes.

Under The Gilded Dome

A joint convention of the legislature was held Wednesday for the purpose of conducting memorial exercises for the late President Calvin Coolidge, a former Representative and Senator in the Mass. General Court. The exercises were simple, interesting and impressive. Rev. Albert J. Penner of the Northampton Congregational Church offered the invocation and the benediction. Ex-Gov. Channing H. Cox, who succeeded Pres. Coolidge as Governor of Massachusetts, delivered an appropriate address. Ex-Gov. Cox sketched the rise of the young Vermont lawyer through various stages to the Presidency and through his long association and friendship with the late President which endeared him to all. In urging an appropriate permanent memorial to Pres. Coolidge, Ex-Gov. Cox sought the preservation of the Coolidge birthplace in Vermont or some such simple memorial rather than an ornate mass or column of marble.

Many representatives of the national, State and municipal governments, members of the judiciary, four former governors of Massachusetts and representatives of foreign powers were included in the gallery which came to pay homage.

The House on Monday had several lively battles upon various economy measures which were passed to be engrossed. The measures were the seven bills which abolished tax divisions and repealed one law, that requiring psychiatric examination of certain prisoners. On two of the bills, those for the abolishment of the Division of Smoke Inspection and the Division of Necessary of Life, a roll call vote was forced while a voice vote passed the bills abolishing the Division of Ornithology, Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission, Metropolitan Planning Commission, the office of Director of State Parks, and the repeal of the prisoners' examination law. Rep. Baker's amendment to the bill abolishing the Division of Smoke Inspection which provided that inspectors of the Division who were transferred from the Department of Public Utilities when the Division was created in 1930 would be transferred back to the department was accepted after a roll call vote of 126 to 91. On the main bill the vote to abolish the division was 133 to 88. After debate on the bill to abolish the Necessary of Life Commission, a roll call vote of 105 to 103 passed the bill to be engrossed. Newton's three Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler, voted in favor on each occasion. Rep. Dever of Cambridge stated that he would move for reconsideration on Tuesday. This motion was defeated by a roll call vote of 103 to 113.

Another roll call on Tuesday was on an attempt to substitute a bill providing for the election of the trustees of savings banks by all depositors for the report of the Committee on Banks and Banking giving the petition leave to withdraw. Substitution was defeated 82 to 111 with Newton's three representatives voting against the attempt.

On Wednesday an attempt was made to substitute for the adverse report of the Committee on Labor Industries a bill requiring the labeling of all goods made in Massachusetts with the label "Made in America." This was defeated by a roll call vote of 101 to 111 with Newton's three representatives voting against substitution.

On Monday Governor Ely's veto of the Kelley pension bill was sustained by a roll call of 114 to 95. Newton's three representatives voted to sustain the Governor. Although those sustaining the Governor were in the minority the vote lacked the necessary two-thirds to override veto.

Yesterday afternoon the Senate debated for more than two hours the economy measures that had been passed by the House and before adjournment had advanced five of the bills to a third reading and postponed action on the remaining two. The bill to abolish the Metropolitan Planning Division was tabled upon motion of Senator Hollis who is opposed to the discontinuance of the Division. Senator Nicholson of Wareham offered an amendment to the bill repealing psychiatric examination of certain prisoners reducing the division by one-half. He then obtained postponement until next Tuesday.

Party lines were ignored on the five measures which were advanced by four Republican Senators, Hollis, Nicholson, Miles of Brockton and Haley of Rowley opposing the abolition of the divisions. The bills abolishing the Division of Necessary of Life and transferring the duties of the director of Parks to the Division of Forestry were ordered to a third reading on a voice vote without debate. The bill to abolish the Division of Smoke Inspection with Rep. Baker's amendment protecting the Civil Service rights of inspectors of the division who were transferred from the Department of Public Utilities was defeated at length. Senator Finnegan of Dorchester moved an amendment striking out the House amendment from the bill which was passed. The bill was ordered to a third reading by a voice vote.

During the debate on the abolition of the Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission which Senator Hollis opposed he stated that "some of the recommendations of a special committee are not in the interest of economy and this proposal is one of them." A roll-call vote of 24 to 7 advanced the bill to a third reading. The bill to abolish the Division of Ornithology was opposed as "the silliest economy legislation" by Senator Hollis. He said the division was of great value to farmers. After further debate the bill was ordered to a third reading by a standing vote.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Peering into the economic future seems to produce fully as much as guessing on an election.

Somebody Must Do This

It used to be said of an erudite friend of mine that he so loved statistics that he spread them upon his bread and butter. In the language of today he "ate 'em up." Never have I been able to acquire or develop such an appetite. Still there are times when figures impress me, although I can't explain why.

In a sort of distant and hazy way I have always wondered who keeps track of a lot of things that go on which seem to be nobody's business and yet cannot be ignored. One of those things in life that serve the same useful purpose of a crossword or jig-saw puzzle. You worry a lot over them because you know it is good for you but you really don't lose any sleep and even when you've found out there hasn't been such a whole lot gained.

Now if you want to keep track of things that are going on about you and which really are no concern of yours I suggest that you study the work of the Secretary of State's office for Massachusetts. My goodness, the things they can tell you there are enough to make you gasp in astonishment—if those kind of things astonish you.

Would you ever have thought that in one year 1,217 persons in Massachusetts had their names changed by the several probate courts? Well, they did and you'll find it in the 1932 annual report of the Secretary of State.

And did you know that labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement have to be registered and that in 1932 there were 148 recorded? Or that there were 2,593 notaries public, 509 justices of the peace without powers to solemnize marriages and 14 with those powers who were appointed last year?

Miscellaneous certificates (you can't imagine how many different kinds of certificates there are) amounted to 20,949 in 1932. You couldn't guess the number of births, marriages and deaths recorded annually and you'd be surprised, too, if you knew how many reports from towns and cities of voters, and everything are sent to the State House for record. Does it mean anything to you that about every proclamation sent out by the Governor of our State has a circulation of 11,000—at least that number of copies are printed?

The class, I think, has gone far enough for today and soon we'll have another lesson covering wider ground.

Saving the Scraps

It would please me very much if there were correspondence school courses on keeping and pasting scrapbooks. I don't know but I'd take such a course from the State University Extension Department, if they gave them, because it would be cheaper for the reason that the taxpayers help to meet the expense. But I haven't any opportunity to take such instruction and certainly haven't time to keep a scrapbook. Not up to date at any rate.

Now a scrapbook to me is something that (in my imagination) has an index revealing the presence on this page and that column of a clipping of something somebody wrote some time on some subject in which I was interested. As I see it (still in my imagination) it is a highly valuable book to have and one to which I know I would make frequent reference.

Every time I have endeavored to maintain this extraordinarily comprehensive volume I have not met with the success I had hoped. I am proficient enough in clipping things from newspapers and magazines and very skillful at laying them aside properly marked with the date. Where I stumble is in getting around to pasting these clippings in the scrapbook. Oh, I do get some in, but my experience has been that by the time I'm all set for pasting the accumulation of material is overwhelming. If I start to rush through I not only am apt to skip a whole page or get things upside down, but the work is by no means neat. I'm all gumped up and so is the book. But if I take a lot of care and proceed at an artist's pace I'm never surer of getting more than a page or two finished in a single sitting. Precisely how this thing should

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

"What Makes the House Charming?" is the subject on which Georgiana R. Smith will speak at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, on Monday, March 6th. Mrs. Smith, who is a graduate of the School of Fine Arts and Crafts, will consider the practical and personal aspects of interior decoration, and illustrate these with chintzes, linens, wall papers, and their accessories.

The Chorus of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Ginn, will sing several selections. Following the program, tea will be served by the Social committee.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Ralph Rogers will open her home for the regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, on Tuesday, March 7th.

Mrs. Richard O. Walter will review Van Dyke's "In the West Indies" and Mrs. H. E. B. Case will tell about "The Basque People," by Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Railroad Bridge planned for the Auburndale Woman's Club on March 7th, by Mrs. Walter Wells and her committee, promises a different and most enjoyable afternoon. Trains leave at 2 o'clock sharp! With this curiosity-provoking announcement all members are sure to be "a-board."

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Literature committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold the fifth in a series of Literature Lectures on Tuesday morning, the 7th, at 10 a. m., when Miriam Francis Skirball will have as her subject "T. S. Eliot, His Poetry and Influence." Admission to this lecture is 75 cents.

The American Home committee of the Club, of which Mrs. Sidney R. Porter is chairman, announces "Three Cooking Lessons," by Mrs. Caroline Bixby, to be held at 9:30 o'clock, on Wednesdays, March 8th, 15th, and 22nd. Mrs. Bixby is the New England Home Service director of the Robert O. Mander Gas Stove Company. Besides new ideas for meals, she will offer practical suggestions for informal entertaining including candy and sweets for bridge parties and teas. The price of tickets is 75 cents for the three lectures or 35 cents for single admission. Those interested should apply to Mrs. Chester C. Rauch, (C N. 4253.)

On Thursday, March 9th, at 10 a. m., Dr. Samuel McCauley Lindsey will speak at the regular Current Events meeting. He will discuss "Hitler and the German Situation."

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly business meeting at 3 p. m. on Wednesday, March 8th.

The Club has engaged Dr. Charles Tozier to give a lecture on March 31st, at 8 p. m. Dr. Tozier is a very popular speaker and the Club is fortunate in having an opportunity to hear him.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Ten Days Before the Wedding," the three-act drama, by Lindsey Barbee, will be presented by the Drama committee, on Tuesday, the 7th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Club House, and will be given again the same evening at 8:15. Membership tickets admit Club members, but guest tickets may be purchased for 50 cents at either performance.

The cast, made up of Club members, includes many familiar favorites, among them Marion Bassett, Frances, a manicurist; Olive Rice Madge Cory, Nancy's young sister; Gladys Cunningham, Elaine West; Miss Cory's niece; Mary Hoyt Cox; Julie Jarvis, maid of honor; Naom Kuebler, Nancy Cory the bride; Gladys McGill, Mrs. Cory, the bride's mother; Elizabeth Hartshorne, Marie a maid; Eva Williams, Mrs. Gray the housekeeper; and Helen Southworth, Olivia Oelvey, a writer.

The Hospital committee will meet at the Newton Hospital on Thursday, March 9th, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Lunch is furnished by each member and coffee is served by the Hospital. The committee, of which Mrs. Henry J. Barringer is chairman, sews and makes dressings for the Newton Hospital.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Nancy Byrd Turner, American Poet and Editor, will have as her subject, "A Poet Tells Her Own Tale" at the regular meeting of the Club on Tuesday, March 7th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House.

The West Roxbury Woman's Club

Ernest Fredrick Oedel leader, will give a group of songs.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will hold a business meeting on March 8th, at 10 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce. Guests may be invited at 10:45 to hear Mr. John Lund, superintendent of Newton schools, Mrs. Ralph Angier and Mrs. William F. Hollings will be hostesses.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. John B. Shaw of 39 Grove St., Auburndale, will open her home on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 8th, for a Bridge Party to be given in the interests of the Scholarship Fund of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Mrs. Francis E. Nowers is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for this social affair.

The next regular meeting of the Club, on Friday, the 10th, has a most intriguing announcement of program since it gives visions of various possibilities, and those planning it are not satisfying curiosity, so that it will be necessary to go to see "On the Air, by WEEL," if one wants to know what it is all about.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday afternoon, March 9th, the Newton Community Club will meet at the Underwood School at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the president, will preside at the business meeting, after which Mrs. George Pratt Maxim, chairman of Dramatics will present the play "Her First Assignment," by Gladys Bridgman.

Those taking part in the play will be Mrs. John X. Dolan, Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, Mrs. Albert A. Schaal, Mrs. Clarence H. Spike, Mrs. Kendal A. Woodrough, Mrs. Marguerite Tyler, Mrs. Elwood A. Howe, Mrs. Harry Walen, Mrs. David Black, and Mrs. Kenneth Backman.

At the close of the entertainment tea will be served by the Social committee, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Patterson, chairman.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Allan McIntosh, 90 Winches street, president of the Shakespeare Club, will be the hostess for the next meeting Saturday, March 11th, at 2:30 p. m.

The program for the afternoon, Act V and Review of "Julius Caesar" will be in charge of Mrs. F. S. Keith. This meeting scheduled for March 4th is postponed a week.

Newton Federation

A special meeting of the Health committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau and the Christmas Seal committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs has been arranged for March 8th at 3:30 o'clock at the rooms of the Welfare Bureau, Austin street, Newtonville. The sale of the Health Christmas Seals is a very important activity of the Federation, and the committees of the two above organizations wish to discuss plans for future work. As most of the money realized by the sale of the seals is used for the benefit of Newton residents, the meeting is open to all interested.

State Federation

YOUTH CONFERENCE. Noted speakers on modern topics of interest to homemakers and parents will be discussed at the Annual Youth Conference, arranged for the two days Thursday, March 9th, and Friday, March 10th, at Hotel Statler, in the Ballroom Foyer, opening at 10 o'clock on the 9th. Luncheon speakers are special features of the sessions as already announced. On Thursday morning Judge Emma Fall Schofield will speak, among others, and in the afternoon, Laura Huxtable Porter; notable women in whom clubwomen are especially interested as proud of their achievements.

An added attraction will be exhibits in the foyer: books for boys and girls, photographs of apartments improved by the Massachusetts Committee of Better Homes in America; children's toys, flowers arranged artistically and correctly, and models of landscape architecture.

Still a few hours remain in which Newton clubwomen may obtain tickets from Mrs. Dwight R. Clement, 1 Harvard street, Wellesley—before March 5th, being the time limit set—luncheon tickets for each day being $1.50, and registration fee to attend the Conference being 50 cents.

RADIO. The Saturday morning broadcasts of Club features of timely value, under the auspices of Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of Brockton, may be heard over WBZ from 11:30 to 12 o'clock. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, past president of the State Federation, and Massachusetts director to the General Federation; and Miss Helen M. Dellicker, Junior High School Supervisor of Quincy, will be the guest speakers on the half-hour radio program sponsored by the Federation over station WBZ next Saturday morning, the 11th, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Schrader will give an address on "The Drama," and Miss Dellicker's topic will be "A Woman in the Hour of Need." Edward Matthews, Baritone, will be the soloist for the program. The program previously announced for tomorrow, March 4, has been cancelled on account of the inauguration addresses.

RECENT EVENTS

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Dr. Samuel Macauley Lindsey opened his lecture on Current Events at the regular meeting of the Club on Tuesday, February 21st, by comparing the World-wide depression with Columbus' description to the Italians of his discovery of the new land. "He didn't know how he went, where he went, or how he got back," Mr. Lindsey outlined the domestic problems Franklin Roosevelt has to meet as, first, he must carry out the pre-election promise of reducing the Federal expenses by 25 per cent, second, balance the budget; third, cut the pensions granted to veterans of the World War and the expenses of veterans of the different wars; fourth, solve the problem of utility corporations and fifth, banking. Regarding the latter, Mr. Lindsey said the United States has the poorest banking system in the world, over three thousand banks having failed in 1932, the only States not having failures being Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. He added that men have been successful in public utilities and banking because of luck and prosperity and not because of great mentality. Many of these men, he stated, have proven to be idols with clay feet. The sixth probrying forward the tale, and humorous descriptions made them most amusing to the audience.

And finally, Mrs. Harding's laughable sketches of the clothes worn in 1893 and 1933, and the huge question mark representing those to be worn in 2433 won enthusiastic applause.

After luncheon the Club enjoyed an exhibition of articles contributed by

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

In the GRAPHIC last week it was stated that by a vote of 14 to 6 the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Feb. 20 sustained the recommendation of the Licensees Committee in refusing a permit for a gasoline tank and pump to the Newton Tire Company at the rear of 237 Washington st., Newton. The name of Alderman Holden was included among those voting against the report of the committee. Mr. Holden did not vote against accepting the report. He voted to have this matter referred back for further consideration; this motion being defeated. The vote on accepting the report followed.

A couple of weeks ago we saw the scene of the terrible tragedy on Walnut st., Newton Highlands, when a house, blowing the dwelling to fragments, causing a young woman to lose her life in the resultant fire, and destroying all the property of her aged parents. As one of the hundreds of thousands of customers of the gas company, who in recent years has been paying a premium of 50 cents each month to this public utility corporation as a service charge, the thought occurred to us that this company could perform a real service to its customers if it engaged mechanical and chemical engineers in efforts to devise safeguards against such accidents. And there are plenty of competent engineers seeking employment today.

The gas main which supplied the house where the explosion occurred runs under a gravel sidewalk at this place on Walnut st. But, for the most part in this city gas and water mains run under the traffic roadways in streets. The wonder is that more breaks don't occur with huge trucks rumbling over our highways. Trucks, with their loads, frequently weigh 15 or 20 tons. Persons residing on streets over which such huge vehicles travel can testify as to the vibrations resulting. Our ordinary highways were not built to withstand this type of traffic.

Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Chairman of the Newton Board of Health, who is ill at the Newton Hospital, is making favorable progress.

The city ordinance compelling the removal of snow from tar sidewalks in certain sections of this city is still in force. It is not being obeyed by many persons who either are physically able to shovel off their sidewalks or who could give work to some of the unemployed to perform this task. It is also not being obeyed by certain chain stores in the business sections of the city. This ordinance should be enforced.

The revelations of the unloading of those Peruvian bonds onto a trusting American public by the big financiers associated with that huge banking institution in New York isn't going to increase the confidence of the people in our supposedly reputable financial organizations.

It may be all right for the famous woman who is to be the first of her sex to fill a Cabinet position to use her maiden name, "Frances Perkins," inasmuch as this was her name under which she first won recognition. But, when a married woman and the mother of a daughter is designated as "Miss," isn't it rather muddling things?

One of the most dangerous traffic points in this city is on Washington st. where Church st. enters at a blind bridge, and where immediately opposite Jewett st. ends. Many automobile accidents have occurred at this place and at least two persons have been killed in recent years while crossing Washington st. at this location. The West Newton resident who tried to convince Judge Bacon in the Newton court this week that there is not a street intersection at this place, when a member of his family was charged with driving at a speed of over 40 miles an hour by it, will get little sympathy from residents of Newton who daily have opportunities to observe the menace which speeding automobiles create at this and other points along Washington st.

Talking about reckless driving of automobiles: The speeders who operate cars at 35 miles and over in Boston who specialize in showing foreign produced movies. He states that a film showing the return of the United States fleet from the maneuvers on the Pacific was hissed; and a photo of Lenin was applauded. That audience in that theatre must have been foreign in large part, and also unfriendly to this country. We don't believe in the snappish sentiment "My Country, right or wrong," but those who come here to obtain a livelihood either should be loyal to this country, get out of it—or be put out.

We hope that among the measures which President Roosevelt will attempt to put through for restoration of prosperity will be one that will stop the ruinous competition which has been dragging this country deeper in the mire. Low prices made possible by starvation wages, bad working conditions and rotten business methods.

If you have tired of jig saw puzzles, try pronouncing the names of some of those places in China that the Japs are capturing. Peichang-yingtzte, for instance.

the members themselves, at Mrs. Harding's request. There were many examples of handwork, such as spreads, quilts, shawls, table linen, etc. Each article shown had some special interest, due either to its age, beauty, or history, and much pleasure was derived as the members viewed one another's treasured possessions.

The department of Education furnished the afternoon program, and the chairman, Mrs. Henry L. Goodman introduced the speaker, Mr. Ernest Herman, Superintendent of Playgrounds in Newton. Mr. Herman said avocations, not vocations, fill our lives today, and he pointed out, in a most interesting way, the part that play has in the education and character-building of the youth of today and tomorrow.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met on Monday, February 27th, at 2:30 p. m., the hostess being Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, of 4 Chester st. The subject for the program, "Current Literature of Present Economic Conditions," was presented by Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson. Current Events were discussed by Miss Thalia Clark and Mrs. Helen Ward.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met on Tuesday evening, February 27th, in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School. A very informal evening was spent with Miss Margaret George as speaker. Miss George, who is Decorations Consultant for T. D. Whitney and Company, in Boston, gave an interesting talk on "Keys That Will Unlock Any Room." She brought with her many beautiful pieces of brocade, chintz, linen, and curtain materials for demonstration, as well as exquisite designs for handwork. The lecture was both informational and enjoyable.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex:
RESPECTFULLY I, Evelyn, and represents Laura Saltzman of Newton in the County of Middlesex that she was lawfully married to

Archibald Hazelwood Saltzman now of parts unknown to your petitioner at Middleton in the Province of Nova Scotia on the twentieth day of February A.D. 1919, and thereafter your petitioner and the said libellee lived together as husband and wife and last lived together at Bridgetown in said Province of Nova Scotia; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said libellee being wholly regardless of the same, at said Bridgetown on or about May 1, 1929 utterly deserted your libellant which utter desertion has continued at all times up to the date of the filing of this libel; that there has been no communication with your libellant since that time; that there is no child who is living, and is a minor whose name and date of birth are as follows: Evelyn Louise Saltzman born November 21, 1919.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be decreed; and that the care and custody of said minor child be given to your libellant and your libellant further represents that she has lived in said Newton continuously for more than five (5) years prior to the date of this libel and that no previous libel for divorce, or petition of divorce, or petition for separate support has been brought by either of the parties to this libel.

Dated this twenty-first day of February A.D. 1933.
LAURA SALTZMAN.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.
Upon the foregoing libel, ordered, that the said libellant give notice to said Archibald Hazelwood Saltzman by causing an attested copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton in the County of Middlesex, once a week, for three weeks successively, the last publication to be four days at least before the return day of this Court, at Cambridge, within the County of Middlesex, on the tenth day of April A.D. 1933, and by mailing forthwith, by registered letter to the libellee at his last known residence an attested copy of said libel and of this order thereon; that he may appear at said Court within six months from said tenth day of April and show cause, if any he has, why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this first day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.
LORING P. JORDAN, Register.

The foregoing is a true copy of said libel and of the order thereon.

Newton's New Sewer Needed For Many Years Gives Work To Hundreds

Interesting Article Written By City Engineer Morse Gives Details of Contract and Aid to Unemployed

The following article was prepared by City Engineer Morse regarding the huge public work now in progress at Newton. This article explains the nature of the work and the method being used in employing on it hundreds of men who are dependent for relief on the Newton Welfare Department and the Mayor's Relief Committee.

The project now going forward in this city in the excavation of a new, main line sanitary sewer at an estimated cost of $350,000 is accomplishing a two-fold purpose. It will relieve a badly overloaded portion of the city's sewerage system and it is providing work for able-bodied men, who have been unemployed and were dependent for support on the Welfare Department of the city.

A high-level intercepting sewer 60 in. and 63 in. in diameter, is being built to divert the sewage from the high land to an extension of the high-level sewer of the Metropolitan District Commission (serving Boston and other cities and towns), thus relieving the lower portion of the system. The estimated cost of the project was much higher than had been expected, but with many men out of work and receiving help from the Welfare Department and the Mayor's Relief Committee, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen did not hesitate to proceed with the work.

In view of the difficulties of requiring the contractor to use welfare labor under the usual type of municipal contract, consideration was given to a form of contract which would assure the use of such labor. The Civil Service restrictions are such that construction by welfare men on force account did not appear feasible.

Finally a modified form of cost plus fixed fee contract was executed with T. Stuart & Son Co., a local contracting company and one of broad experience and high standing.

This type of contract assures the use of local and welfare labor and it also provides the experience and driving energy of a successful contractor. The contract calls for the city to pay for all labor, materials, supplies, small tools, for all trucking at stated rates per hour with ample restrictions regarding delays.

The resident engineer authorizes the placing of orders for materials and supplies after the contractor has obtained quotations; he certifies as to the receipted bill after it has been paid by the contractor. Advantage is taken of competitive prices and cash discounts on all purchases. The resident engineer also certifies to the accuracy of all pay rolls, the character of work done by the several men and the amounts paid them. The contractor pays all bills and payrolls and is reimbursed by the city on approval by the engineer—monthly for materials and supplies and weekly for labor.

At a conference with the heads of the City Welfare Department, the Soldiers' Relief Committee and the Mayor's Relief Committee, the qualifications for the different types of labor were defined by the contractor that is for pick and shovel men, for carpenters, etc. The contractor notifies the Mayor's Relief Committee of the number of each type of men required from time to time. The Welfare Department and the Soldiers' Relief Committee pick out men on their list, with these qualifications and certify them to the Mayor's Relief Committee. The head of this committee sends the men with a card to the contractor on the job. The contractor puts them to work after verifying their physical fitness and capability. He deals only with the head of the Mayor's Relief Committee.

When men first report for work and look the job over, a very few of them decide they do not care for it and walk away. Such men thereby forfeit their good standing with the Relief and Welfare organization. For the most part, however, the men appear to have been well qualified, willing to work, and the success of this method of handling labor seems to be assured. Most of the common welfare labor receives employment at 40 cents per hour. The welfare carpenters work three days a week at 75 cents per hour although a few leading carpenters work full time at the same rate.

Preliminary borings indicate that the tunnels will be largely in rock—a laminated slate. In the Mount Ida tunnel, which is 150 feet deep at the maximum, the borings indicate so little rock over the roof of the tunnel that undoubtedly in some parts the

Newton Policeman Critically Hurt—Struck By Auto

Alleged Drunken Driver Arrested After Struggle

Patrolman Thomas McCormick of the Newton Hospital was critically injured Monday night while performing traffic duty at Beacon and Hammond sts., Chestnut Hill, about 8 o'clock. He had halted traffic when a car came along and hit him, hurling the officer about 20 feet. According to witnesses, the driver of the car alighted and staggered down Hammond st. News of the accident was telephoned to police headquarters and a patrol car with Policemen Chadwick and Murphy hastened to the scene. Patrolman Chadwick, who was on duty at the time, saw the driver of the car, Chadwick started to place him under arrest and was resisted. In the struggle Chadwick's eyeglasses were broken. While he was struggling with his captive, Patrolmen Murphy and Lyons arrived on the scene and the man was placed under arrest. He was Patrick O'Reilly of 1148 Commonwealth ave., Allston.

McCormick had been rushed to the Newton Hospital in the car of H. C. Wells, of 111 Glen ave., Newton Centre. He was unconscious and had a bad concussion of the brain, and fractures of the right arm and right knee-cap. His condition has continued critical since. In the Newton court on Tuesday O'Reilly was charged with drunken driving and with going away after an accident. He was also charged with assaulting Patrolman Chadwick. He was released in $2400 bail.

Joseph W. Bartlett Appointed By Gov. To Finance Board

Joseph W. Bartlett of Waban, City Solicitor, has been appointed by Gov. Ely as chairman of the Emergency Finance Board for a term of 3 years. This Board, which was authorized by the Legislature last week, will have charge of the loan of State funds to cities and towns against outstanding tax titles of the previous year.

Pedestrian Killed In Street By Auto

Homer Nash, Jr., 23, of 117 Wallace st., Newton Highlands, was fatally injured last Thursday night while walking on Needham st., Newton Highlands. He was hit by a car driven by Bert McNaughton of Mellen st., Needham. It was snowing at the time and McNaughton claimed he did not see the victim. Nash was walking with Claude Miller of Wellesley Hills when the accident occurred. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died early Friday morning later. Nash was a native of Walpole, New Hampshire, and his parents reside there.

Coordinating Committee For Relief Work

Mayor Weeks Appoints Three Well Known Newton Men

The special committee appointed by Mayor Weeks to assist in coordinating welfare activities in this city has started to function. This committee is composed of Aldermen Charles B. Floyd, of Auburndale, chairman; Edward J. Kivell of Prospect st., West Newton; Herbert P. Wasgatt of Moffat rd., Waban. The purpose of this committee is to provide prompt interchange of information between the several organizations engaged in relief work in the Newtons to facilitate the activities of these bodies. It will endeavor to assist the Welfare Department, the Mayor's Relief Committee, the Newton Welfare Bureau and the Catholic charitable organizations. This committee will not attempt to supervise or interfere with the work of the Welfare Department, which has been operating efficiently under the direction of Miss Florence Fitzgerald. Mayor Weeks evidenced his satisfaction with Miss Fitzgerald's work in these very trying times by reappointing her recently for another year.

The committee will try to eliminate duplication of effort in the activities of the different relief bodies and will aid in obtaining information regarding individual cases. Many cases of persons needing aid have peculiar ramifications because of the wide difference in the past economic status of individuals and families now in impoverished circumstances. The committee will meet about once a week.

Aid to men accustomed to manual labor is being provided largely by emergency employment on playground and park areas and on the sewer tunnel job. Appropriations made by the Board of Aldermen at the recommendation of the Mayor finance these projects. Aid for the so-called "white collar" class is being provided from the Community Chest.

During the week ending Feb. 24th, over 4000 men, women and children received aid in this city and $9460.37 were expended in this work. The Welfare Department expended $3732.10 in assisting over 1500 persons; the Soldiers' Relief Department $2381.25 in aiding over 900 persons; the Mayor's Relief Committee $347.02 in assisting more than 1700 persons.

In former years the heaviest months for relief assistance have been March and April, but because of the extraordinary conditions now prevailing it is doubtful if there will be an appreciable lessening of applications for relief during the coming Spring.

Thief Snatches Bag

Another highway robbery occurred in this city late last Sunday night. As Catherine Costello of 310 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, was approaching that address she was accosted by a thief who grabbed her handbag and after a struggle snatched it from her and fled. A similar holdup occurred in that section two weeks previously.

Newton Banks Among First To Open for Business

Start Tuesday To Afford Facilities to Patrons

On Tuesday the Newton National Bank began to issue funds for the payment of payrolls. It was one of the first national banks in the State to begin this activity since the State holiday was declared. It also started to pay small sums to depositors who needed the necessities of life.

The Newton Trust Company was one of the first State controlled banks in Massachusetts to start business this week. On Tuesday it began to receive cash for new deposits and make change for customers. Yesterday it issued funds for several payrolls, including $18,000 for the city payroll and $2400 for relief funds.

The Savings Banks yesterday commenced to receive new cash deposits and to make limited payments under the regulations specified by the State Bank Commissioner.

Advertising Signs On Newton Streets In Defiance of Law

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Temperley inquired of City Solicitor Bartlett if the advertising signs on the reservation at Commonwealth ave., near Cedar and Morton sts., Newton Centre, can be so located legally? Mr. Bartlett ruled that these signs are not on this public street lawfully. Notwithstanding this ruling, the signs continue to be allowed on the reservation.

In asking this information Mr. Temperley suggested that if the city had the legal right to permit the use of the reservation on the avenue for private advertising signs, it ought to obtain revenue from those advertising. Other advertising signs have been placed on Beacon st., near Crescent ave., and on Parker st. at Howe rd., Newton Centre.

Teachers Forming New Association

Plans were promoted on Monday night for the organization of an Association to be composed of the entire teaching staff of the city. At present there are three teachers associations in Newton, the Grade Teachers Club, the Junior and Senior High School Teachers Club and the Men's Educational Association. The new association is being formed for purposes of professional solidarity and for the promotion of study. The steering committee in charge of forming the new organization is composed of the officers of the present existing three clubs.

Aldermen Refuse Permit For Socony Station On Commonwealth Avenue

After Much Discussion Board Rejects Petition By Vote of 14 to 6—Majority of Committee in Favor

There was a veritable gabfest at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. The cause of the unusual outburst of loquacity on the part of the ordinarily taciturn Aldermen was the petition of the Standard Oil Company for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 552-554 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre. Thirteen of the twenty members present participated in the arguments, pro and con, regarding this petition. Some of the debaters spoke once, some spoke twice, and a few were so interested in giving audibility to their attitude on the question, that they spoke three, or more times. Seven of the contestants in the forensic battle royal argued against the petition; six spoke for it. Possibly, the fact that Republican Ward and City Committee leaders urged Aldermen to oppose the petition, may have aroused some of those who debated from the lingual lethargy which usually is their wont at meetings of the Board.

The oratorical outburst commenced when the Claims & Rules Committee made a majority report in favor of the petition. The members of the committee who voted in favor were Bowen, Chandler, Gordon and Grebenstein. Those voting in the negative were Holden, Murray and Sprout. Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the committee, and who has been consistently for the petition opened the debate. He said that the petitioners in matters affecting the zoning ordinance should receive like treatment whether they be a large corporation such as the Standard Oil Company, or some ordinary individual.

He argued that that section of the zoning ordinance regarding non-conforming uses in residence zones is of vital importance; he called attention to the provisions made in the ordinance to afford relief to property owners so that single family dwellings can be altered into two-family houses, and owners of small lots of land can be given protection. He stated that in 1920 a permit had been granted at the locus involved for a gasoline filling station and garage. He advocated that some of those who have been opposed to this petition should practice the Golden Rule, and he cited as a precedent a permit which was granted in 1925 for the altering of a garage at Commonwealth ave. and Woodbine st. so that a filling station might be established there. He also referred to the willingness of the Aldermen a few years ago to grant an enlargement of the Monahan filling station at Washington and Auburn sts., provided that the petitioner would remove part of the building on the property, which he refused to do. He also referred to the granting of the permit for the filling station at Centre and Willow sts., although many had opposed it. He commented that he can't understand why some of the people who favored the Willow st. station, oppose the proposed station on the avenue. He read a long list of names of persons residing in the vicinity of the proposed station who favor the granting of a permit. He said he could not believe that most of the people of Newton Centre are opposed to the station.

Alderman Murray said that no extension of business of any kind should be permitted on Commonwealth ave. Alderman Bowen argued that the Aldermen have no moral right to interfere with the extension of business conducted as non-conforming uses of residential zones, or in the sale of land where a non-conforming use exists. He contended that if this petition were refused, it would establish a precedent for refusing similar petitions affecting other non-conforming properties in residential zones. Alderman Murray answered this argument by saying that such a precedent was established several years ago when the petition for the extension of a non-conforming use at 155 Walham st., West Newton was refused to a Mr. McEttigan.

Alderman Pratt said that the petition for this filling station on Commonwealth ave. had started last May, has been before the Board four times, and would have been refused last year except for Alderman Grebenstein asking that it be referred to this year's Board. Mr. Pratt stated that at the last public hearing on this matter, only one man, not directly concerned, had favored it. He said the present building on the property has been allowed to fall into poor repair to influence the granting of the sought permit, and he called attention to the fact that all three aldermen from Ward 6 are opposed to it.

Alderman Holden said that when the zoning ordinance was passed in 1922 it was intended to have non-conforming buildings in residence zones revert eventually to residential use. He argued that the avenue is used almost entirely for residential purposes from Lake st. to Norumbega, that all citizens of Newton are interested in this avenue, and to allow the proposed filling station would set a precedent for the intrusion of business. He contended that even by the widest stretch of the imagination one cannot see where there has been a filling station at the property in question during the past 12 years, as claimed, when what little gasoline sold was dispensed from portable tanks on the sidewalk. He said the majority of Newton Centre people don't want this station and that for each name Grebenstein read in favor, he can get 10 names of persons opposed.

Alderman Grebenstein asked Holden how he expected a business property assessed for $40,000 would be sold for residences at 25c per foot? Alderman Gallagher contended that the most of the Board are not fully informed regarding the proposed station. He moved that the matter be referred back to the Claims & Rules Committee for further study. He asserted that the men who hold a mortgage on the filling station at Willow st. are opposing the proposed station for selfish reasons. Alderman Temperley contended that there has been no filling station at the locus in question as only portable sidewalk tanks have been used. He asked City Solicitor Bartlett for a ruling. Mr. Bartlett ruled that, inasmuch as the permit had been granted and exercised, it has become part of the property.

Alderman Cronin said he did not agree with Alderman Bowen that the Board is taking something away from the petitioners; on the contrary, the petitioners are asking for something. Cronin argued that the Standard Oil Company cares nothing about keeping the avenue beautiful, but merely seeks to make money. He said that big corporations should not be given choice station locations from coast to coast; they should confine themselves to the wholesale business and allow local

"ROYAL FAMILY" HIGH GRADE PERFORMANCE

The Drama Club of the Newton High School gave a high grade performance of "The Royal Family" at the High School Auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings. The cast showed excellent coaching and considerable native talent. If one attended just to give the boys and girls a bit of encouragement for their effort, he was pleasantly surprised and when the final curtain had been rung down he felt that he and not the Club was the debtor of the evening.

This play by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman, which portrays the eccentricities and loyalty of the Barrymore family, provides plenty of opportunity for enthusiastic abandon, which the cast fully accepted. The girls showed unusually fine voice modulation and the boys full mastery of their roles. Alice Mansfield as "Julie Cavendish" exhibited an interesting amount of stage ability and Winnifred Clark as "Fanny," the mother, showed a fine conception of her character. Fred Clafae as the volatile "Tony" fully played the part, and William P. Bittenbinder as "Herbert Dean," Gilbert Enegess as "Oscar" and Virginia Kretschmar as "Gwen" all deserve special commendation.

The other members of the cast were Barbara Midram, Joseph Clement, William Smith, William Spurrier, Betty Blerer, James Naylor, Alan Worey, Robert Robinson, Richard Fraser, Ruth Andrews, and Norman Dupee. The play was directed by Miss Wetherbee and Mr. Spaulding entertained between scenes with his 45 piece High School Orchestra.

Harvard finally conquered Yale in the annual hockey series by winning the second and third games on Saturday and Wednesday nights. The Crimson won the Saturday night conflict 4 to 1, the Boston Garden. The Harvard Colby of Newton Highlands tallied the Blue's only goal on a pass from Joe Gilligan of Newtonville. The goal knotted the score at 1-all in the first period. In the second and third periods Harvard drew ahead through its untied team action. On Wednesday night a battle royal developed with an overtime session necessary to settle the issue. Capt. Saltonstall of Harvard scored the winning goal two minutes after the extra period began. Yale could not come through to tie it up again. The Ellis took the lead twice in the regular playing time with Captain Alie Fletcher of Newton and Gilligan showing brilliant hockey. Gilligan tallied once on a pass from Fletcher in the third period to put Yale in the lead for the second time after Fletcher had tallied in the second period to give the Blue the lead for the first time. Herb Gallagher made one goal and two assists in helping his Northeastern mates to top M. I. T. by a 5 to 4 score last week Friday night. Charlie Jack placed second in the 440-yard freestyle swim in the Harvard-Yale swimming meet last Saturday. A Yale swimmer won the event and the Yale team the meet. Carl Pescosolido of Harvard reached the semi-finals of the 70-yard dash at the I. C. 4-A meet last Saturday but placed fourth in his semi-final to fail to qualify for the final round. Brad Jenkins of Country Day School placed second in the shotput at the private school track meet last Saturday for the local school's only points. By defeating Cambridge Latin in a Suburban league basketball game the Rindge Tech five was declared league champions last Friday. The victory was scored in the last seconds of play with a basket for a 34-32 score. The Newton high quintet thus held second place to itself as the Cantabs dropped back to third in the Newton five was the best quintet that has won the orange and black for years. Ruth Ziegler of Newtonville won the half-mile ski race at Clinton last Sunday in 5m. 12s. Stanley Brown of Newtonville was third and Tom Kinraide sixth. The girls' basketball team at the Sacred Heart School downed St. Patrick's High of Roxbury at Newton Centre Wednesday 24 to 20. Mac Isaac and Irwin tallied 12 points each with high scoring honors going to Cummings of the visitors with 18. Bob Buell and Francis Tuschler received freshman numerals at Northeastern this week. Buell won his in hockey and Tuschler in track. M. I. T. also awarded class numerals this week as the result of the interclass earnings awards were John C. Alden '35, and Stanley Johnson, '36. Jimmie McAdams, former high school pitcher, is at the Cincinnati training camp. Herb Levenson, wrestling for Brown, lost in the 175-lb. bout in the Tufts meet. Dick Jarrell has won his major T at M. I. T. as a member of the record breaking relay team. In the Newton league bowling matches on Wednesday night Mangus won three out of four points with Hunnewell to increase its margin as leader of the race. Hunnewell is second. In other matches W. N. Neighborhood won three from Waban Winsor and Middlesex split two each, and Western took four to blank University. Gordon Linber of Newtonville, 1932 intercollegiate unlimited wrestling champion will be lost to the Tufts team for this year's N. E. intercollegiate. He has an infection over his eye. Last week Carl Pescosolido placed third in the finals of the dash in the Harvard-Dartmouth-Cornell meet which Harvard won. Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre girl, and ninth ranking U. S. women's

HIGH SCHOOL SPORT SCHEDULES—FOOTBALL CHANGES

The Newton High School athletic committee approved the schedules in baseball, tennis and outdoor track for the coming season and also for the football season next fall at its meeting last week. The schedules, presented by Dr. Oscar Martin, faculty manager, show a number of changes. The baseball season, unlike former years, will not open until after the mid-April vacation which will give Coach Jeff Jones two additional weeks of outdoor practice before getting under way. In previous years the season has opened just prior to the vacation and three or four more games played than are on the 1933 list. The orange and black nine will play but four of its twelve games away from home. As usual, two games at home and away, will be played with the other members of the Suburban league, Brookline, Rindge and Cambridge Latin. The fourth game away will be that with Waltham. In addition to the league games at home Newton will also entertain Framingham, Boston High School of Commerce, Boston Latin, Boston English and Quincy.

The tennis team will have its usual quota of dual matches opening with Country Day School on April 19th and will enter the annual interscholastic tournament at Longwood on May 20th.

The greatest and most important changes occur in the football schedule for next fall. As announced in these columns several weeks ago the schedule will be for ten games which is due to the fact that Thanksgiving Day, falling on the last day of November, permits an additional November date. It was also stated that Newton would meet Brockton and probably Manchester, N. H. on the gridiron next fall. At that time the Brockton date had been set for Oct. 21 the usual Quincy date and the Quincy date had been given the Oct. 28th date in place of Somerville high. The withdrawal of Somerville from the Suburban league and the poor playing conditions at Dilboy Field, Somerville, caused the Newton authorities to drop the Somerville team.

The date with Manchester, tentatively set for Nov. 11th, appears to be a certainty. When it was first reported that Newton would entertain the team from the Granite State a conflicting date on the later's schedule had to be changed. This has been handled satisfactorily and Newton will meet the visitors on Armistice Day.

Newton will play four of its ten games away from home and six at the Dickinson stadium. The season will open at Arlington and other games away are those at Brockton, at Cambridge with Rindge Tech, and the annual Brookline game on Thanksgiving Day.

The home games which should prove attractive to local fans are with Cambridge Latin, Watertown, Everett, Quincy, Manchester and Waltham. The schedules follow:

singles tennis player, won the annual Bermuda ladies' championship last week. She defeated Miss Hilleary of Phila, ranked sixth, in the finals. The scores were 10-8, 6-3. Miss Rice is playing in the mixed doubles with George Lott, Davis cup player. Miss Rice's victory will do much to settle a controversy over her proper ranking. On her way to the championship she defeated Miss Hutchins, seeded first in the tourney. Newton is represented on Radcliffe sport teams. Lillian Wright is playing right guard on the varsity basketball team and Doris Lockwood and Elizabeth Kershaw are on the swimming team. Herbert Gallagher is the high scorer on the N. U. hockey sextet.

Mr. and Mrs. Carle M. Bigelow will open their home Saturday for an actors' party given by the Newton Dramatic Club. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Farrar Cobb.

OUR LADY HIGH FORFEITS TITLE DUE TO NO PLAYOFF

The decision of Fr. Russell Haley, basketball coach at Our Lady High, not to permit his team to engage in a post-season game has automatically resulted in the forfeiture of the claim of the local school on the 1933 Catholic High School league title to Cathedral High. The two teams ended the season last Friday in a deadlock for honors as the result of an unexpected defeat of the Newton team by Mission High of Roxbury in the latter's gym. A league rule which reads to the effect that in case of a tie and the president of the league should request a playoff the title will be forfeited by either team which does not care to participate in such a game. The refusal of the Our Lady High officials to play-off for the title is in no way concerned with the deadlock which was brought about last Friday. Several days before the Mission game when the local quintet seems virtually certain of retaining its title Rev. Haley announced that his team would play no basketball after the Mission game. This announcement was made in response to a suggestion from the Greater Boston Athletic league that Our Lady High and Cathedral play a game on a neutral court although no title was involved. The rule regarding play-offs was written in the league rules in October 1932. It was the result of a football tie between St. Charles of Waltham and Immaculate Conception High of Revere in the fall of 1931. The present basketball situation is the first time the rule has been forced into use.

The defeat of Our Lady High last Friday was the most startling upset of the season as the Newton five had completely overwhelmed the Mission team in the game on the local court. The Newton team, led by Captain Gallagher of Our Lady scored three goals on foul tries in the losing seconds of play but the winning punch could not be found. Gallagher was high scorer of the game with 13 points. Captain Gallagher will be succeeded by Nick Colantuono as leader of the 1934 quintet. The entire basketball season was the Bruins' Detroit hockey game the other night as a reward for the season's play.

ELECTED VICE PRES., HARRIS FORBES TRUST

Donald D. McKay of Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands, was elected vice president of Harris Forbes Trust Company, of Boston, last week.

He has had a wide banking and business experience. He has been with the Harris Forbes organization for 18 years, more recently in charge of the Rhode Island territory. He is a graduate of Amherst College, class of 1909, a trustee of the Newton Hospital, governor of the University Club, and a director of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged. He is also a Newton alderman, trustee of the John C. Chaffin Education Fund and a director of the Newton Community Chest.

Rotary Club

The Harvard Debating Council entertained the Newton Rotary Club at the weekly meeting on Monday at the Brae Burn Club House. The subject, "Resolved, that the International Traffic in Munitions Should Be Abolished," was ably discussed by Donald Sullivan '33, President Harvard Debating Council, and John Ryan '34, for the affirmative, and negatively by Fred Bowman '35, and Asa Phillips '34. Roy Edwards presided.

Edward M. Rowe, director of the Council, and professor of Public Speaking at Harvard, gave a few interesting facts on debating procedure at Harvard.

The club had as its guests: Percy L. Fish, past president of the Watertown Rotary Club; Thomas Murray and Francis Flagg, Boston Rotary Club; and visitors Earl Davis, Walter Young, and Joseph McGrath.

School Notes

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

The following were elected as officers of the Student Council for the second half of the school year: President, William Diman; Vice-President, Robert Ness; Secretary, William Squier; Captain of the Girls' Student Patrol, Rosetta Warren; Captain of the Boys' Student Patrol, John Tomb.

Through the kindness of Cornelia Brown of the eighth grade, a rare collection of articles from Japan has been placed in the show-case, Kimonos, dolls, a doll's tea set, coins, prints, sandals, clogs, and models showing various styles of hairdressing form the display.

Captain Stanley Osborne delivered an instructive stereoscopic lecture on "Glimpses of Kangaroo Land" before a group of students. As a native of Australia, Captain Osborne presented interesting material concerning the geography, population, animal life, and customs of the inhabitants of this continent.

On next Thursday, the pupils will have the opportunity of enjoying "A Trip to the Farm," conducted by Donald Bain, famous radio whistler and imitator. Mr. Bain has rare ability in imitating animal sounds and musical instruments. In addition to appropriate pictures and costume, Mr. Bain will be assisted by an accordion player.

DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

A new policy has been inaugurated in the collection and writing of the F. A. Day news that is sent to the papers. A competent staff of ten pupils with their assistants now take entire charge of the news, while the faculty committee acts in an advisory manner only. The staff members are: Frederick Fairfield, Alice Drury, Aldridge Hunt, William Dan, Margaret Clark, Barbara Clarke of the ninth grade; Robert Patey and Winona Starbird of the eighth grade; William Nelson and Nancy Flagg of the seventh grade. Home room reporters who serve as assistants to the staff are: For the ninth grade, Sally Clark, Stuart White, Harry Ritchey, Margaret MacDonald, Aldridge Hunt, Jennie DeSimone; for the eighth grade, Richard Whitney, Theodora Klein, John Higgins, Edna Currier, Lawrence Chamberlain and Helen Spence; for the seventh grade, Marjorie Wellman, Kenneth Henry, Joan Merrill, Sidney Guberman, Donald Emig, Elmer Benedict, Barbara Davis.

On Thursday morning, March 2, Mr. R. V. Burkhardt accompanied by four Dartmouth members visited the Bedford Veterans' Hospital.

The guest speaker for the March 8th assembly was Lt. V. J. Charte of the United States Coast Guard service. Lt. Charte spoke of the work of the Coast Guard, and showed some interesting films of its work.

WEEKS SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The next meeting of the John W. Weeks School Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Friday, March 17, at 8 o'clock. The pupils of the school will present some of their club activities in an hour's program which will explain the purpose of this work. Talks and skits by several students, and selection by musical clubs will illustrate what is being accomplished by these groups.

Following this part of the program there will be an exhibit in the Boys' Gymnasium showing the projects and the collections made by twenty-one different clubs. Various pupils will demonstrate how this work is done.

BRESLAU SINGS IN WELLESLEY THIS EVENING

Sophie Breslau, regarded by many as America's greatest contralto, sings in Alumnæ Hall, Wellesley, this evening. Miss Breslau has appeared with every major symphony orchestra in the country and has repeatedly toured Europe. She was born in New York, the only child of a Russian physician and his wife. Her training has been entirely under Gabriele Sibella in this country.

WARD SCHOOL P.T. ASSOCIATION

There is to be a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the John Ward School on March 15th at 7:30 p. m. with a special "Fathers' Night" program. The speaker for the evening will be Dr. John L. Morse whose subject will be "A Talk to Fathers." All parents and the general public are cordially invited to this meeting.

Mayor Weeks Talks on Taxation

Raises Question of Keeping Newton Tax Rate Down

In speaking before the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday of this week, Mayor Sinclair Weeks discussed government finance and raised the question as to whether the Newton tax rate can be continued at its present low level or not. "I do not know whether we can hold the 1932 tax rate in Newton," said the Mayor, "it is the lowest of any city in the state. I am hopeful, but naturally the decreased income and the increased cost for welfare work are both to be respected."

People of the United States, we are told, had an income in 1929 of $84,000,000,000. This income had dropped to $40,000,000,000 up to 1932. This means that in 1932 the per capita income was $320 or, $22 lower than the per capita income of $342 which pertained 20 years ago in 1913. On the other hand, since 1913 the cost of government has risen from 3 to approximately 15 billion dollars, and it is estimated that in 1932 50% of the total income was paid out in taxes and interest on indebtedness.

"This situation," the Mayor points out, "cannot continue indefinitely. We are having a new deal in Washington," he said, "I consider myself, and further, that every American should consider himself above partisan politics at this time and hope and pray that the party in power will bring us out of the throes of this depression. I believe that President Roosevelt has a great opportunity. He has chosen an excellent cabinet—especially his Secretary of the Treasury and his Secretary of State. Woodin is a sound money man. Quack panaceas cannot restore prosperity. This country has gone through many depressions and inflation will not bring us out of this one."

"The average municipality is geared up to the standards of living that existed four years ago. We must have a radical change. If private business were run like some municipalities, they would soon be bankrupt."

"In the City of Newton, in a period from 1930 to 1933, while State, Country and Metropolitan warrants have increased about 9% the City expenses have been reduced from $5,088,000 to $4,290,000 or, about 16%. In the same period, the City's income, including its share of the income, taxes, automobile excise taxes, and miscellaneous receipts have fallen approximately 50%, while on the other hand, its welfare expenses have increased 500%."

The Mayor concluded with the hope that people everywhere would take a greater interest in their government bodies and be more conscious of the fact that every cost of government must be borne by the tax payer. He emphasized the high cost of finance in the luxury of being governed—50% of our income going for interest on past indebtedness.

Red Cross Home Service Increases

The Home Service Section of the Red Cross reports an increase over the previous year in each branch that it serves. Personal and telephone interviews to the number of 564 were given, being 218 more than last year. Fifteen more families were assisted, making a total of 73 families and the Relief Item shows an increase of $431.76, this amount being largely due to the fact that two families were carried over a period of months by the Canadian Canteen Fund administered through this office. $255.59 are to be refunded from Washington for this item. Intensive case work was done in these two families, the problems being unemployment, need of medical and dental care, intemperance and a possible mental condition on the part of one of the Canadian veterans.

Thirty of the 73 families assisted were suffering from unemployment.

In October, 1931, the National Headquarters of the American Red Cross referred 28 cases of unemployed disabled veterans to this office. The men were urged to register with the Mayor's Relief Committee, of which they knew nothing and information was given them of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Department. The amount of $461.16 was given from this office to families of 6 veterans.

Twelve social contact reports to the Veterans' Bureau on home conditions of children of deceased or incompetent veterans were made, this being one of the main services rendered the Bureau for the past three years.

"QUILTS AND THEIR PATCHES"

An exhibition of and a lecture on "Patchwork Quilts and Their Patches" will be given by Mrs. Ellen E. Webster of Franklin, N. H., on Thursday, March 23rd, at 2:15 p. m. in the Parish House of St. Paul, Newton Highlands. Tea will be served. Tickets 50 cents. Apply to Mrs. Albion H. Brown, chairman, or at the door.

BUSINESS LETTER SHOP

On March 1st a business letter shop was opened by the Misses Brown and Worley in the Arcade Building, 61 Central st., Wellesley. The Shop is prepared to do all kinds of multi-graphing, mimeographing, stenography and bookkeeping. A complete line of legal forms is carried and there is a typewriter repair and rental service.

NEWTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held at the office of the Bank, 299 Walnut Street, Newtonville, on Tuesday, March 21, 1933 at 8 o'clock p. m. to elect Directors for the ensuing year and to transact any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

Y. M. C. A.

Three members of the Chappell Orchestra of Watertown gave a concert at the Immigration Station at East Boston on Sunday, March 5th, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The players were Ira L. Chappell, Holman McGauslin, and Henry Finmore.

Wrestling

The Y. M. C. A. Wrestling team finished in second place in the Y Two-State Championship held Saturday evening at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. The meet was won by the Providence Y team. During the last five years, under the direction of Dr. Fred E. Simm, Coach of the Newton wrestling squad, Newton has won the championship three times and finished second twice. In Saturday's meet Providence was first with 19 points, Newton was second with 17 points, North Adams was third with 13 points, Attleboro and Lawrence tied with 8 points each, and Cambridge earned 7 points.

Newton's points were scored through one first, three second places and three third places. Axel Pamp won the 175-lb. class title with a fall in 1 min. 7 sec. over Lepré of Providence. Warren Storer, captain in the 125-lb. class, Henry Vachon in the 145-lb. class, and Joe Arsenault in the 155-lb. classes finished in second place in their class. Boughan, 135-lbs., Leonard Morrison, 165-lbs., and Weathers, heavyweight, scored third place points in their respective classes.

CENTRAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Randolph Merrill and Mrs. P. E. Woodward gave a program of unusual beauty and interest on "Religion in Music and Art" before the Woman's Association of Central Church on March 8. Mrs. Merrill traced the story of religious music from the time of the Hebrews. The Shepherd Psalm was illustrated with slides and Mrs. Merrill sang while the pictures illustrating the hymns were cast on the screen or "living pictures" were shown on the stage. As "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" was sung, Mrs. H. H. Lounsberry and Miss Madeline Barrett were shown as Ruth and Naomi. Priscilla Woodward was "Samuel" in "Hushed Was the Evening Hymn." Millet's "Feeding the Birds" was a beautiful group in which John Lounsberry, Marjorie Moerschner, Nancy Hill and Mrs. Wallace Ross were the characters during the singing of "Father, We Thank Thee For the Night." At the close of the program, tea was served by Mrs. Waybright's group.

"THE DONEGAL FAIR"

"The Donegal Fair" will be presented Thursday evening, March 16, in the Church hall, Newton Centre under the auspices of the St. John's Sunday School Guild. Much time has been given by those taking part and a very enjoyable program is assured, including novelty dancing and singing by local talent. The play is under the special direction of Mrs. Elden Jennison, the music by Miss Ellen McGrath, Miss Katharine Fogarty, and John Flemming. The stage arrangements are by Francis Sullivan, and Michael O'Connor.

Daly Post V. F. W.

Institution of the newly formed Auxiliary to the Sergt. Eugene Joseph Daley Jr. Post will be held on Sunday afternoon, March 19. The Charter of this unit was opened at a meeting held last Sunday, presided over by Beattie Meisner, Chief of Staff, State Dept. Auxiliary, Miss Helen Keefe of West Newton was named Chairman pro tem, of the organization.

As the Charter to this unit will be opened for a period of sixty days it is hoped that all eligible ladies will sign up during that time. The matter of uniforms is optional.

On last Saturday evening a meeting was held at Post Headquarters of all Commanders, adjutants, Quartermasters and various other officials of Middlesex County. State Dept. Commander Peter W. Pate delivered an address to the gathering, in which he outlined various plans for the benefit of the veterans, and urged the co-operation of all posts in his every endeavor. Commander David L. Keefe extended the greeting of the Daley Post with a stirring address to all the distinguished comrades, pledging the support of the Post to the aims of Comrade Pate. The meeting lasted well into the night terminating with a real old fashioned Dutch supper served by the House Committee.

Past Commander John J. Keefe is a chairman of committee in charge of a Whist Party to be held under the auspices of the Post on next Thursday evening, March 16, at V. F. W. Hall. The next meeting of the Post will be held Monday evening, March 13.

Thief Breaks Into City Garage

When employees of the Street Department went to the Crafts st. yard on Monday morning they discovered that some one had broken into two garages at the place. The would-be burglar forgot his hat, coat and a "dead soldier," otherwise known as a bottle which had contained "prohibition booze." It appeared that the intruder had attempted to obtain more alcohol from a barrel stored in a room in the garage, but he failed to gain entry to the room. This was in the garage used by the Forestry Division. In the Highway Division garage, when entrance was also effected by breaking a window, the thirsty person failed in an attempt to open a barrel of alcohol, but he succeeded in spilling considerable oil on the floor.

COMPLAINS ABOUT NEIGHBOR'S DOG

Frank H. Sullivan of 165 Neshebe rd., Waban, was the complainant in the Newton court on Saturday morning against Mrs. Dorothy Farrar of 151 Neshebe rd. Sullivan charged Mrs. Farrar with keeping a biting dog and asserted that the canine, an Irish setter, had bitten him on the leg. Allegedly, the dog showed no partiality to Celts. Judge Lloyd Allen found the woman not guilty. Mr. Sullivan, following this verdict, asked for a complaint charging Mrs. Farrar with keeping a barking dog.

THE BANKING HOLIDAYS

The banking holidays have created situations in the everyday life of the present generation never before experienced by many. Through it all there is but one course for the public to follow. That course should be charted on the seas of Confidence, Co-operation and Commonsense.

Confidence is the primary requisite. We might have clearing house certificates, scrip, and other temporary forms of currency, but all the currency in the world would do no good under present circumstances if confidence were lacking. The strong banks can only operate for the benefit of the country when they have the confidence of the country. An early return of this confidence is essential to the return to normal conditions.

Co-operation is also necessary. Everyone has the same basic problem, that of getting along until conditions are restored to normal. A philosophical outlook upon the situation and a willingness to co-operate for the benefit of all and not a selfish attempt to benefit at the expense of someone else will go a long way to relieve the situation. Happily this philosophical outlook has been evident to a surprising and gratifying extent. It has made the task far easier for those who have carried much of the burden of solving the countless problems involved.

Commonsense is the third primary element which is brought into the situation. Commonsense has dictated the policy of proceeding slowly, yet surely, in restoring conditions to as near normal as possible. Hasty action might well have been regretted.

What about the future? Confidence, co-operation and commonsense will be necessary for a steady and continued improvement. There is little doubt that eventually the bank holidays will have proved to be a beneficial step in progress toward economic recovery. With the three essentials our ship will sail along into calmer seas.

Governor Ely has made an excellent appointment in the selection of City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett of Newton as chairman of the Emergency Finance Board which will regulate loans based upon the amount of tax titles of the preceding year to the cities and towns. The appointment reflects honor upon both Mr. Bartlett and the City of Newton.

New Sewer Gives Work to Many

It is realized that work in rock tunnel and winter work in open cut partly in fine wet sand requiring the use of well points and partly in rock, is not ideal for the employment of welfare labor. The results nevertheless are gratifying. Since Newton is largely a suburban residential community, skilled labor of certain types was not available among its citizens. Hoisting engineers, shovel runners, drill runners, pump operators and tunnel foremen in each of the four headings, had to be secured from out of town. Some other key men such as experienced and hardened tunnel muck rock will run out and the tunnel will be in earth.

Men came from out of town. The contractor is permitted to employ these men from whatever source he can obtain them at prices not to exceed those stipulated in his contract. At this writing, the work has been going on about 1½ months, and distribution of labor is as given below.

open cut is 10% completed as of February 11.

The work is being financed by a 40-year serial bond issue. Competition for the bonds was keen with bids from 13 bankers or groups of bankers received on December 9, 1932. The coupon rate is 3½%. The low bid was 102.76, making the cost of the money to the city 3.26%. The loan was awarded to the firm of Hornblower & Weeks, at the low bid.

The most appealing arguments for proceeding with municipal construction work in these distressing times are that of obtaining works of permanent value for the inescapable expenditure for welfare and that of avoiding the morale destroying doubt. It is true that additional funds have to be provided for equipment, material and certain classes of labor which cannot be found on the welfare lists. It is important that strict accountability be enforced and that the work be handled in a businesslike manner.

Personnel. This work was inaugurated by Mayor Sinclair Weeks and authorized by The Board of Aldermen. Construction is being carried out under direction of George E. Stuart, Street Commissioner and the City Engineer.

NEWTON, MASS.

HIGH LEVEL SEWER—OPEN CUT AND TUNNEL DISTRIBUTION OF LABOR FOR WEEK OF FEBRUARY 4, 1933

	No.	Men	Per Cent	Payroll	Per Cent
Exempt from Newton residence by virtue of experience	91	34.8		$2,907.19	44.6
Newton residents	170	65.2		3,605.15	55.4
Total	261	100.0		$6,512.34	100.0

Distribution After Eliminating Men

	No.	Men	Per Cent	Payroll	Per Cent
Welfare men	116	68.2		$2,268.22	62.9
Other residents	54	31.8		1,336.93	37.1
Total	170	100.0		$3,605.15	100.0

Labor designated as "other residents" is not on the welfare list. It is probable that much of this labor would soon be on the list if this work were not provided.

The proportion of welfare men is constantly rising as they become hardened, as they gain in experience and as more competent men are found to take the places of other labor. It is believed that the efficiency of the welfare men is now at least 80% as high as that of the non-welfare men, and that as they become more used to the work it will be difficult to see any difference in efficiency. This checks closely with the experience of our engineers on similar work in other municipalities during the last two years where with experience as the work progressed the welfare men obtained efficiencies of 75% or better as compared with the efficiency of open market contract labor. This moderate inefficiency is more than offset by the reduction in expenditures of the Welfare Department equal to the wages paid the welfare men plus the wages paid and those "Other Residents" who would have been thrown onto the Welfare Department had they not received this work.

Progress. Progress in the four tunnel headings has averaged 6 feet per shift per heading for each of the two shifts. This means a total of nearly 50 feet per day. The 4600 feet for tunnel is 19% holed out as of February 11. In open cut there have been only 2 lost days due to bad weather. Excavation and concreting have averaged about 50 ft. The 5700 ft. of ter as City Engineer. Plans, specifications and the contract were prepared by Metcalf & Eddy, Consulting Engineers of Boston, who are also furnishing resident supervision of construction.

FINDS PEOPLE STILL INTERESTED IN GOOD MUSIC

Prof. H. Augustine Smith of Newton Highlands and of Boston University has just concluded two musical tours in the Mid-West. He reports that in spite of the fact that business in this region is worse than in New England, the public performance of his choral work were everywhere received with crowded houses and in many places people were turned away. Prof. Smith has been invited to Jerusalem for Easter Sunday to participate in the dedication of the new Y. M. C. A. building there.

NEW UNDERTAKERS EUSTIS AND JOYCE START BUSINESS

Two well known Newton men, William P. Eustis of 13 Lincoln rd., and William F. Joyce of 50 Cook st., have established an undertaking business at 793 Washington st., Newtonville, corner of Central ave. Mr. Eustis was engaged in the undertaking profession some years ago. This new firm has modern facilities to render satisfactory funeral service. Both Mr. Eustis and Mr. Joyce have been active in fraternal and social affairs in this city and possess a wide circle of friends.

Care of the Teeth

The schools help to establish the following habits and attitudes in regard to the care of the teeth. 1. First and foremost: To eat foods that will build strong teeth. 2. To eat foods that exercise the teeth. 3. To eat candy and sweets in moderation and only at the end of a meal. 4. To regard the dentist as a friend and visit him regularly twice a year. 5. To brush the teeth every day in the approved manner. 6. Never to bite or break hard substances with the teeth. In the upper grades specific and appropriate knowledge concerning the teeth and their care is taught.

Care of Eyes and Ears

Every school system is required by State law to test the eyes and ears of all children annually. The eyes are tested by means of certain combinations of letters which can be seen at a distance of twenty feet if the vision is perfect. The material for this testing is provided by the State. Light conditions are arranged so that eye-strain is reduced to a minimum. Children learn that it is not wise to read lying down or on moving cars, that glasses, if needed, should be fitted by an eye specialist, and that glare and reflections from artificial light are to be avoided.

An audiometer is used for testing ears. This measures the loss of sensation units. A child who has sufficient loss to retard his school accomplishment is offered an opportunity to learn Lip Reading. Children with this difficulty are encouraged to place themselves where they can hear advantageously rather than hide the fact that they cannot hear.

Posture

Good posture is a natural outcome of good physical development. Proper seating and frequent relaxation periods help children to maintain good natural posture in the classroom. We teach children good standing posture: feet straight ahead, waist in, chest high, knees easy, arms and shoulders held naturally, smile. Habitual good posture, sitting, standing and walking, is emphasized during the entire day.

Fresh Air and Sunshine

Because fresh air and sunshine are stimulating to both mind and body we try to give the children that good ventilation makes them more alert and comfortable, more efficient and contented. We try to develop a love for out-of-door activities, and to build up a knowledge and appreciation that sunshine makes them feel happy and active and that a part of every day must be spent out of doors in play and exercise for normal growth and robust health.

Cleanliness

Because medical authorities tell us that approximately 92% of communicable disease is transmitted from hand to mouth, it would seem that cleanliness of hands and the keeping of them away from the mouth is an important part in any health program. Washing the hands before eating and after going to the toilet is of prime importance. Cleanliness both inside and out is essential to the child's health. It has its aesthetic values and its effect upon mental health is important. The daily inspection in the classroom is a valuable activity for establishing good cleanliness habits.

Morning Health Inspection

In any teaching where a high standard of excellence is required there must be some systematic check-up of achievement. In the health program a morning health habit check-up is invaluable. This inspection is really an appreciation of the child's efforts. The establishment of good health habits. It gives an opportunity to emphasize particular health habits and to give credit for improved personal appearance and individual effort. Teachers carry out this program in different ways, depending upon their originality and initiative. As the children grow older the inspection may be an individual matter rather than a group activity.

The Healthy Personality

A healthy personality develops from within. Many influences are constantly at work upon the child to affect his behavior and attitudes toward himself and others. A satisfactory program of health teaching should develop the consciousness that the real rewards of healthful living are found in growth and development, in improved physical achievement and in the satisfactions of physical and mental health.

Next week we will conclude our description of the Newton Health Education program.

Under The Gilded Dome

Principal activity at the State House this week centered around conditions brought about by the banking holidays.

The legislature was called by telegram to meet at nine o'clock Monday morning instead of at the usual hour of two o'clock in order to pass an emergency measure giving Bank Commissioner Arthur G. Ely authority to suspend the operation of the part of both branches in order to enable the Bank Commissioner to work in co-operation with national regulations. The action of Lieutenant Governor Bacon in proclaiming the banking holiday at the request of Governor Ely, who was in Washington last Saturday to attend the inauguration, was validated when the Governor was also given power to extend the holiday. The action on both matters was taken upon two bills reported by the Committee on Banks and Banking after a lengthy session on Sunday afternoon. Several amendments to the bills were offered on the floor of the House on Monday morning but all were rejected. An amendment to control the Governor's future action in extending the holidays or declare holidays in the future by making it necessary for the advice and consent of the Governor's council to be obtained before taking such steps was offered by Rep. Martin Hays of Brighton. The amendment went to a roll-call vote with 117 votes in favor and 100 opposed. Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted in favor. The vote was reconsidered within a short time and after some further debate the amendment rejected by a voice vote.

On Thursday dictatorial powers were extended to the Commissioner of Insurance, Merton L. Brown, in order to give protection for insurance problems created by conditions brought about by the bank holidays. The powers granted enable the Commissioner to regulate affairs in conformity with other states new regulations. A filibuster in the Senate, the first in nearly a decade, took place when a few Senators attempted to block passage of this legislation after it had been passed to be engrossed by the House. After considerable debate during which attempted amendments, threats to take the constitutionality of the bill to the Supreme Court, and attempts to recess the various Senators withdrew their objections and passed the bill through its various stages and sent it back to the House to be enacted. Rep. Pratt of Saugus attempted to prevent further progress of the bill in debate against the adoption of an emergency preamble on the grounds that the House was being stampeded into hysteria over the emergencies and that the bill would give the insurance companies unwarranted privileges. On a rising vote only eight or nine members supported Mr. Pratt and the bill was enacted.

The banking holidays have apparently prolonged the life of the Division of Necessaries of Life as the Senate this week postponed action on the bill to abolish this division among several others as an economy measure. Governor Ely has called the functions of the division into play in order to prevent profiteering in food. The Senate has also postponed action on the abolition of the Metropolitan Planning Commission. The upper branch, however, passed the bills abolishing the Mass. Industrial Commission, and the Division of Ornithology by roll-call votes. Senator Hollis voted against abolishment in each case. On the bill to abolish the Division of Smoke Inspection, which the House had amended to provide for the transfer of those inspectors who were doing this work when the division was created under the Department of Public Utilities Commission back into that department, the Senate rejected the amendment. Yesterday the bill came back to the House for concurrence without the amendment and after considerable debate the House concurred by a rising vote.

On Wednesday the House went to a roll-call on the matter of substitution of a bill relative to filling of positions in the service of the Commonwealth and the Metropolitan District Commission which are not subject to the laws governing the civil service for the report of the committee on Public Service giving the petition leave to withdraw. Substitution failed by a vote of 89 to 122 with Newton's three Representatives voting to sustain the committee report.

A bill providing for advance payments on account of taxes for 1933 and 1934 if the municipality accepts the provisions of the act was passed to be engrossed in the House this week.

WEST NEWTON MAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Thomas Carney, 35, of 69 Harding st., West Newton was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. Medical Examiner West said that death was due to natural causes. Carney was a widower and is survived by a daughter, four years old. He was engaged in the taxi business.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

The Boston Retail Grocers Association met on Wednesday. It is composed of 400 grocers who own and operate their stores in Boston and vicinity. These grocers voted to keep prices of food at as low levels as possible during the present crisis and to make every effort to see that no persons in their respective communities shall be hungry.

With the public spirited attitude of these independent store owners contrast the instructions sent out to the managers of food stores owned by one of the chain corporations in this country. These managers were ordered to cash no checks for anyone; charge no merchandise to anyone; accept no checks for merchandise; all transactions to be on a cash basis. Humanitarian corporation; isn't it? Public spirited; benevolent. We haven't much sympathy, however, for the people who have been regular customers of this corporation, or others of its type. Most of these customers knew that chain corporations are run on a cold-blooded basis. Most of these customers during the boom years demanded good wages and working conditions. But, because they could save a little on their purchases by trading with such a corporation, these customers assisted in driving from livelihood millions of persons formerly engaged in business; concentrated retail merchandising largely into the grasp of huge combines, and eventually helped to bring about the present sorry state of affairs.

If the Lucy Stone League idea, as exemplified by "Miss" Frances Perkins, spreads, it will be difficult to know "Who's Who" in another generation.

Should a State official who retires after having been accused of malfeasance in office, and even more serious accusations, be given a pension? Especially, when this official has for years been drawing a large pension from the Federal Government on the allegation of physical disability. With urgent demands for economy in government, why should the people be asked to pay pensions to public officials who retire under fire?

The enlarged display of tropical fish at Campbell's Hardware Store at Newton Corner is attracting many persons. Reg. Yeomans, who is in charge of this growing business, is an expert in his line and his advice is sought by many who have started home aquariums.

Refuse Permit For Socony Station

men to do the retailing of gasoline. Instead they get the retail stations and then hire attendants at low wages. He favored a filling station permit running to the individual obtaining it, instead of reverting to the property owner at the locus.

Alderman Gordon told of being anxious to protect zoning in Newton but favored the granting of the permit and scoffed at the idea of Commonwealth avenue being changed to a business street. He asserted that when Newton Centre people talk of the avenue being made a gasoline alley, they either don't know what they are talking about, or are falsifying. He said there are only two other gas stations on the avenue in residence zones.

Alderman Farrell, who at a meeting of the Board on October 3rd, 1932, pleaded against a permit for a gasoline filling station being granted to the Bachrach Associates at 978 Watertown st., because it would be operated by a big oil company and would hurt the independent owners of seven small stations in that section, obviously has changed his attitude since that time. On that night he also argued that there were too many filling stations in the city. But Monday night he espoused the cause of the Standard Oil Company and spoke in favor of the petition. He said the abutments to the property involved favor the station. Referring to protests against the station by the Newton Centre and Newtonville Improvement Associations, Farrell said that improvement societies disapproving of improvements would receive no consideration from him. He contended that the Aldermen should act on facts in considering the petition, not on sentiment or emotion.

Alderman Hill said that there are two points to be considered: 1st, the way the people in the district feel about it; 2nd, how it affects the interest of the city. Hill said that all three aldermen from Ward 6 say the majority of the people there oppose the station. He stated that when the zoning ordinance was passed in 1922 it was then hoped that business properties in residential zones would return to residential uses.

Alderman Jamieson said that non-conforming use of residence zones for business should be restricted, rather than extended. Alderman Chandler told of his love for Newton and that he wouldn't do anything to injure Commonwealth ave. But he said that there has been a filling station permit attached to the property involved, it can't be taken away, and the aldermen are obliged to allow the extension of non-conforming uses in residence zones. He commented that a good-looking filling station is preferable to dirty stores.

A roll-call vote was taken on the report of the Claims & Rules Committee recommending the granting of the petition. The recommendation was defeated by a vote of 14 to 6. One of those who voted with the majority was Alderman Gallagher who, apparently had spoken in favor of the petition. Those voting Yes were—Aldermen Bowen, Chandler, Farrell, Gordon, Grebenstein, Hawkins. Those voting No were Aldermen Collins, Cordingley, Cronin, Floyd, Gallagher, Hill, Holden, Howlett, Jamieson, McKay, Murray, Pratt, Sproat and Temperley.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Sharpest competition these days in thinking up the harshest things to say about March weather.

Weight of All Flesh

People who patronize public scales to ascertain their weight are not always satisfied with results. If the figures revealed are what was hoped for everything is O. K. If not, there is trouble somewhere. The scales must be a little off. Same thing goes for those used in the home. Personally, I believe the scales are probably more accurate than given credit for while the fault really lies—but we won't get into an argument.

Nevertheless, there has to be a master set of scales in every community whereby a standard is established. These you cannot dispute. If you did it wouldn't get you anything. Their word, rather than their figures are final. It is my privilege to have access to a master set and once in a while, when I feel that I can stand the shock, I step on and wait for the fatal arrow to point at me in rebuke. It usually does.

Opportunity to walk, which exercise is recommended as productive of the best results in efforts to reduce, is not given me as much as I would wish. Still, I seize what chances arise. On a recent Sunday afternoon ramble I met two friends, both of whom said, "Trying to drop a few pounds, aren't you?" Yes, I must look as bad as that.

Wise cracks usually increase my courage. Yet the other night I weakened, though not without protest. An amateur theatrical performance had come to a close and those of us who had been ornamented with grease paint had washed-up and started for our homes. One of the youngsters insisted that I accept his invitation to ride with him. I shook my head, explained that I wasn't tired, that a short walk would make me sleep better and I didn't want to take him out of his way. He wouldn't have it. "You must," he persisted. "I've taken everything off the back seat so you'll have plenty of room."

Life's See-saw

One of those friendly philosophers, whose words, when weighed with precision, usually prove more critical than philosophical, was admonishing a group of acquaintances to remember that Fate had shuffled the cards for a large number of people in the past few years. Meeting no challenge he proceeded to advise that we, none of us, attempt to "high hat" any supposed inferiors. "You may find the man who was way up a short time ago is now striving in a very humble capacity to keep the wolf from the door," he said.

Such caution was unnecessary for there was no one in the group with a snobbish mind. Some, indeed, if not all had felt the pinch themselves. Only sympathy for one really up against it could be expected from them. The philosopher's observation, though trite, provoked a story from another of the crowd and, as an illustration of the trend of the times, seems worth repeating. "The other night," said the second man, "I witnessed an incident that made me think. A man with whom I had become friendly on a trip to Europe some years ago wrote me that he was coming from his Chicago home to visit in the East and would meet me in Boston if all were agreeable, etc. Of course I was delighted at the privilege of renewing our pleasant relations. We would talk over the places we went on the travel tour that brought us and other sightseeing Americans together temporarily.

"As arranged, I met him at the South Station and bundled him into a taxicab to take him to my club. There we had dinner. After a good meal we pushed our chairs back and began to live over again our travels on the continent. I could not fail to notice that our efficient waiter was standing nearby, following our conversation.

"Said my friend, 'What was that Spanish port across the Bay of Biscay we used to gaze at from the beach at Biarritz, and where we thought of going but didn't because we had no passports for Spain?' I could not remember and neither could I recall the request. Never have I aspired to be a dictator of deportment. The nearest I ever came to it was the writing of a review of a book on social usage. I perused the volume with much thought but nobody has ever told me that it resulted in any improvement in my conduct or manners. Possibly there was no room for it. On the other hand the case may have been hopeless. I am still wondering.

Everybody's Business

An anonymous inquirer seeks to learn the opinion of this column in the matter of reading private correspondence in public places. Clearly a facetious request. Never have I aspired to be a dictator of deportment. The nearest I ever came to it was the writing of a review of a book on social usage. I perused the volume with much thought but nobody has ever told me that it resulted in any improvement in my conduct or manners. Possibly there was no room for it. On the other hand the case may have been hopeless. I am still wondering.

The only objection I offer to the reading of a letter in a train or street car is that I may happen to be seated in the vicinity. If such is the case I cannot resist peering over the shoulder of the correspondent. There is nothing so enticing as trying to make out what is contained in another's letter—particularly if it be a stranger's. I am sure that if I were offered the letter to read at my leisure I would decline. Too easy. But with somebody's correspondence, not your own, a few feet distant there is an irresistible charm in deciphering as many words as possible.

It is my honest belief that there are people who deliberately set out to arouse your curiosity by producing their private correspondence in public conveyances or eating places. You will observe that the entire assembly is immediately put on its mettle. The man or woman who opens the letter does so without concern. Not so the rest of the gathering. Necks are craned and eyes are popped, or at least strained, in a united attempt to get next to the contents of the epistle. And never does the letter-owner fail to look up in angry resentment as if so say, "Mind your own business."

My answer is that people who like to read letters in public should not be discouraged. It offers entertainment to everybody else. Shows a thoughtfulness of strangers and keeps life from becoming too dull.

COMING EVENTS

State Federation

ART LECTURE. The last of a series of four art lectures sponsored by the Art division of the State Federation will take place in the Lecture Hall of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, on March 13th, at 2:30 p. m. For the program the topic will be "America's Way Out," by Norman Thompson. Miss Adelaide Webster has charge of the work.

The current events period will be used in discussion of the program for the coming year's work.

At 3 o'clock opportunity will be given to view the special Costume Exhibit. Tea will be served in the Tapestry Hall, with special guests attending.

Tickets for the lecture may be obtained from Mrs. Herbert Stephens, of 347 Mystic street, Arlington, on or before March 13th, and the proceeds are to be presented to the Museum Education Fund.

RADIO. The State Federation broadcast may be heard over WBZ on Saturday mornings between 11:30 and noon. The feature of interest tomorrow, the 11th, for most clubwomen, will be the talk on "The Drama" by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader. Other times of that morning have been announced. On the 18th, Miss Mary Driscoll will speak to the topic "Reclaiming the Slums." The lecture will be furnished by a Choral Group, conducted by Mrs. W. H. Caudill.

General Federation

COUNCIL MEETING. The Federated Women's Clubs of Virginia have invited the Council of the General Federation to Richmond for this meeting, which will begin on May 22nd and continue through the 26th. "Thrill" will be the keynote of the fifteenth Council Meeting, a timely and practical one, surely, and the symposium on Directors' Night will have as its general topic "Filling Our Thrift Chests." Mr. Lewis E. Lawes, noted penologist, and warden of Sing Sing Prison, will be one of the speakers, and the National Broadcasting Company will extend the courtesy to the Federation of a national broadcast for an hour.

Clubwomen who can attend this five-day meeting are privileged, indeed! Virginia has much to offer, and Play Day, Monday, the 22nd, has many alluring plans. The old settlement of Jamestown, the lovely James River, the fine old State Capital and Governor's mansion—Governor Pollard will be one of those to welcome the Federation officially—the Singing Tower a memorial to Virginia's heroic dead; the White House of the Confederacy; Old St. John's Church, where Patrick Henry made his fiery speech; Wakefield, where Washington was born—the house rebuilt and refurbished with old Colonial furniture. At Mt. Vernon, the home of Robert E. Lee; Fredericksburg, where is the home of Washington's mother; Charlottesville the home of Jefferson, nestled among the mountains; William and Mary College—what a wealth of inspiration from the solid old days!

Newton Federation

One of the departments of its work in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs takes great pride in that conducted by the Civics or Community Service committee, which operates under the direction of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, a former president of the Federation, as chairman, and of Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, as vice-chairman. The outstanding activity of this group of women of their work under the auspices of the Newton Welfare Bureau and in conjunction with the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, in the maintenance of the Clothing Chest which dispenses garments from its rooms in the Old City Hall, West Newton. Each of these organizations receives many new garments made by volunteer sewers and knitters, as well as many donations of used wearing apparel, and this central distribution room permits each one to supplement the work of the others. The recent supply of garments sent to the local Chapter from the National Red Cross was most welcome, but the demands for clothing are so great, that even this supply was distributed almost immediately after being received. The Red Cross Motor Corps, most of the members of which are Newton clubwomen, assists by its services in the delivery of many packages made up to help relieve the severe distress of Newton families. During the month of January, the Production committee of the Red Cross alone distributed over eleven hundred articles of clothing among families recommended by the Welfare Bureau, and the latter organization dispensed 1,942. During the month of February, with the organizations combined for this branch of their work, 4,931 articles were given out. The need for wearable clothing of any size or description is most pressing, and the Federation again urges its members to continue their contributions to the Clothing Chest.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announces the Sixth Play Reading of the season for Monday afternoon, March 13th, at 2 p. m. A modern three-act play will be read with Mrs. Harold F. Brown and Mrs. Donald Walch. A silver offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

On Wednesday, March 15th, at 9:30 a. m., the Newton Centre Woman's Club, under the auspices of the American Home committee, will host the second of three cooking lessons. These lectures given by Mrs. Caroline Bixby, are proving most popular and instructive. Members may attend and learn the art of cooking, at a cost for a single lecture of 35 cents.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet in the home of Miss Marion B. Morse, 61 Allerton road, on Monday, March 13th, at 2:30 p. m. For the program the topic will be "America's Way Out," by Norman Thompson. Miss Adelaide Webster has charge of the work.

The current events period will be used in discussion of the program for the coming year's work.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The next meeting of the Juniors, which is scheduled for March 14th, will be in the form of a Fashion Show. This will take place in their usual meeting place, the Community Room of the West Newton Library, at 7:30 p. m., and the members of the Senior Club will be the guests. The models shown will be from the Clara Mitchell Smart Apparel Shop, in Watertown, and Mrs. Mary B. Wilson will be the stylist.

Four members of the Junior Club served as ushers at the Youth Conference of the State Federation, held at the Hotel Statler, March 9th. They were Miss Doris Ratzburg, Miss Harriet Hadd, Miss Harriet Bergonzoni and Miss Elizabeth Bencks.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Romantic Evolution of Light is the subject of a lecture to be given by Miss Beatrice Clap, for the American Home Day, that will be held at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, on Tuesday, March 14th, at 2:30 o'clock. This lecture is given through the courtesy of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

Preceding the lecture music will be furnished by pupils of Miss Lillian West, of the All-Newton Music School. The trio includes Miss Virginia Kenway, Pianist; Miss Jean Kenway, Violinist, and Miss Daphne Kenway, Cellist.

Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill will give ten-minute talk on "Music in the Home."

The arrangements for this program are being directed by the American Home committee, of which Mrs. Edward O. Woodward is chairman.

The Ways and Means committee Miss Estelle G. Marsh, chairman, is planning two big events for March 1 and 2 to Alice Dixon Bond's Book Review.

Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will lecture on "America To Day," at the Club House, on March 15th at 8:15 p. m.

Mrs. Poole, an internationalist of wide scope, a globe-traveler of distinction, and a current events lecturer who is versed in the affairs of the various nations because she sees them through eyes that have scanned the horizon of the world, will bring to this lecture not only her conceptions of America's place in the world-crisis of today, but the intuitive knowledge that is hers as a keen student and interpreter of humanitarian issues.

The Club is honored in having so distinguished a club woman as the speaker, and the committee is offering to the general public this opportunity to hear the president of all the Federated Clubs in the country.

The price of tickets for this lecture is $1.50 a couple or $1.00 for single tickets. These may be obtained from any members of the Ways and Means committee.

Alice Dixon Bond's last lecture and book review will be given on Wednesday morning, March 15th, at 10 a. m. at the Club House, the book to be discussed being Richard Halliburton's "Flying Carpet." This is considered Halliburton's best book.

A St. Patrick's Bridge Party will be held at the Club House, on Friday, March 17th, at 2:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Spencer Arend is giving her services and will answer questions concerning the game. Tickets are 50 cents a person, and tables may be reserved by telephoning Miss Estelle Marsh, N. N. 6544, or Mrs. Everett Pierce, N. N. 2697R. There will be refreshments and a prize for each table.

Those who do not play cards may take advantage of the Food Sale which will be in progress at the same time.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Legislative committee, Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham, chairman, is having a Legislative Evening at the Workshop, on Tuesday, March 14th, at 8 p. m. Mr. Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House, will talk on bills before the present Legislature and answer questions.

The last Drama Class of the season will be at the Workshop, on Friday, the 17th, at 2 p. m. Dr. Miriam Skirball will read, and tea will be served. Members and friends are invited.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet on Wednesday, March 15th, in the Channing Church Parlor. Mrs. Andrew J. George will speak on "Current Events."

Miss Caroline R. Braham and Miss Clara G. Soule will be the hostesses.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Each year one of the most enjoyable programs of the Community Service Club is the Annual Musicales when guests from sister clubs in the Newton Federation are invited to share in the joy of a delightful afternoon.

On March 15th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Second Church, Club members and friends are to be given a special treat, when Ruth Posselt, who is well-known in Europe and in America as a finished artist, is to be heard in a violin recital.

Miss Posselt has only recently returned from triumphs in Europe, unprecedented for so young an artist. She appeared with the Paris Symphony, and was received with acclaim in the principal cities of Europe.

Tea will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Clifford E. James. Plans are progressing for the Card Party, under the direction of Mrs. George S. Fuller, which will be held at the Neighborhood Club on March 29th, at 2 p. m. The party is to be given for establishment of a fund for emergency relief in urgent cases. For further details those interested may telephone to Mrs. Fuller.

A lecture by Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, on March 17th, at 10:30 a. m., in the Unitarian Church, brings to a close a successful course of ten lectures on Current Events. With the whole world in a state of unrest, and our own nation confronted with problems that are perplexing to the best minds, the discussion of current events has become of even greater interest than usual, and Mrs. Gilson has been able to bring to her audiences clear and concise accounts of events the world over.

The third in the interesting series of Garden Talks held under the auspices of the Conservation committee of the Newton Community Club and Social Science Club, will take place on Thursday, March 16th, when Mrs. Clarence Allen, of 169 Franklin st., opens her home for the meeting. Excellent speakers give practical information that is most helpful, and with the approach of spring, they are sure to inspire their hearers to undertake their long-planned garden. Mrs. Fred H. Loveland and Mrs. Joseph W. Gerity are the respective chairmen presenting this series of four lectures.

Newton Community Club

Auburndale Woman's Club

A Railroad Bridge, a decidedly novel entertainment, was offered to the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club and their friends last Tuesday afternoon by the Activities committee, of which Mrs. Walter Wells is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Donald Williams, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, and Mrs. James D. Dunlop. The imaginative observer beheld a bird's eye view of the entire country—about fifty card tables each bearing the name of the largest cities. An information booth was presided over by Mrs. Joseph Apple, At 2 o'clock the Train Announcer, Mrs. Charles Floyd; the Starter, Mrs. Walter Amesbury; and the Brakeman, Mrs. Frederick Stearns, were ready to start the Club Train but it was held up by the late arrival of a couple laden with much baggage, including a birdcage, these parts being taken by Mrs. Charles Valentine and Mrs. Susan Tuttle, both in grotesque costumes.

The Conductors, Mrs. Edmund Wilson, Mrs. Clinton Elwell, Miss Ethel Gardner, Mrs. Henry Goodman, Mrs. Theodore Dearborn, Mrs. R. A. Balch, Mrs. Ashley Wright, and Mrs. Chester Hurd, then punched tickets, and playing commenced, the winners moving on at the end of four hands to another station, assisted by the porters, Mrs. George Felton and Mrs. Harvey Law.

In the middle of the afternoon came a delightful surprise, when a stop was made for refreshments, and passengers found themselves the guests of whatever State they happened to have reached. Eight States were represented, and the food, as well as the costumes of the waitresses, was in keeping. Those who had reached Pennsylvania were served by Mrs. Herbert Althens, Mrs. William Edson, and Mrs. William Fullerton, dressed as Quakers. Others, who were in Virginia, ate waffles prepared by the three colored "Mammies," Mrs. Harry Every, Mrs. J. Arthur Furbish and Mrs. Wilbur Gilpatrick.

In our own Bay State, Miss Anne Bunker, Mrs. J. Gallinas, and Mrs. Ralph Phillips, in calloties and caps and gowns, stood behind pots of candy baked beans; while Mrs. George Armstrong, Mrs. Basil Babcock, and Mrs. Ernest Boyd, dressed in the uniform worn at Childs' Restaurants, catered to Chicago's passengers. At Coney Island, hot-dogs were served by the three "Barkers," Mrs. Edward Nash, Mrs. Bradley Hill, and Mrs. Andrew Laurie; and Mrs. Joseph Badger, Mrs. Elbridge Minard, and Mrs. Ralph Weston offered fruit menus to California's guests. There were three farmers from Vermont, Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Paul Chandler, and Mrs. Edward Gray, while from the last State, Montana, Mrs. Frederick Briscoe, Mrs. Everett Potter, and Mrs. Roger Valentine, dressed as Wild Westerners, served their customers.

Two other amusing scenes were enacted on the stage, again delaying the resuming of the trip. Mrs. Clifford Parcher, in the role of a woman who understood no English, tried to travel that way to Italy; and later, traffic was blocked by a cow which appeared on the tracks.

At the close of the trip, miniature trains of cars went to the travelers who had the lowest scores.

This was pronounced one of the most successful parties yet sponsored by the Activities committee. The plans for this, as well as for her previous money-making entertainments, are available for other Clubs, and may be secured from Mrs. Walter Wells.

Newtonville Woman's Club

An artistic stage setting made an attractive background for the presentation of the three-act drama, "Ten Days Before the Wedding," by Lindsey Barker, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, on Tuesday afternoon, March 7th.

The cast included Marion Bassett, a gossip village character; Olive Rice, a typical younger sister, afraid

she would miss some of the exciting events; Gladys Cunningham, the young niece; Mary Hoyt Cox, the maid of honor; Naomi Kuebler, the bride, a character portrayed of the young girl who tries to please her mother but finally succumbs to her own desires; Gladys McGill, the ambitious mother; Elizabeth Harshorne, the maid whose fear put the audience in the proper spooky mood; Eva Williams, the housekeeper, who kept the audience in suspense; Helen Southworth, a writer, who added one more note of suspense, and completed this splendid cast that played to a very appreciative audience.

NEWTON POST PLANS WELFARE CONCERT

Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, is making arrangements for its Eighth Annual Welfare Concert, to raise funds for the welfare work and community service program. These concerts were started eight years ago by the local post as a means of securing revenue to assist disabled veterans and their families, and each show has been successful due to the fact that the Newton Legionnaires believe in giving to their supporters a high-grade entertainment. This is the only method used by Newton Post, No. 48, to secure funds to carry on its welfare work.

For the past several years the local post has been rated as one of the most active posts in the American Legion in taking care of needy veterans and their families, and assisting especially the widows and orphans of deceased veterans. During the past year the post has been praised by leading officials of the Commonwealth and the city for the efficient work which it has done among deserving veterans. The Post has no paid workers nor overhead expenses attached to its Welfare Department, as the members donate their services, so each and every dollar received for welfare is used expressly for this purpose; a Welfare Committee works under the direction of the Welfare Officer, and all disbursements are made under the committee's direction. At Christmas time alone visits were made to all the hospitals and homes of boys and girls, a party was staged for the orphans of deceased veterans where gifts of clothing, toys and food were made, and during the year several hundred veterans and their families were assisted in one way or another by the local Post. The Post has always been foremost in assisting every community undertaking, and with its Band and Auxiliary has always been ready to serve in all community service work.

This year's Welfare Concert Committee will be headed by David Greer, Chaplain of Newton Post, who has been most active in the Post's welfare work. Chairman Greer has not as yet announced his committee, but it is his intention to have this year's committee the largest ever taking charge of the Welfare Concert, as it is planned to make this year's show the greatest ever undertaken by Newton Post. The demands on the Post for the past year have been greater than ever, consequently Chairman Greer and his committee are endeavoring to make this year's affair the most successful one in the Post's history.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

That court martial of Captain Beupre of the State Police was certainly unusual. It isn't often that an official is tried by a board comprised of his subordinate officers. And the secrecy of this court martial should be quite satisfactory to the public.

Since the advent of police cruising cars in this city about a year ago, there has been an increase in the number of another type of cruising cars. Cars in which cowardly, human curs prowled about the city accosting girls and young women who are walking alone on our streets at night. These cheap Lotharios, who usually travel in pairs annoy and insult young women whom they endeavor to lure into their automobiles. When our streets were patrolled by policemen on foot, the mendicant rouses were deterred to a degree by the fear that some nearby patrolman might be observing them from a place of concealment. Since Newton adopted the sweeping innovation of taking all night policemen off foot patrol, except in business districts and in two favored sections of the city, the roving rakes have been riding around with less fear. The police should take measures to curb this nuisance.

Late last Saturday morning we went over to the bank building at Newton Corner expecting to see a line of worried persons at the place. There was not a person on the sidewalk outside the building, and only a couple of persons in the banking rooms. This clearly showed the wonderful calmness with which the American people are facing the present crisis. A display of character and courage which bodes well for the future of this country and a speedy return to normalcy under the lead of a President who is of heroic mold, who is actuated by a love for country and fellow men, and who worships Christ and not Mammon.

The courageous, prompt action taken by President Roosevelt is the first, and necessary step in getting this country out of the slough into which it was sunk through the cupidity and corruption of men high in political and financial circles. It is the first of other radical moves which must be made to assure general prosperity throughout the land; to give the people of the United States just and equitable distribution of the unequalled resources of this country; to defeat and destroy graft and greed; and to prove that we have a Government of the People, By the People and For the People.

The masses of our nation are honest, but they have been dumb. They have permitted scheming, dishonest men to prostitute the unparalleled resources of the country. From now on, we believe there will, of necessity be a less of the desire to get easy money, and more inclination to co-operate in procuring a square deal for all.

One of the biggest nuisances to automobile traffic, and the cause of many collisions, is the practice on the part of a certain type of driver in stopping their cars in the middle of streets, outside the line of cars properly parked. Those who do this are too lazy to walk a short distance, or are chauffeurs for persons who are too lazy to walk a short distance and who consider themselves above the law. The ordinances, in this city, Boston and other places which forbid double parking or stopping on cars on highways, should be strictly enforced.

W. C. T. U.

Prof. Richard M. Vaughn of the Andover, Newton, Theological Seminary was the guest speaker at a well attended Woman's Christian Temperance Union Meeting held in Newton Centre on March 2nd.

In the course of his remarks Prof. Vaughn stated:

"Modern science declares that alcohol is not a stimulant but narcotic drug which attacks the higher brain centers where our critical judgments and moral controls operate. Its possible value as a sedative and relaxative, practically the only argument left to the defenders of beverage alcohol, is nullified by the strain caused by the burning of the city."

The address was followed by a pleasant social hour. Negro spirituals sung by Richard I. McKinley and a violin solo played by Bernard Rockwood accompanied by Miss Ruth Paige were much enjoyed during this period.

WILL TEACH IN HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL

It has been announced that two instructors for the Harvard Summer School for this year have been chosen from the Newton school system. They are Charles E. Mergenhall, head of the department of mathematics of High School, who will conduct a class in teaching mathematics in secondary schools; and Miss Roxana Holden of the Bigelow Junior High School, who will give a course on the teaching of French.

NEWTON BOYS NAMED FOR SOUTHERN CRUISE

SOCIALISTS CONDUCT FORUM

The Newton Socialist Local is holding a series of open forum meetings every Monday evening in Colby Hall, Newton Centre. On March 6 the forum was led in the discussion of "Socialism and Liberty" by John Hall of Harvard University, and new officers were elected. The program for the remainder of the month follows: March 13—Michael Flaherty, prominent leader in trade-unionism; March 20—Study class "Socialism and Officialism" led by John Hall; March 27—Warren D. Mullin, Member of the British Labor Party.

NEWTON EMBLEM CLUB

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Newton Emblem Club, No. 8 will be held Monday evening, March 13th at Elks' Hall, Centre st., Newton, at 8 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting and it is expected that all the members will be present.

Use of Newton Free Libraries Shows Increase

Per Capita Circulation Has Reached Fourteen

There is no depression these days in the activities of the Newton Free Library and its nine branches. In fact, lack of spending money and a surplus of leisure time have resulted in an enormous increase in the use of books, magazines and papers. Last year this circulation reached a total of 843,986 books and magazines issued for home use, which represents a gain over the previous year of 62,901, or 8 per cent, and 33 per cent over the circulation of 1929. A per capita circulation of 14 was achieved, which is exceeded only by that of one city in the State, Springfield.

The foregoing and the following statements are taken from the Annual Report of the Library, supplemented by comment by Mr. Julius Lucht, Librarian:

The number of pieces loaned by the Art Department showed a similar increase last year. Mounted pictures, lantern slides and stereographs were loaned to the number of 24,109, an increase of 1,671 over 1931.

The number of borrowers, or card holders, on Dec. 31, was 26,759, an increase of 1,671 in the number of people using the libraries over 1931.

There has been a steady climb in the use of Newton's library facilities since 1924. Mr. Lucht believes that this growth up to 1930 was due principally to increase in population and to improvement in library facilities, but since that time it has been due mainly to the depression. From 1924 to 1930 new library buildings were opened in West Newton, Auburndale and Newton Centre, and a new building was opened in Waban in 1929. During these years also improved housing facilities were secured in Newtonville and Nonantum.

The librarian further stated that this increased demand has been met without adding a single regular worker to his staff, but by increased efficiency and the employment of high school and college girls who are trained by and work under the supervision of the regular librarians.

The circulation of the main library was 215,427. Newtonville led all other branches with 104,184 and West Newton stood second with 80,134. Lower Falls with its few hundred population had a circulation of 14,937 and leads all others in per capita circulation. The figures for the other branches stand as follows: Newton Centre, 33,616; Highlands, 58,845; Upper Falls, 48,188; Nonantum, 43,994; and Waban, 47,485.

The Children's Division, which loans books on deposit to all the schools, registered a circulation of 60,035, and 8,975 books were loaned at the Newton Hospital.

The number of books owned by the library on Dec. 31 was 161,975, over 9,000 of which were purchased during the year. There were 5,298 books worn out during the year and 352 were lost. There were 588 books received by gift.

The library operated on a budget of $81,596.43, of which $43,547.41 of which was expended for salaries, $11,456.81 for books and $1,801.57 for periodicals. $6,919.53 was returned to the city treasury from fines and other incidentals, leaving the net cost to the city $74,676.90. $5,665.32 was received from the income of bequests and trust funds.

"SIGN OF THE CROSS" AT PARAMOUNT 26TH

Cecil B. DeMille's "The Sign of the Cross" will be seen at the Paramount Theatre in Newton for four days starting Sunday, March 26th. The picture is considered the finest made since "The Ten Commandments" and "King of Kings." It was recently shown in Boston at greatly advanced prices, but there will be no change in prices at the Paramount this last week in March.

Good Republican, Better American Mayor Declares

Mayor Weeks Speaks to Rotary Club on Three Vital Topics

"Three vital problems must be solved by the new administration," said Mayor Sinclair Weeks at the meeting on Monday of the Newton Rotary Club. In the Mayor's opinion the three most vital questions to be answered are: Is the nation's budget to be balanced? Will our monetary system remain sound or be inflated through new currency? Will there be a tax burden reduction?

The Mayor was optimistic regarding a satisfactory solution of these problems. He said, "We can look forward to the future with optimism if present developments continue," admitting at the same time that he remained, "a good Republican but a better American." He pledged his whole hearted support to the new administration.

Regarding the budget, Mayor Weeks claimed that the public debt must not grow if the credit of the United States Government is to be maintained. He thought that the present sound and vigorous policy of President Roosevelt would bring about a balanced budget.

Inflation in the past has not remedied the defects in the many depressions our nation has passed through. "The new Secretary of the Treasury, Woodin, is a capable, confidence inspiring, and sound money man."

The last problem, that of tax reduction, rested largely with municipalities where about half of the tax burden lies, declared the Mayor. Here in Newton, we have been fortunate. Newton is essentially a residential city and is devoid of the problems of many of our neighboring industrial cities. Nevertheless, in Newton between 1930 and 1933 the State, County, and Metropolitan warrants have increased from $624,000 to $690,000 or 9%, and welfare expenses have increased from $50,000 to $250,000 or 500%, while receivable revenue from state income tax, motor vehicle excise tax, and miscellaneous receipts of the city has fallen approximately 50%.

The Mayor concluded with the hope that there would be a growth of civic interest in the cost of government and the service of governmental bodies.

As guests the local club had Samuel W. Wilder, Frank Frykstrand, Fred A. Cahill and Hart Fessenden, all of Newton, John McGrath, Maine, and Philip H. Kylander, Hartford, Conn.

MIDDLESEX COURT HOLDS MOCK TRIAL

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., entertained a large audience at Elks' Hall on Tuesday night with a mock trial. James O'Connor of Dover officiated as the judge; the complainant was Thomas F. Fitzgerald; Thomas F. Bryson was the defendant who was accused of stealing a horse; Lawrence Mazzola was prosecuting attorney; Edward Fahey, attorney for the defense; James Flynn, clerk of court; William Considine, court officer. The jury, composed of members of Middlesex Court, found the defendant guilty. Following the trial vocal solos were given by George McCarron and Edward Powers.

Among the prominent members of the Foresters present were: William J. Barry, James Desmond and Edward Graham of Boston, all members of the High Court.

Two Alarm Fire In Newton Centre Business Block

$2,000 Damage To Building on Union Street

A fire which started about 2:30 Friday afternoon caused about $5000 damage to the building and its contents at Union st. and Langley rd., Newton Centre. The building, a stucco structure, is occupied on the ground floor by stores, and on the two upper floors by apartments. The fire started when sparks from a chimney ignited some dry wood on the roof of the building. It burned through the roof into the apartment of Ralph Jewett on the top floor. A cat and a canary were rescued from an adjoining apartment. Oliver, a barber shop on the ground floor of the building, was damaged by water. Besides the Jewett apartment, apartments occupied by Mrs. Mary Mansfield and Colin McDonald were damaged. Two alarms from Box 1 brought most of Newton's fire department to the scene.

Red Cross Appeals For Contributions

A large number of Girl Scouts in Waban, Newton Upper Falls and Newton Centre have completed the Red Cross Junior Course in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. The Waban list includes: Miriam Zeigler, Molly Soule, Ruth Jones, Marjorie Millard, Virginia Tonsley, Nancy I. Rogers, Sylvia Pierce, Marie Bailey, Betty Bertram, Lee Rice and Betsy Ross. At Newton Upper Falls the class included Joan Bridget, Dorothy Bradley, Irene Butchart, Barbara Beecher, Betty Egan, Dorothy Hurley, Enid Lane, Virginia Schofield, Selma Call, Marjorie Tenihan and Ruth Brown. The girls who completed the course at the Sacred Heart School in Newton Centre are Jacqueline Habel, Ruth Dunton, Margaret Burke, Mary Rita Ford, Mary Elizabeth Sheehan, Margaret Crossett, Margaret Maloney, Frances McConville, Mary MacDonal, Eleanor K. Murphy and Mary Waters.

FEBRUARY HEALTH REPORT

The February report of the Newton Board of Health shows that 61 deaths occurred in this city during that month; 28 males and 33 females. The death rate for the month was 12.05 per 1000 population as compared with 10.03 for the corresponding month in 1932. Tuberculosis caused 2 deaths, cancer 4, cerebral hemorrhage 8, heart ailments 16, arteriosclerosis 4, pneumonia 8, automobile accident 1.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included 4 cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever 62, measles 2, mumps 24, whooping cough 19, chicken pox 6, pulmonary tuberculosis 5. The scourge of scarlet fever, which has been prevalent in this city for the past few years, continues. Children are not the only victims. During the past couple of weeks three women have been seized with the disease. One of these, at Newton Corner, is 52 years of age; one at Newton Centre 39, and one at Newton Highlands 39. The latter is the mother of 5 children. Pulmonary tuberculosis, with 5 cases, showed an increase over recent years. Diphtheria, which had been quite absent from the city, also has appeared.

Relief Committee Transfers Many To Welfare Dept.

Move Made Necessary By Lack Of Funds

During the past month hundreds of persons formerly obtaining aid from the Mayor's Relief Committee have been turned over to the Welfare Department of the City. Practically all of these persons are men who formerly were engaged in manual labor, and their families. The reason for this transfer in aid giving is because the drive for funds for the Newton Community Chest fell far short of the amount asked for. Instead of $375,000 sought, only $220,000 was contributed. The quota expected by the Mayor's Relief Committee was $125,000; it received $65,000. It has, therefore, largely curtailed its activities and is confining its assistance to persons of the so-called "white collar class," and to cases which, because of legal technicalities, the city cannot aid.

Charged With Theft and Assault

James P. Young, 24, a mulatto, of 34 Curve st., West Newton, was in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with having assaulted and robbed Francis McNeil of Prospect st., West Newton. Young was held for trial on March 24th and bail was set at $1000. It is charged that on March 2nd McNeil was visiting at Young's house and was slugged on the head by the latter with some blunt weapon, and robbed of $8. It is alleged that Young then took the unconscious McNeil to the office of Dr. Halloran at Newtonville and told the latter that the man had been hit by a bakery wagon. The doctor ordered the victim taken to a hospital and Young took McNeil to the Boston City Hospital, where it was several days before he recovered.

McNeil then told of the alleged assault and robbery to Arthur McCarthy, Welfare Officer of Newton Post, A. L. McCarthy reported the circumstances to the Newton police and Young's arrest followed. He is wanted by the Roxbury police for a similar offence.

Methodist Women Hear of Y.W.C.A.

The speaker of the afternoon at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Newton Methodist Church, held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fox of Sargent st., was Miss Elizabeth E. Webber, publicity secretary of the Boston Y. W. C. A. Miss Webber presented the program of the Y. W. C. A. in its endeavor to meet the increasing demands for its service.

The speaker described the secretarial training given by the organization and also the domestic science classes, where girls are taught to prepare hygienic but inexpensive meals.

Miss Webber described the present problem of caring for wandering and homeless young women. She said the number of girls who were given the help of the personal guidance department increased by several thousand over the number of 1931. She said that the Boston Y. W. C. A. has a membership in 198 cities and districts of the state.

OPENED HOUSE TO NEWTON DRAMATIC CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Carle M. Bigelow of Forest ave., West Newton, opened their home Saturday night for a reception and entertainment in honor of the many players who have taken part in the productions of the Newton Dramatic Club. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Varney. Mrs. Farrar Cobb had charge of the program for the evening, which included quartette singing by Mr. Paul Thayer, Mr. James Clark, Mr. Cecil Hall and Mr. G. E. Walter. Four members of the Highland Glee Club, with solos by Mr. Thayer, Mrs. Allen Hubbard, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Stratton, at the piano. Miss Olivia Bigelow gave a solo dance and Mr. E. Hurford Crossman entertained with a monologue. Mr. Arthur Logan offered an exhibition of character make-up for stage work. Later, there were bridge, dancing and refreshments.

Why Tunnel Under Mount Ida Is Necessary

Facts Regarding Studies For Sewer Location

Some persons in this city are wondering why it is necessary to dig a tunnel under Mount Ida in the construction of the new main line sanitary sewer in this city. They believe that some other route, less expensive, might have been selected. They are wrong. The route of the new sewer was chosen after careful study and it is the shortest and least expensive route. A sanitary sewer must have a gravity flow whenever possible. The only alternative route which could have been selected for the sewer now being built would have skirted the north side of Mount Ida between Bellevue st. and the Boston & Albany railroad tracks. This route would have been longer and would have cost much more. The sewer must be located south of the railroad tracks because of the low level of the Boston & Albany right of way between Newton Corner and Newtonville.

When the sewer system was built in this city about 40 years ago, connections were made with the Metropolitan low level sewer at several places. The first connection is about at the beginning of Charlesbank rd. This sewer serves a comparatively small area about the Hunnewell Hill section. The next connection, also serving a small area at Newton Corner, meets the Metropolitan sewer at the end of Hyde Brook below the junction of Charlesbank rd. and Russell rd. A third connection is a short distance west, at the foot of Jefferson st. This carries for the sewage of a limited section of Newton Corner.

The next connection, and that which carries the largest amount of sewage of any in this city into the Metropolitan trunk line, is on California st., Nonantum, opposite Jasset st. The main line Newton sewer which empties at this point runs up Jasset st., and thence under Cook, Green and Middle sts. to Lincoln rd. In the Nonantum section; it crosses Crafts st., parallels Court st. to Harvard st., crosses Washington st., dips under the railroad tracks and runs under Madison ave. to Walnut st., Newtonville. It then runs under Walnut st. to Homer st. where it divides into two branches.

The right branch extends under Walnut st. for some distance towards Boston st., thence through College Spring swamp to Duncklee st. and Terrace ave., passing under the Sudbury and Cochituate aqueducts on the way. It then runs under Columbus and Lincoln sts., Newton Highlands. The left branch of this main sewer from its division point at Walnut and Homer sts., runs under the latter street to Pleasant st., across the Newton Centre playground and under the aqueduct. It crosses Centre st., runs under Willow and Beacon sts. to Glen ave., then through private land to Suffolk rd., to Hammond st. and Essex rd. at Chestnut Hill.

The area of this city served by the sewer emptying at Jasset and California sts. is the section to be large. The next connection with the Metropolitan sewer is at the corner of California and Bridge sts., and this serves a small area at the boundary of Nonantum and Newtonville. The next connection is at Albemarle rd. near where Cheese Cake Brook flows into the Charles River. This main line Newton sewer, like that at Jasset st., carries sewage from much of the city. It follows Cheese Cake Brook to Watertown st., thence to West Newton and paralleling Border st. to Rowe st. and Commonwealth ave., then under Bourne and Charles sts. to Riverside. It then follows the Charles River valley to the Lower Falls and Upper Falls.

The low level sewer of the Metropolitan system into which the present sewer system of Newton empties, follows the Charles River to a point opposite St. Mary st. at Cottage Farm. It then runs under the outskirts of the Back Bay to the pumping station at Ward st., Roxbury where the sewage is pumped to the high level sewer. The low level sewer now being built in this city will connect at Oak Square, Brighton, with the high level sewer of the Metropolitan.

City Employees Week Reduced By Half Day

Affects Streets and Playground Departments

Orders were issued this week which will cause several hundred city employees to work 5 days each week instead of 5½ days as they have been working regularly. Heretofore the employees of the Street, Water and Playground Departments have received a full week's pay with Saturday half-holidays. Now they will receive only 5½ days pay. They will not work on Saturdays, except the employees of the Street Department at the Crafts street stable. These will work Saturday mornings collecting ashes in Ward 1. These men will take the half-day off some other time during the week. Those affected include 240 men in the Street Department and 21 men in the Playground Department. The Water Department employees, numbering 75, have not been placed under this plan, as yet.

Parochial School Pupils Present Irish Operetta

Draw Capacity Audience to Our Lady's School Hall

"The Lady of the Terrace," a delightful musical comedy portraying an episode in Ireland, will be presented tonight in the hall at Our Lady's Parochial High School, Newton, by pupils of the school. A capacity audience is assured and it is expected that the performance will be performed as creditably as have preceding entertainments given by pupils of this school. The principal characters and those assuming them are—"Dennis O'Hara," John Quirk; "Molly O'Hara," Elizabeth O'Brien; "Lady Eileen Standford," Helen Barton; "Sir Clarence," Henry Arsenault; "Sir Gerald of Craughmont Castle," John Murphy; "Mr. John Chandler," John Joyce; "Clare Chandler," Mary McCarthy; "Squire Michael," William O'Connell; "Peggy Craughmont," Claire Hart; "Lady Mary, the Lady of the Terrace," Helen Delaney.

Crash Follows Wrong Way Driving

Cars driven by Frank Klayman of 50 Whittemore rd., Newton, and Morris Rich of Dorchester, collided on Monday at St. James st., Newton. Rich claimed that he received an injury to his back. Both cars were damaged. According to the police report, Klayman was driving the wrong direction on St. James st., which is a one-way street.

Cars driven by Albert Walker of Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands, and Gerald Slamin of Natick, crashed Monday afternoon at Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st., Newton Centre. Walker received injuries to his ribs and was taken to the Newton Hospital.

Cars driven by Leon Moreau of 223 Watertown st., Nonantum, and Dennis Tobin of Needham, collided Monday afternoon at Watertown and Washington sts., West Newton. Tobin reported that he had received an injury to his neck.

Dog Goes Mad At Newton Centre

A dog owned by Thomas Cleveland of 21 Rice st., Newton Centre went on a rampage Tuesday night at that house and was confined to the kitchen by Mr. Cleveland, who telephoned the police. The dog did considerable damage to furniture and dishes in the room before Patrolmen Chadwick and Murphy arrived. The police clubbed the animal into submission, took it outdoors and shot it.

Local Red Cross Asks Contributions

In addition to the $500,000 which the American Red Cross has appropriated for the relief of the California earthquake victims, it is asking its chapters to send in special contributions. This is to make sure that there will be an adequate fund to care for all needs which can not be handled locally. The Newton Chapter will be glad to transmit all offerings received at its office at 12 Austin st., Newtonville. Offerings may be addressed to Donald Angier, Chairman, at this address.

Citizens Urged To Give Clothes To The Needy

City Trucks To Collect Clothing and Shoes

Circulars are being distributed throughout the city asking people to give discarded shoes, wearing apparel and bed-clothing to authorized collectors who will canvass the city the next few months. Two collectors, accompanied by a truck canvassed West Newton on Wednesday, Newton Centre on Thursday and Chestnut Hill today. The collectors wear a badge on which is printed "Give Shoes and Clothing; Public Welfare Dept., City of Newton." The articles collected have been taken to the City Home on Winchester st., Newton Highlands to be sorted and distributed. The shoes are being repaired by unemployed men who can do this work. It is planned to have unemployed women repair the clothing. There is great need for children's shoes. Citizens are requested not to give food or money to the collectors.

Dr. Hudson Asks City For Pension

Dr. Arthur Hudson of Newton, who was retired recently after having served as milk inspector and bacteriologist of the City of Newton for 41 years, has made application to the Retirement Board for a pension. Dr. Hudson was omitted from the contributory retirement system through an oversight. To become eligible for the pension he would have to pay a sum which would equal his contributions for the past 4 years. This he agrees to do.

In addition to the work he performed for the city officially, Dr. Hudson, during his 60 years' professional activities, gave very freely of his skill and also of medical supplies in relieving the distress of thousands of poor residents in this city.

Daly Post V. F. W.

A Bugle and Drum Corps was adopted by the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daley Jr. Post No. 2384, V. F. W., at a meeting held on Monday evening. Comrade Ernest Butler will be in charge of its formation, and all members interested are requested to make known their intentions to him. Many of the members of the Post have already signified their intentions to become musicians and it is hoped that in the near future that the Daley Post will be stepping to the tune of their own music at all parades and festivities.

Comrade Martin Stanton of Newton Police Dept. has been selected as chairman of the Post Sick Committee.

Plans are progressing for a dance to be held on Patriot's Day under the joint auspices of the Post and C Co. 101st Inf., 26th Div., M. N. G., at the State Armory, West Newton. The committee of veterans to act in conjunction with one from C Co. is as follows: Charles H. Marden, J. V. C., as chairman assisted by Commander Keefe, Past Commander Keefe, Arthur L. Gaw, Harold Elliott, George Rivers, Charles Walker, Thomas Treddin, Nicholas Bibbo, Robert Murray, John Scarlett, Joseph Arata, Fred McBride, Thomas Shaughnessy, Harold Burbank and Raymond W. Taffe, publicity.

Newton Banks Resumed Normal Business Wed.

Not Bothered By Attempted Withdrawals For Hoarding

On Wednesday the various offices of the Newton Trust Company, the Newton National Bank, Newton Savings Bank, West Newton Savings Bank and Newton Centre Savings Bank resumed normal business. The commercial banks cannot pay gold bullion and cannot pay money obviously withdrawn for hoarding purposes. Unlike banks in other cities and other parts of the country, Newton banks were not bothered prior to the bank holiday by persons attempting to withdraw their deposits in gold for hoarding. Withdrawals from the savings banks are restricted to $100, unless a depositor can show a valid reason for withdrawing larger amounts. All the Newton banks were found to be in sound condition and were included in the first banks outside Boston to be permitted to resume normal business.

Glee Club Audience Enthusiastic

On Tuesday evening, March 14th, the Highland Glee Club gave its annual Spring Concert at the Weeks Junior High School, Newton Centre. A large and enthusiastic audience listened to a well selected group of songs, rendered by a full complement of male voices.

Mr. Houghton, baritone, well known to Boston audiences was guest artist. In addition to appearing in two solo groups, he assisted the club in three selections, the outstanding of which was "Songs of the Fleet," which he interpreted and characterized in heroic style. Of his solos, the outstanding selection was "The Glory Road," already made familiar by Lawrence Tibbett. This was the pinnacle of Mr. Houghton's work.

The program consisted of the following selections: Laudamus, A Brown Bird Singing, Gently, Johnny, On the Water, Kyrle at Sea, Allan Water, The Two Grenadiers, Songs of the Fleet, The Shadow Barge, Ezekiel Saw De Wheel, Oh, Caesar, Great Wert Thou, Annie Laurie, Hallelujah Chorus.

The club was led by D. Ralph Maclean, Conductor, and Karl Switzer acted as Accompanist.

Elected to School Committee

Miss E. Louise Richardson a teacher in the English Department of the Newton High School has recently been elected to the school committee of Watertown, winning her office in opposition to two other candidates. Several of her English classes celebrated her entry into politics with a small reception, speeches and the presentation of flowers. Miss Richardson has been living in Watertown for several years. She will continue in her present position on the faculty of the Newton High School.

Recent Deaths

ADAMS D. CLAFLIN

Adams D. Claflin of 156 Grant ave., Newton Centre died on March 15. He was born in Newtonville 71 years ago, the son of William Claflin, who was Governor of this State in 1869-70 and 71. His early education was received at Washington, where his father was a member of Congress. He graduated from Harvard College in 1886 and was elected permanent secretary of that class. He became engaged in street railway development and organized the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company, and was its president for 30 years. This company absorbed the Newton & Waltham, Newton & Boston and other street railways in this section. Its lines extended to Westboro, Billerica and many other points, and in the hey-day of street railways several popular recreation parks were operated in conjunction with these railways. Mr. Claflin was also head of the Washington Mill Emery Company at North Grafton.

Mr. Claflin was a member of the Union, Harvard, Braeburn and Villagers Clubs. He organized the Harvard Aeronautical Society and he was largely responsible for the first airplane exhibition in this country, at Squantum in 1909.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Agnes Walker Claflin, daughter of former Congressman Joseph Walker; a son, William W. Claflin of Chestnut Hill; and a daughter, Mrs. Mildred C. Marshall of New York. Mr. Claflin's funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 in Trinity Church, Newton Centre. He was a vestryman at this church.

NORUMBEGA COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

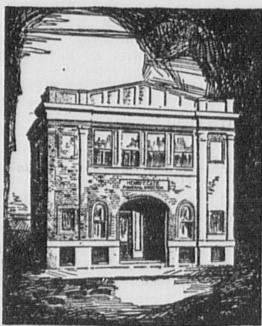

The reading campaign of the District is well under way with 80 books out and many applications waiting. Readers are requested to return their books at the end of two weeks to Miss Barker.

Miss Barker, the District Secretary, will speak before the young people of the Eliot Church on Sunday evening. She also attended a meeting of the Massachusetts Council of Religious Education this week. Another member of the State Council is Dr. Herbert W. Gates.

Bowling

Team 6, composed of Dr. George N. Abbott, Holland Hazen, Raymond Clarke, John E. Joyce and George L. Hicks, is leading in the Bowling Tournament which is being conducted at the "Y," having won 18 matches and lost 2. Team 8, consisting of Arthur M. Jacobs, Paul McKinnon, Harvey Williamson, Mark A. McKinnon and C. V. Moore, is in second place.

Paul McKinnon holds the high single of 163, high 3 string of 367, and high average of 110. Leonard Cummings is second in the low single and high 3 string, and A. F. Tucker has second high average with 109.

Basketball

The Newton "Y" Basketball Team defeated Pawtucket "Y" decisively last Saturday evening at the Newton Gym, 57-31, in a rugged contest. This defeat gave the Newton boys sweet revenge for the defeat suffered at Pawtucket "Y" on Washington's Birthday. "Andy" Kasper played an exceptional game scoring 20 points. Clarence Patterson was next with 17. Ray Clarke scored 8, "Jim" O'Neill 7, and Henry Mahler 2.

The "Y" Juniors duplicated the Senior triumph also avenging a defeat by the Pawtucket Seconds, 38-36, with "Nate" Dolbier doing most of the scoring.

The "Y" Junior second team lost to Trinity Church Juniors at Trinity Church, Copley square, last Saturday, 24-18, after leading most of the way. Reitz, Smith, Harrington, MacDougal, Woodland and Haas made up the Newton aggregation.

Track

Coach Henry Pierce of the Y. M. C. A. track team has entered several of the members in the "Y" State Indoor Track Meet to be held Saturday at the Boston "Y." John K. Morris and Gordon Sidebotham will compete in the 40-yard dash, 300-yard run and relay race; Ben White, 500-yard run and relay; Arthur Jacobs, Don Olson, Warren K. Lewis, Jr., and Dr. Lawrence Permuter, 2 mile run; Harold Mearls, 40-yard dash, running high jump and relay; and William Young, 1000-yard run and relay.

Volley Ball

The Volley Ball Team of the Business Men's Class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet the Wakefield "Y" Team at Newton "Y" on Saturday afternoon. Newton's team will be selected from William A. Hitchcock, R. J. Rutherford, James B. Rockwell, Arnold C. Barker, Kenneth C. Bond, Morton E. Bunker, W. R. Thomson, R. M. Patterson and Harold B. Smith.

Boys' Division

A Membership Campaign in the Boys' Division of the Newton "Y" will start with a Supper on Friday evening, March 17. The goal will be 100 new members and the slogan "Get a Place in the Hall of Fame."

The boys who bring in 10 names of prospective members will get their names on the Honor Roll. The drive will continue until the 7th of April when the Victory Dinner will be held. The Super-Honor Roll will be for the boys who have secured one or more members during that time. The Hall of Fame will be for the boys having more than five boys to their credit.

Membership in the Boys' Division is divided into two classes, the Full Membership at a cost of $6.00 a year and the short-term membership of three months for $2.00. Teams and captains will be selected and instructions given at the Friday evening Supper. Special prizes and awards will be given to the boys securing the most members.

FLORA B. SMITH

Miss Flora B. Smith of 140 Church st., Newton died on March 14. She was born in Boston 87 years ago and had resided in Newton for the past 13 years. She formerly resided in Jamaica Plain for many years. Her funeral service was held at her late home yesterday afternoon.

New District Commissioner

Scout Commissioner Marcy announces that Mr. C. S. Redmond has been appointed as District Commissioner of the Quinobiquin District, composed of Newton Highlands, Upper Falls and Waban.

The four Districts of the city of Newton are now covered by district commissioners, who are the liaison officers between the Council organization and the Troop organizations, as follows: Mr. James B. Melcher, commissioner for Squantum District, which is Newton, Nonantum and Newtonville; Mr. F. W. Gilcrease, commissioner for the Sachem District, which is Newton Centre; Mr. Maxwell P. Gaddis, commissioner for the Viking District, which is West Newton and Auburndale.

Troop 7C, West Newton, has a new Chairman of the Troop Committee, Mr. Charles S. Marden.

Every week-end sees a large number of Scouts and Scouters for day and overnight hikes. Last week-end there were 83 Scouts and Scouters there for overnight. In the evening, there was a big campfire at the Legion Cabin, with singing, stunts and challenges between Troops. On Sunday morning, as usual, the church bell rang at 8:20 and again at 8:30, announcing the Scouts On Church service at the Legion Cabin.

The Rovers are handling the Scouts Own Services with a layman speaker on alternate Sundays. By arrangement with the Newton Clergy, a representative from the Newton clergy is present on the other Sundays to speak to the Scouts.

REV. ALEXANDER T. BOWSER

Rev. Alexander T. Bowser died at Concord on March 14, at the home of his son, Robert Bowser. His wife, Adelaide Reed Bowser, died 6 weeks ago. He was born at Sackville, New Brunswick, 85 years ago, graduated from Harvard College in 1877 and from Harvard Divinity School in 1880. Among the Unitarian parishes where he served was that at Newton Centre. He was pastor at the Hyde Park Unitarian Church from 1918 until 1927 when he retired. Besides his son in Concord, he is also survived by another son, Henry R. Bowser of Wellesley Hills.

MRS. ELIZABETH E. GLEASON

Elizabeth E. Gleason, wife of Thomas F. Gleason of 223 Melrose st., Auburndale, passed away at her home on Monday after several months' illness.

Her funeral services were held on Thursday at the Corpus Christi Church with a High Mass of Requiem celebrated by Rev. Fr. Barry at nine o'clock. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham. Prayers at the Grave were read by Fr. Donovan.

Mrs. Gleason was born in Newton Lower Falls, the daughter of Timothy E. and the late Harriet Robbins Healey. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters, also her father, two brothers and four sisters all of Newton.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY AT AUBURNDALE

A burglar entered the tailor shop of Stanley Otowchits, 267 Auburn st., Auburndale, at 10 o'clock Saturday night after breaking a pane of glass in the front door. A woman who lives nearby was walking past the shop and saw the burglar break the window. She hurried to her home and phoned the police. Serg. Bannon and a squad of police soon arrived at the shop, but the burglar had become frightened and fled. He had gathered some clothes at the rear of the store, but had taken nothing.

WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

In Front of the Microphone

The first part of Warren's assembly last week was dedicated to the newly elected seventh grade officers. After the usual ceremony in which they received their symbols of office the assembly was turned over to Jack Butler, chairman of home room 206.

Their program was a take-off on radio land. Piano solos were played by Myrtle Gale, John Foristall, and Eleanor Ainslie. The curtain was then drawn back and a play was presented by members of the Transmitter staff and home room 206. It showed what took place in a radio studio and various improvised mechanisms which make the sound effects.

On March 8, the Weeks and Warren varities clashed in two close games at Warren. Nancy Durbin, Florence Boudreau, Hildith Shaw, and Mary Medlicott played exceptionally well on the Warren varsity and all teams showed fine sportsmanship. The first team of Warren won over its opponents 16-14. The second Warren team lost to Weeks 17-16.

Again "The Transmitter," the Warren magazine, has received a second prize in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Competition, which was held in New York on March 8. There were more than 600 magazines and newspapers entered in the competition representing schools from the entire country, Alaska and Hawaii.

FRANK A. DAY SCHOOL NEWS

A committee of ninth graders from the Library Club paid a visit to the library of the Warren Junior High School. The club representatives were Lena Colella, Lena Cola, Florence Lanno, John Rogers, Joseph Francis and Parker Leavitt.

Winona Starbird, William Newson, Betty Campbell, Paul McGrath, Oscar Cornejo accompanied Mr. R. V. Burkhard on a trip to the Waltham News Tribune. This is part of the new policy of putting school publicity in the hands of the pupils.

The members of the Day faculty defeated the members of the Weeks faculty in a basketball game last week to the tune of 38 to 27. The game was one of the hardest fought on the Day court for some time. At half time the Weeks led 14 to 13, but Day came back strong in the last two periods to roll up a decisive margin. Mr. Byron Tanner and Mr. Alden Read starred for the home team, scoring 13 and 12 points respectively. Mr. Radcliffe Morrill starred for the visitors.

Mr. Cronan of the Newton Library is always a welcome visitor at the Day, and the pupils especially enjoyed the assembly on Wednesday at which he told stories.

The Eighth Grade Dramatic Club is studying the play, "Our Aunt from California," which they hope to give in assembly some time.

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

The Weeks Players, one of the dramatic clubs, presented the play, "False Pretenses," at the Wednesday assembly. The characters were introduced to the audience by Lucille Rudinsky, William Copeland, Robert Bishop, George Adcock, Benjamin Mason, and Tom Cox were the boys who tricked the girls into contributing money for flowers for a classmate who was ill. The boys planned to use this money for sporting equipment.

The girls who were able "to turn the tables" and play a fine joke on the boys were: Caroline Marston, Marjorie Cohen, Anne Hitchcock, Shirley Cline, and Louise LuPriore. Alan Drew played the part of Ted.

At the last meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association, numerals were awarded to the members of the champion teams. They were: ninth grade, 3190; eighth grade, 214; seventh grade, 210. A group of members furnished a short entertainment in the form of a pantomime.

Two members of the eighth grade, Tom Cox and Alan Drew, played a mode of a farming scene in connection with their General Language course. Every part of the display is labeled with the proper Latin name. Many other pupils have contributed posters which explain rules of the language by illustrations.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Varsity vs. Faculty

The most interesting and exciting basketball game of the season was witnessed in the gymnasium on March 9. Playing against the varsity was a faculty team of four teachers from our school, one from the high school and two from other junior high schools in the city. Shouts, shrieks and groans greeted the players as their balls neatly fell through the baskets. The final score was 29-28 in favor of the faculty.

School Assembly

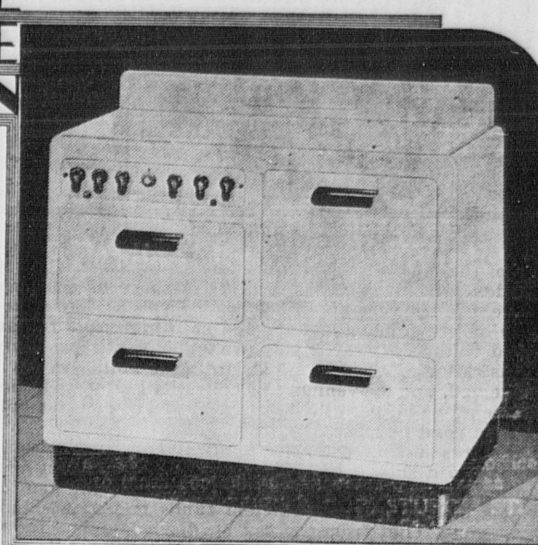

Friday morning, March 10, the entire school assembled in the auditorium where a most interesting program was presented in charge of Miss Rix. Miss Bennett from the Metropolitan Ice Company showed an interesting film entitled the Romance of Ice. In a brief talk Miss Bennett revealed many occasions in history where ice had been used as well as telling how essential it is today in the preservation and refrigeration of perishable foods. The motion picture also illustrated the mechanism and functioning of the modern ice refrigerator.

A program especially interesting to the children was given in the hall last Tuesday. Mr. Donald Bain and an assistant, Miss Mary Barnes, gave a show called "A Trip to the Farm." Mr. Bain who has given bird calls in many "movies," imitated all the animals on the farm: chickens, hens, roosters, pigs, cows and dogs. He also had many beautiful stereoscopic pictures of birds, and while his assistant reeled them off, he imitated their songs. To complete his entertainment, he imitated most of the band instruments.

CULTURAL VALUES MUST NOT BE LOST

Cultural values in education must not be lost because of the depression, declared Dr. Edward Howard Griggs in opening his Read Fund lecture course at the Underwood School Auditorium last Friday evening. Beauty, love and wisdom enable us to live. All must see to it that we carry forward our cultural activities during this crisis.

Dr. Griggs outlined his general subject, "The Problems of Life," by explaining that, in any balanced life, work, love, culture and religion must each have their proper place. These are the means through which man has climbed to his present attainments, and if fear is gone from religion, reverence must take its place.

The following are a few of the many gems of thought for which the speaker seemed to draw from a rich and mature philosophical background: "The problems of personal living are the most important and absorbing of the lives." "We can only discover what ought to be by a study of what is." "The chief obstacle to an appreciation of life is the low view we take of personal life." "Whole truths never scintillate; it is only half truths." "He who sees without loving is only straining his eyes in the dark." "What we achieve in the relations of life depends upon culture." "Our religion is the base upon which we build."

Dr. Griggs' subject this evening will be "Culture and Service Through Vocation," and next Friday evening it will be "The Problems of Personal Relationships: Love, Friendship and Marriage."

M. C. O. F.

District No. 14, M. C. O. F., composed of Courts in the Newtons, Waverly, Belmont, Waltham, Wayland and Concord are taking an active interest in the coming "State-wide Membership Drive" sponsored by High Chief Ranger, Mrs. Helena M. Galvin. District Deputy High Chief Ranger-at-Large Thomas F. Fitzgerald, is personally directing the assignments from the General Committee for the visitations to the various Courts in the District. The General Committee for the drive will hold its next meeting at A. D. H. Hall, Washington and Cherry streets, West Newton, on Monday evening, March 13, as the guests of Chief Ranger, Miss Mary Keefe of St. Bernard Court.

Rev. William Clancy, Retreat Director of St. Francis Friary, Brookline, addressed the members of the Newton Kwanian Club at the noon meeting held on Tuesday, March 14, at the Charles River Country Club.

Fr. Clancy chose a timely subject, "St. Patrick, the patron of Ireland." He discussed chiefly the missionary life of St. Patrick with its many hardships and trials, the miracles performed through his intercession, the condition of the country at the time he began his work there, and the effects of his teachings on the Irish Race. "The spread of culture throughout Ireland is directly attributable to St. Patrick's labors there," stated Fr. Clancy.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The March meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter was held on Tuesday, the fourteenth, at the home of Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., 6 Willard st. The committee chairmen for the coming year were announced as follows: War Veteran Work, Miss Beatrice Eastman; Entertainment, Mrs. Walter T. MacAdam; Americanization Work, Mrs. John Stearns; Ways and Means, Mrs. Roswell Furnam; and Chairman of the Flag, Mrs. Ernest J. McKenna. The telephone secretaries were also announced: Mrs. Philip Horne, Mrs. Thomas Cleveland and Mrs. Raymond Lehrer.

Another bridge party will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest McKenna, 693 Centre st., Newton, on March 24, at 2 p. m.

It was learned that at the last meeting of the State Society the Nathan Fuller Chapter was presented with the "Visiting Gavel," which is awarded to the chapter obtaining the most members during the year. This gavel is made from the wood taken from old Faneuil Hall and this is the second time it has been awarded.

At the close of the business meeting Mr. Abraham Vesseli spoke to us about the work that the Morgan Memorial so ably carries on in an industrial, social and religious way and urged us to give our support.

During the social hour following the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Stanley Clark and Mrs. Seth Tucker.

DIVERTING GAS TAX RECEIPTS

One of the most discussed questions of taxation is the growing tendency in many states to divert a share of gasoline and motor vehicle tax receipts to non-road purposes. Levied for the purpose of providing adequate and safe highways for an anticipated volume of traffic this particular tax is probably the best illustration of a tax levied according to ability to pay, benefits received, and convenience of collection. But its basic purpose is being violated in the attempt to divert such receipts for other than road purposes.

At the present time extensive highway construction is a non-essential and it should be limited to finishing connecting links and other needed work. Under this program if the gas tax receipts more than provide sufficient funds motorists should be allowed some relief from the tax burden through a reduction in the amount of tax. Under no considerations should the gas tax be increased.

Another angle to the gas tax diversion question brings the matter of Federal highway aid into the picture. This aid, granted by the government, is offered largely for the purpose of promoting inter-state commerce. Should any state divert some of its gas tax receipts for non-road purposes it is almost an admission that Federal highway aid is not needed. It is within the realm of possibility that the government might well refuse further highway aid to such states. Such aid, in modification, is desirable from many angles.

The diversion of gas tax receipts imposes an inequitable distribution of taxes upon the taxpayers. The motorist pays his share of taxes for general purposes as does the non-motorist. The motorist in addition pays his gas and other motor vehicle tax, which the non-motorist does not. To take part of these receipts for general purposes makes the motorist pay a greater share of taxes than he should.

Increased motorist taxes and diversion of such receipts for non-road purposes should be strenuously opposed.

ANOTHER NEWTON APPOINTMENT

Once again Gov. Ely selects a Newton man for an important post. We refer to the appointment of Brig.-Gen. Daniel H. Needham of Newtonville as Commissioner of Public Safety. Although the appointment is expected to be but a temporary one Gen. Needham will have the important task of reorganizing the State Police. The recent extensive investigation in the affairs of this organization disclosed the need for a thorough "house cleaning." It has been intimated that when the rehabilitation has been accomplished Gen. Needham will return to his private law practice and the permanent appointment will go to a Democrat, giving rise to the criticism that the Governor is perhaps playing politics. Apart from this aspect we believe that the Governor has made an admirable choice. Gen. Needham has the ability and integrity to perform a public service without the pressure of outside influences which are often a handicap.

The retirement of Dr. Arthur Hudson the first of the year and the question of his eligibility for a pension under the contributory system is one which deserves sympathetic understanding. Dr. Hudson, who had been in the employ of the city as milk inspector for over 40 years, should be entitled to every consideration. We trust that the city will speedily grant the small pension to which this esteemed citizen and public benefactor should be legally entitled.

MRS. MARTHA MCPHEE

Mrs. Martha McPhee of 51 Jackson rd., Newton died on March 11. She was the widow of James McPhee, and she was born 73 years ago at Salmon Bay, New Brunswick. She had resided in this city for 50 years. Her funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at North Congregational Church, Nonantum, of which she had been an active member for many years. Rev. Everett Bachelder officiated assisted by Rev. Henry Oxenard of Southboro. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mrs. McPhee is survived by four sons—Clement of Cranston, R. I.; Wilbur of Ann Arbor, Michigan; Douglas and James of Wenatchee, Washington.

RICHARD H. PIERCE

Richard H. Pierce of 462 Walnut st., Newtonville died on March 10. He was born at Woonsocket, Rhode Island 72 years ago; graduated from Yale in 1882 and from M. I. T. in 1885. He became an electrical engineer and was in charge of the illumination of the Chicago World's Fair in 1893. He later became engaged in the real estate business at Boston and was treasurer of the Atlantic Rope and Line Company. He is survived by a son, Richard Pierce of Santa Barbara, California. His funeral service will be held at his late home tomorrow, March 18 at 2:30.

HERBERT R. BARNEY

Mr. Herbert R. Barney of 163 Elliot street died at Medford State Hospital on Sunday, March 12. Mr. Barney was born in Newton Upper Falls 73 years ago and had been a lifelong resident of the village. Funeral services were held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel on Tuesday, March 14, at 3:30 P. M. with Rev. Laurence W. C. Emig of the Newtonville M. E. Church officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Newton Cemetery.

MRS. CLAUDINE C. HOFFMAN

Mrs. Claudine C. Hoffman of 1601 Centre st., Newton Highlands died on March 11. She was the widow of Herman Hoffman. Mrs. Hoffman was born in Dedham 63 years ago and had lived in this city for 10 years. Her funeral service was held Tuesday at Mount Auburn Cemetery chapel. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan officiated. She is survived by two sons—Herman R. Hoffman, with whom she resided; and Chester K. Hoffman of Danville, New York.

REV. CHARLES A. REESE

The Rev. Charles A. Reese, formerly of Newton Highlands, died March 7 at his home 56 Greenough street, Brookline. Funeral services were conducted at Forest Hills Cemetery by Pres. Everett C. Herrick of Andover Newton Theological Seminary.

Mr. Reese was born in Delavan, Ill., in 1852, was graduated from Brown University in 1875 and from Newton Theological Institution three years later.

His pastorates were in Boston, Rutland, Vt., Minneapolis, Minn., Lawrence, and Milford, N. H. He also served the Newton Theological Seminary in an official capacity for ten years and was a resident of Newton Highlands during that time.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Angenette Thinkham Reese and six children. Dr. Charles A. Reese of Pau, France, Daniel H. Reese of New York City, Anthony Reese of Pittsfield, Alice Reese of Brookline, Cornelia Reese of New Haven, Conn., and Jordan B. Reese of Milwaukee, Wis., also five grandchildren.

WILLIAM H. EMERSON

William H. Emerson died at his home, 339 Lowell avenue, on March 16. He was born in Charlestown 79 years ago. For many years he resided on Hovey st., Newton, and his summer home was at Scituate. He had been engaged in the shoe business in Boston as a member of the firm of W. D. Brackett & Company. He was a member of the Ancient & Honorable Artillery, the Huxwell Club of Newton and the Hatheway Country Club. He is survived by his widow, who was Emma Graves of Newton; a daughter, Mrs. William Carlisle; and two sons, H. Bigelow Emerson, and Edward F. Emerson, all of Newtonville. The funeral service will be private.

LEON BURNHAM

Leon Burnham died on March 13 at 4 Eden ave., West Newton. He was born at Westbrook, Maine 76 years ago and had resided in this city for 32 years. He had been engaged in the grocery business for many years and was formerly a member of the firm of Prescott & Burnham at West Newton. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. D. Webster Anders of 4 Eden ave. His funeral service was held at his late home on Wednesday, Rev. Newton Merritt, Jr. of Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

HEALTH EDUCATION (Number 5)

Health Teaching in Process

Because health touches life at every point it cannot be taught at a stated time of the day or a certain day in the week except as we seek to teach definite health knowledge. The approach to health activities may be thru personal experiences in the life of the child. Drawing, language, penmanship, spelling, reading and arithmetic for example may have their content greatly enriched by the inclusion of health experiences. In the junior high schools general science, mathematics, social studies and home economics make valuable contributions to the study of community and personal health problems.

Health Examinations and Follow-up Work

A yearly health examination is required by law for all school children. This examination in Newton is under the direction of the Board of Health. Four physicians assigned by the Board of Health examine all the elementary school children and those in the junior high schools. This examination is attended not only by the examining physician, but by the school nurse, the physical education supervisor and the classroom teacher, in order that they may learn at first hand the physical condition of the children under their care. Parents are always welcomed at these examinations. Children who are to have their first examination are carefully prepared for it by the teachers so that they come ready and interested instead of with dread.

In the fall of 1930, 7679 children were examined in the elementary and junior high schools of this city. At that time 472 had defects serious enough for notifications to be sent to the parents. Two years later in the fall of 1932, 838 children of the same grades were examined. Of these only 184 were found to have defects concerning which parents were notified. Thru the efforts of the parents, co-operating with school nurses and teachers, many of these defects are cleared up so that the child may be free to gain. Great care is taken that no child be made self-conscious or unhappy. Parents, physicians, nurses and teachers co-operate in the follow-up work that the children may gain better health and happiness.

Child Health Day

The annual celebration of Child Health Day is of prime importance in the community and school health program. Its great value lies in the fact that it demonstrates the culmination of the year's work in individual and community achievement. It furnishes an incentive for the correction of all remediable defects and the attainment of physical fitness. It pays recognition to the co-operative accomplishments of home, school, and community, of the parents, the physicians, the dentists, the teachers and the children themselves. It is a time for measuring the results of the past and for stimulating the work of the future. The day is one of fun and frolic. It celebrates the accomplishment of the preceding year and is not a program of the "show" variety. The best type of Child Health Day program is that in which there is active participation by parents and all other public-spirited citizens in the community. This Child Health Recognition Day originated here in Newton and is now used officially by the State Division of Child Hygiene throughout the State. The health achievements especially recognized are: 1. Clean teeth, all cavities filled. 2. Improvement in posture, weight or health habits. 3. The absence of physical defects, having had all known defects corrected. Careful attention is given to the mental hygiene of the children in the awarding of the badges according to these stated requirements. No child is without some recognition. These tangible rewards serve but a temporary purpose and have no lasting influence. The consciousness of improved physical accomplishments brings its own satisfactions and rewards. The happy faces of our children on their Health Recognition Day, as they gather in assembly halls, on the playgrounds or in the parks, is a picture that long lingers as a happy memory.

Under The Gilded Dome

The Governor's Council on Wednesday confirmed the appointment of Brig. Gen. Daniel H. Needham of Newtonville as Commissioner of the Department of Public Safety. The confirmation of the appointment which had been made by the Governor was put through under a suspension of the rules which otherwise would have meant at least a week's postponement. Following the action of the council Gen. Needham was then sworn in. The new commissioner succeeds Lt. Gen. Alfred F. Fox as a result of the retirement recently of the latter. The extensive investigations into the affairs of the department recently. Gen. Needham has been associated with Brig.-Gen. John H. Sherburne and Walter Powers in the law firm of Sherburne, Powers and Needham. When Governor Ely offered the Newton man the appointment he at first demurred because of his extensive law practice but finally accepted. It is understood that Gen. Needham has been appointed to "clean house" in the department and that after he has completed this task he will return to his law practice and another commissioner appointed. In this connection Adm. Gen. John H. Agnew is believed to be the man whom Governor Ely has in mind. The task of reorganizing and rehabilitating the department of Public Safety is expected to take from six months to a year and another commissioner will develop full time to the problems to be solved, having resigned as a member of his law firm.

A bill making appropriations for the employment of additional persons as a measure of relief during the present unemployment emergency was debated in the House on Tuesday. The measure, which was reported out of Ways and Means with four of the Republican members dissenting, provides a total appropriation of $275,000 of which $200,000 will be taken out of the general fund and $75,000 out of the Metropolitan District fund. The latter will be used for cutting brush, clearing and other work in connection with the maintenance of park cities and towns of the district. The $200,000 will be expended by three different departments, $75,000 to the Department of Conservation for reforestation work, $75,000 to the Department of Agriculture for mosquito control work, and $50,000 to the Department of Public Works for removing abandoned hulks or wrecks along the Boston Harbor waterfront. The House voted, on a roll-call, in favor of the appropriations, 148 to 80. Opponents of the bill argued that it was "pork-barrel" legislation and that it would be of little benefit in relieving unemployment. Many of those who favored the measure felt that where communities found it impossible to find work for welfare recipients that if the State could provide work that it should. Newton's representatives split on the measure with Representatives Baker and Brimblecom voting in favor of the bill and

Rep. Luitwieler voting in opposition.

On Monday the House adopted an amendment to a bill reported and passed in the Senate increasing the amount of local taxes exempt from penalty interest. The Senate had passed a measure raising the amount of exemption from two hundred dollars to three hundred. Representative Otis of Pittsfield offered an amendment reducing the rate of interest on taxes unpaid from six per cent to five per cent. After debate a roll-call vote of 144 to 74, with Newton's three representatives voting against the amendment, accepted the amendment. On Tuesday the Committee on Bills in the House reported back on the measure, the question coming on passing the bill to be engrossed. Representative Clarkson of Worcester offered an amendment eliminating the two per cent additional penalty interest levied after tax bills are unpaid for three months, for the next two years. The amendment was rejected and the bill passed to be engrossed. It has been returned to the Senate for concurrence on the Otis amendment.

Another measure before the House on Monday which was debated at considerable length was a bill setting up a State fund for compensating employees injured in industrial accidents. This measure in effect would put the State into the business of handling Workmen's Compensation insurance. The Committee on Judiciary had reported leave to withdraw on the measure and the motion to substitute the bill for the report was made. After debate a motion to recommit the bill was made and on a roll-call of 144 to 74, with Newton's three representatives voting against recommitment.

Yesterday afternoon the House overrode the Governor's veto of a bill advancing the date of the city primaries to Medford a week so that three weeks will elapse before the city election, giving the city clerk and other officials more time to prepare for the election. The vote was 174 to 42. It was the first veto by the Governor that has been overridden in either branch.

The 1933 Legislature is running somewhat behind its pace of the last two years, with but 41 1/2 per cent of the number of matters reported in nine and a half weeks as against 61 per cent in the same time last year and 49 1/2 per cent two years ago. Last Monday 1479 matters had been assigned for hearings, with 691 of these having been reported. There are 676 matters which have been heard and await executive action, with 112 assigned for future hearings and 179 remaining unsigned. Of this latter number 97 are in the Ways and Means Committee, which has under consideration the budget. It is expected that the Committee may begin its budget reports next week. One of the first budget matters which will be discussed will be that pertaining to salaries.

By L. D. G. Bentley

One of the several good things that has come out of the big bump is the moratorium on criticism of public officials. These latter, no doubt, would like to see it made everlasting.

Oddments

In order to add a lustre of importance to that which is actually trivial one need only remind his hearers at the beginning, "Now you needn't believe this if you don't want to, but..." To me such a preliminary observation often places a mark of doubt on that which follows. Nevertheless, I am prepared to take oath and affirm that I was asked by a kindly but humble citizen, "What do think of this bank auditorium?" Hear! hear!

Somewhat the first crocuses blooming outdoors make one think of the buds that go with Spring's earliest days. At least, I have one of those minds (call them odd if you will) that recalls verses beginning, "Hey, nonny, nonny," and similar rhyming trifles. I can be serious, too, but not when the sun is shining brightest on grass that responds with a glow of promised verdure. If giddiness is excusable now is the time.

So much has been written and said of the driving of trucks that anything additional offered should have a new angle. The angle I have in mind is that at which trucks are often stopped by drivers on public thoroughfares traversed by street railway lines. The truck drivers appear to enjoy getting as near the rails as possible and watching the motorman stop, stick his head out and estimate the amount of space between the two vehicles and then, by fits and starts, see if he can get his car by without scraping off any paint. These tight squeezes are becoming so common that a trip on the trolleys seems incomplete without one.

The Overlooked Man

The "Forgotten Man," although he has not been referred to in these columns, has not been forgotten. He has merely been overlooked. It has been my intention to wait until I found the right individual upon whom the title may be imposed without protest. I believe there will be no dispute when I nominate the man, or woman, responsible for the staging of the average amateur dramatic production. How little you hear about him and his success, or hers, either!

The stage manager is one of the most important features and the smoother the performance the lesser the attention paid to the person who really puts the show on. Of course if there are long waits between acts and the scenery is set askew or a flat falls over or the drapery drops on a performer's head—then there is much laughter, if not applause, clumsiness never fails to amuse.

Upon the shoulders of a genuine stage manager rests not only the arrangement of the scenery but of the furniture, decorations and properties. The distinction between stage props and hand props is this. All furniture, telephones, trunks, boxes, rugs, pictures, clocks and what-have-you which remain on stage throughout an act must be placed there by the stage manager or under his direction. They are stage props. The letters, canes, swords, cigarette cases, bottles, tableware, etc. are handled by the property man off stage. They are hand props. The property man is under the stage manager's supervision although accountable himself for prompt delivery to performers of the things they use during the action of the piece.

Now, you who sit out front are hereby urged to remember in the future the patient, hard-working and thoughtful person or persons who make the stage attractive and furnish an appropriate or perhaps an elaborate setting. No hand-clapping is ever bestowed upon them. Their names may be on the program but nobody speaks in enthusiastic terms of the results they have accomplished. The play may be said to be "practically professional" but all that glory is intended for the actors.

Until you have served a long time in the presentation of productions either by home talent or paid, you really don't appreciate what running the stage means. Hours after rehearsal are over the stage manager and his crew must work on the setting. They may have to build stairs and off-stage platforms to represent the floors of a house. There is no limit to what is expected of them. They work in old clothes while the performers take it easy. Back-stage workers do their stuff for love of the art. And it is an art to stage a show, fully as much as it is to act it. Maybe you'd like to applaud them even if no chance is offered. At least you remember them.

It Happened in Newton

It was a sort of "private musicale," if that doesn't strike you as peculiar. There was a crowd of at least 40, which makes it large enough to be called a musicale. Since our host and hostess had invited each of us through the informality of the telephone, it was more or less private.

The real object of the gathering was to meet a young man with a voice that may bring him fame and fortune. You never can tell about that! At least, I don't feel that I am qualified to select from a class of beginners the one or more destined for success.

This is all beside the point. Here we were and there they were—"they" I mean the artists. Among these were two young women, a singer and her accompanist. To my untrained ear they were not so hot. Even I could see that the singer was pursuing her own way and the accompanist hers and that they were some distance apart.

Silently I contemplated the situation until interrupted by a critical woman of middle-age who turned to me and, with considerable acidity in her tone, observed, "I had always supposed those young ladies were friends."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Matter" is the subject of the Lenten sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ Scientist on Sunday, March 19. Golden Text: "O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name." Isa. 26:13.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson sermon are the following: "And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity and was bowed together, and could in no way lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her he called her to him and said unto her, 'Woman, thou art loosed from thy infirmity.' Then he laid his hands on her and she was made straight and glorified God." Luke 13: 11-13.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

State Federation

MUSIC CONFERENCE. The attractive feature in the near future in State Federation activities is the Music Conference to be held Thursday, March 30th, at Hotel Bradford, Boston, opening at 10:30 a. m., under the auspices of the Music division, of which Mrs. George F. Schroeder is chairman. Speakers will include Sherman K. Smith, voice scientist, on the topic "Voice a Golden Gift"; George Kraska, director of Fine Arts Theatre, Boston, on "Music in the Classroom"; and Prof. John P. Marshall, dean of the College of Music of Boston University. A pleasing musical program is also planned, Christine Russum, flutist; Richard Moulton, pianist; the Candlelight Trio, in Colonial setting and costume; and a Junior orchestra.

Reservations for luncheon in the Cascade Restaurant atop the Bradford, at 75 cents and 50 cents, should be made immediately with Mrs. Ethel C. Park, 441 Washington street, Brookline, tel. Aspinwall 6630.

RADIO. On March 25th, over WBZ at 11:30 o'clock, for the Federation half-hour program, Mrs. I. William Crowell will speak on "The Promise of the Future—Juniors"; Mrs. Elliot R. Scudder, president of the Philanthropists, will speak on "Contributing Factors for Enthusiasm"; and the West Roxbury Woman's Club, directed by Mrs. W. W. Shields, will furnish music. Mrs. George E. Benson, director of the Eleventh district, is the director in rotation.

Tomorrow, the 18th, Miss Mary Driscoll speaks to the topic "Reclaiming the Slums", and music will be provided by a Choral Group, directed by Mrs. W. H. Caudill.

PRIZE ESSAYS. Announcement has been made from Mothercraft Headquarters, 180 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, that the prizes for the best Mothercraft essays written by Massachusetts school girls will be awarded at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, at Swampscott, next May. Mrs. C. B. Elder of 39 Amity street, Amherst, chairman of the prize awarding committee, has invited every Mothercraft Class in the State to compete in the contest and to submit essays.

This year prizes of gold pieces will be given: a five-dollar gold piece first prize; and a two and a half-dollar gold piece for second prize.

Assisting Mrs. Elder is a committee consisting of Mrs. Sidney A. Clark of Northampton, and Mrs. C. M. Harris of Auburn, and judges will be Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, and Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, State Federation officers.

Waban Woman's Club

"Famous Paintings," an illustrated lecture by Henry Warren Poor, will be given at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, March 20th. Mr. Poor, an artist, author and world traveler, has an international reputation as a lecturer. His beautifully-colored slides portray each picture in true colors, and he answers the questions: "Where Is It?" "Who Painted It?" and "Why Is It Famous?" a most satisfactory summary of vital information.

Following the program tea will be served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Carl F. Danner and Mrs. Raymond E. Ashley are the hostesses of the afternoon.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The International committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announces an International Supper Discussion to be held on Monday evening, March 20th, at 6:30 p. m. Mr. Raymond Rich, of the World's Peace Foundation, will be the speaker, and his subject, "Foreign Affairs Under President Roosevelt." Tickets are 65 cents.

The Literature committee of the Club will hold the last of a season's Literature Lectures, that have proved a popular feature, on Tuesday morning the 21st, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Miriam France Skirball, well known throughout Newton as an authority on Book Reviews, is the lecturer.

Mrs. Caroline Bixby will give her third Cooking Lecture on Wednesday, the 22nd, at 9:30 a. m. Single lecture fee is 35 cents.

The Ways and Means committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold a "Picnic" Bridge at the Club House on Friday afternoon, March 24th, at 2 p. m. Each table hostess is asked to bring her own card table, cards, and sandwiches. Tea will be served. All interested may call Mrs. George E. Squier (tel. C. N. 3618), for reservations at 50 cents per person.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Major Thomas Coulson, author of the noted war-time story, "Mata Hari" will lecture on "Famous Women Spies" at the Newtonville Woman's Club House on Tuesday afternoon, March 21st, at 2:30 o'clock.

Major Coulson is known for his splendid services performed for the British Government during the war and for his knowledge of the present espionage system that is carried on by foreign powers. His lecture promises to be one of great interest, as Major Coulson is a traveler of note and an accomplished lecturer.

One of the outstanding April events that is being planned by the Ways and Means committee, is a Children's Party. This will be given on Saturday, April 1st, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Club House. Great fun is in store for the children. The tickets are 25 cents each, and may be procured now from either Mrs. Frederick A. Tennant, N. N. 1146, or Mrs. Harold W. Shedd, N. N. 7935.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Major Thomas Coulson, an officer of the British Military Intelligence will lecture on "Women Spies and Their Methods," at the Annual Guest Night of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, on Tuesday, March 21st, at 8 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House.

Mr. Emory Leonard, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred L. Reidy, will give a group of violin numbers.

The regular tickets will admit a Club member with one guest.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet on Wednesday, March 22nd, in the Channing Church Parlor. Mrs. T. Porter Russell will read a paper on "The Challenge To The Old Order in Russia." The hostesses will be Mrs. Irving U. Townsend and Mrs. Franklin E. Smith.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday afternoon, March 23rd the Newton Community Club will have for its speaker Mr. Percy A. Brigham. His subject will be "Flower Folk of New England."

Mr. Brigham has spent years collecting views of beautiful New England, and he portrays it with a marvelous fidelity, and brings cherished scenes, and the charm of many pleasant memories.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The program of the next regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, March 24th, will include a Boston Herald Travelogue, and A Trip on a United Fruit.

The date of "Home Talent Day," scheduled for April 14th, has been changed to April 7th.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"On the Air by WEET" was the subject of the lecture given by Miss Sarah Harding Hunter, of the Edison Electric staff, at the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, March 10th. Lantern slides were shown as Miss Hunter reviewed the progress of radio broadcasting from what she termed the 100-watt speed wagon stage to the present 1000-watt station with its control rooms and studios, the walls of which are made of compressed sugarcane blocks for acoustic purposes.

The audience was pleased to see on the screen, the faces of many artists and announcers whose voices have become familiar to them. Much interest was shown in the pictures of the instruments which Mr. Eideout uses to measure sunshine, wind and rain; also, in the collection of peculiar-looking objects used for sound production in connection with broadcast.

Miss Hunter predicts that, in the not far distant future, we shall be watching the progress of television in much the same way that we have witnessed the advance of radio.

Tea was enjoyed at the conclusion of the lecture, Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe and Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer serving as hostesses.

The Bridge Party which was held at the home of Mrs. John B. Shaw of 39 Grove street, Auburndale, on Wednesday, March 8th, was well attended and much enjoyed by the members of the Club and their friends. Its success was due to the efforts of the Scholarship committee, which includes Mrs. Francis E. Nowers, chairman; Mrs. June Chipman, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, Mrs. C. A. Stimets, and Mrs. Shaw. The party was given in the interests of the Scholarship Fund of the Club.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Nancy Byrd Turner, in "A Poet Tells Her Own Tale," gave to the women of the Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 7th, in the Congregational Parish House, one of the happiest, most humorous, and wittiest talks of the year. Commencing with poems written at the age of eight years, Miss Turner gave a short sketch of her early career, and read many of her compositions.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday, March 21st, Mrs. John E. Williams of 152 Grove street, will be hostess for the regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club. Mrs. Rogers will review Alice Brown's "Kingdom of the Sky"; Mrs. Austin H. Eton will review "Greater America," by Wallace Thompson; and Mrs. Franklin E. Leland will take the place of Mrs. George P. Knapp, who is ill, telling about "Modern South America," by C. W. Domville Fife.

Newton Community Club

Dramatics Day on Thursday, March 9th, proved to be a most enjoyable affair, and marked one of the great successes of the Newton Community Club's activities.

At 2:30 o'clock there was a brief business meeting at which the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, presided.

There followed a short and excellent program of music given by Mr. Oliver Daniel of Boston, a pupil of Brandon Keenan. Mr. Daniel played in a most masterful way the Children's Sketches, by Robert Schuman; also the latest composition of Tcherpnin, which was the first time it had been played in public.

The play "Her First Assignment," written by Gladys Bridgman, was presented by Mrs. George Pratt Maxim, chairman of the Dramatic Committee.

The cast was composed entirely of Club members, some of whom admitted that it was their first appearance in a play.

The performance was well done and afforded excellent entertainment. Great credit is due the chairman who was the coach, as well as to those in the cast, for a most successful achievement.

Members of the cast were: Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, Mrs. Albert A. Schaaf, Mrs. Clarence H. Spike, Mrs. Kendall A. Woodrough, Mrs. Elwood A. Howe, Mrs. Marguerite H. Tyler, Mrs. Harry L. Welen, Mrs. David Black, Mrs. Kenneth Backman, and Mrs. John X. Nolan.

Tea was served by the Social committee, Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson chairman.

The pourers were Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Frederick W. Webber, and Mrs. Florence G. Morse.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Allan McIntosh, president of the Shakespeare Club, entertained the members at her home on Saturday, the 11th.

The program for the afternoon, Review of Julius Caesar, was arranged by Mrs. T. S. Keith, who, due to illness, was unable to be present; therefore, Mrs. McIntosh conducted.

The development and ultimate end of the character, Caesar Brutus, Cassius and Antony, and the explanation why Brutus and the other conspirators failed in their great object, after they had been successful in killing Caesar, was admirably drawn. The description of Roman life and politics at this time, and the comparison of the two Roman historical dramas, "Julius Caesar" and "Antony and Cleopatra," were portrayed most interestingly.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Edward B. Gray and Mrs. Harold Barnes gave the highlights of the State Federation Youth Conference at the business meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Tuesday, March 14th.

For the program following Mrs. Dana Kendall sang a group of songs, and Mr. Leonard Craske showed pictures of the making of a statue from the first model to the finished product. Among the interesting presentations were pictures and explanations of the growth of his "Gloucester Fisherman," "World War Memorial," "The Long Memorial" and "The Joy of Living."

Newton Federation

The question as to whether or not it is wise for groups sponsoring the sale of Health Christmas Seals for anti-tuberculosis work to join with the local Community Chests was the subject for discussion at the joint meeting of the Health committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau and the Christmas Seal Sale committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, held March 8th, at the Community Welfare House, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, with Dr. Cecil Clark, chairman of the Health committee, presiding.

Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, president of the Newton Federation, asked that the Federation's manner of raising money by the sale of seals be considered from all viewpoints to determine the advisability of changing or continuing its methods.

Mrs. Charles A. Riley, for the past three years chairman of this work in the Federation, showed a graph indicating comparative amounts realized for the past eleven years. By this, 1925, when the sales netted $8,796 showed the best return. From the last campaign, notwithstanding economic conditions, the collections were $6,737 over $14,000 of this amount being available for Newton's use in the prevention of tuberculosis, the money being spent by the Welfare Bureau under the direction and supervision of the Health Committee.

Mr. Frank Kiernan, of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, complimented the Women's Clubs upon their fine work in raising the money, and said that Newton called for but little of his attention in managing the campaign, as it raises as high a rate per capita as any community in the United States. He stressed the point that the Seal Sale is much more than a method of raising money; it is an instrument of education, and recognized by the medical profession as being contributory to the lowering of the death rate from tuberculosis, as it keeps the preventive angle constantly before the public, and also is responsible for a national feeling of good-will.

Dr. Philip P. Jacobs, of the National Anti-Tuberculosis League, talked more particularly of the League's experience in cases where it had become affiliated with Community Chest programs, and stated it as his opinion, after twelve years' experience, that tuberculosis associations function more efficiently when separate from the Chests and vice versa. In summarizing Dr. Jacobs recommended that the Seal Sale keep its own identity.

No action was taken in regard to the campaign for the Sale of Health Seals in Newton, it being understood that the meeting was called for discussion only.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex, ss.

RESPECTFULLY libels and represents Laura Saltzman of Newton in the County of Middlesex that she was lawfully married to Archibald Hazelwood Saltzman now a party unknown to your petitioner at Middlebury in the Province of Nova Scotia on the twelfth day of February A.D. 1919, and thereafter your libellant and said libellee lived together as husband and wife and last lived together at Bridgetown in said Province of Nova Scotia, the said libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said libellee being wholly irresponsible of the same, at said Bridgetown on or about May 1, 1920 utterly deserted your libellant which utter desertion has continued at all times up to the date of the filing of this libel; that there has been born to them one child who is living and is a minor whose name and date of birth are as follows:

Evelyn Louise Saltzman born November 21, 1921.
Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony be decreed; and that the care and custody of said minor child be given to your libellant in absolute further and separate of that she has lived in said Newton continuously for more than five (5) years and that your libellant has no previous libel for divorce, or petition for nullity, or petition for separate support, and that she is brought by either of the parties to this libel.

Dated this twenty-first day of February A.D. 1933.

LAURA SALTZMAN.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Upon the foregoing libel, ordered, that the said libellant give notice to said Archibald Hazelwood Saltzman by causing a copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton in the County of Middlesex, once a week, for three successive weeks, the last publication to be four days at least before said Court, within the County of Middlesex, on the tenth day of April A.D. 1933, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this first day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.
LORING P. JORDAN, Register.

Attest:

Girl Scouts

The Newton Girl Scouts had a prominent part in the State Review which was held at the Boston Arena on Saturday afternoon of last week. The review was in the form of a Polar Carnival and the entire program took place on the ice.

The Newton Bugle and Drum Corps opened the affair by arriving at the North Pole on skates. They made a very lovely picture as they came on to the Arena floor in green uniforms with their bright red ties and socks to match. The music was stirring and in perfect rhythm. Elizabeth Barba, the Drum Major, brought them through a very effective formation and then led them in a novel skating feature — the Corps playing all the while.

Newton had a large delegation of girls who viewed this interesting event and many of the officers held positions of responsibility.

The regular meeting of the Officers' Association was held at Scout Headquarters the middle of the week. Mrs. Sally MacMahon, Vice President of the Association, had charge of the meeting.

On Thursday, the Council had its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Harold Yeames of Arlington spoke to the Council on "Some of the Benefits the Local Council Receives from the National and State Organizations."

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R.

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. held its regular meeting at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls, on Monday of this week.

Miss Enslin Jordan, the historian, read items concerning historical events happening in February and March. "The Haunted House" by MacDowell was played as a piano duet, by Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown and Mrs. Howard Hall. The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. H. O. Stearns of Framingham, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Just Dolls," illustrated by dolls of every size and description, featuring celebrities and periods in history as well as nationalities.

Mrs. Doud of Framingham sang several appropriate songs, accompanied by Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown on the piano.

At the conclusion of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed by all and tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, chairman.

Capt. J. W. Seaver Of Newton Police Dies Suddenly

Had Been Member of Newton Police Force 27 Years

Captain Joseph W. Seaver of the Newton police died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage on Tuesday afternoon, 15 minutes after he had arrived at his home, 199 Concord st., Newton Lower Falls from a 12 days trip to the West Indies with members of Aleppo Temple. He had been in poor health for a considerable period and the cruise was the second he had taken in recent months to recuperate. Mr. Seaver was born 52 years ago in the house where he died. Following his graduation from Newton High School he was employed as a clerk by the Boston & Albany railroad. He entered the Newton police department 27 years ago and in 1917 was promoted to sergeant. He became a Lieutenant in 1926 and in 1930 was advanced to the rank of captain.

He is survived by his widow who was Henrietta Benson; and a son, Herbert J. Seaver who is a marine officer and an Ensign in the Reserve Corps of the United States Navy. He was completing a tour of duty at Norfolk Navy Yard when informed of his father's death.

Captain Seaver was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons of Newtonville, and Abertford Lodge of Boston; St. Andrews Royal Arch Chapter, Gethsemane Commandery, Knights Templar, and Aleppo Temple. His funeral service will be held this afternoon at St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls at 2:30. The services will be conducted by Rev. Guy Miner, rector of the church, and Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Church, Newtonville. Masonic services will be conducted by officers of Dalhousie Lodge. An escort of 50 Newton policemen under Chief Hughes will be present. Committal services at Newton Cemetery will be conducted by Rev. Raymond Lang.

Legion Warns Against Pedlars

The GRAPHIC has received from Newton Post, American Legion a letter calling the attention of this people of Newton to certain individuals who make a practice of coming to this city from other cities to sell artificial flowers on our streets. These men wear caps which resemble the official cap of the American Legion. But, they do not represent the Legion, are not members of Newton Post or residents of this city. It has been reported that some of them have falsely stated they are members of Newton Post. Money given to these men is not used for the relief of Newton veterans. Newton Post finances its welfare work by means of an annual concert, rehearsals for which are now in progress.

Chimney Fire In Business Block

At 9:30 Tuesday night a still alarm was sent in for a chimney fire at the Whitman Block, Centre st., Newton. The aerial ladder on Truck 3 was raised to the roof of the block and the fire extinguished. At 1:30 Tuesday afternoon Hose 6 went to 1704 Beacon st., Waban to put out a chimney fire at the home of William H. Gould.

$150,000 Bond Filed By Parents Of Miss DeRusha

As Administrators of Explosion Victim's Estate

William C. and Mary DeRusha on Wednesday of this week, through their attorney, John C. Madden, filed a petition for administration of the estate of their daughter, Catherine F. DeRusha. The petition was accompanied by a bond for $150,000. Miss DeRusha was crushed under the debris of her home at 862 Walnut st., Newton Centre, about 3 o'clock on the morning of February 16th, when the dwelling was blown to pieces by gas which had escaped from a street main. After frantic efforts had been made to free her, she was burned to death by the flames which consumed the wreckage. The contents of the dwelling were completely destroyed.

Delay Court Action On Police Pay Cut

Court action on the litigation of the Newton police against the salary cut of 7 1/2% made by Mayor Weeks on January 1st, has been indefinitely postponed. On Monday in the Quincy district court a similar case affecting the Milton police was argued before Judge Avery. The selectmen of Milton were represented by Joseph W. Bartlett, City Solicitor of Newton, who will also represent Mayor Weeks in the Newton contest. The attorney for the Milton police was George McLaughlin of Cambridge, who is also counsel for the Newton police. At the hearing before Judge Avery in Quincy, Mr. Bartlett asked that the petition of the Milton police be dismissed. He argued that the district court had no jurisdiction in the matter. He claimed that the selectmen of Milton in reducing the pay of the police of that town follows a general policy and did not reduce the salary of any policeman as an individual. He contended that the civil service law affecting salary reductions deals with individual cases and does not affect reductions made by city or town governments which affect employees in general. Despite Attorney McLaughlin's protest that Mr. Bartlett's contention is at variance with the law, Judge Avery took the matter under advisement and adjourned the case to study the law, as interpreted by Mr. Bartlett. The Newton controversy is postponed, pending the decision of Judge Avery.

Newton Burglary Foiled By Youth

An attempted burglary at the Newton Corner Drug Store, 341 Washington st., Newton, was foiled shortly after midnight Thursday morning, when Seymour McLean, Jr., observed a man about to enter the store after a rear window on Channing st. had been broken. The youth rushed to Newton Corner and informed Patrolman Halloran. When Halloran arrived at the scene the would-be burglar had fled. An automobile was marked on Channing st., which is a one-way street, when the burglar was observed. It was headed towards Washington st. and was seen to be driven towards Newtonville.

U. S. and Britain Must Save A Tottering World

Declares Rt. Hon. Benn In Speaking at West Newton

"The United States and Great Britain must work together to save a tottering world," declared the Rt. Hon. Wedgwood Benn in speaking on Germany and World Recovery at the Unitarian Church in West Newton Sunday evening. He said that Von Hindenburg is a much more powerful man in Germany today than is Adolf Hitler, and that Hitler has made a great mistake in adopting a policy of Jewish persecution, as the Jews are one of the most powerful races in the international affairs of the world.

The speaker, who as a member of the Liberal Party in England has held important governmental posts for a good share of the time since the World War, reviewed the course of events since the war and pointed out some of the factors which have a bearing on what will happen in Europe during the next ten years. He believes that it is of the greatest importance to the peace of the world that the Allied governments should keep their word and disarm immediately or Germany will not be bound by the treaty of Versailles to remain unarmed.

He said that a great advancement was made in removing the causes for war by holding the German colonies as trust administrations, or mandates, as this arrangement removed the incentive to war by the distribution of the lands gained. There is nothing to prevent the return of these mandates to Germany, in case the new imperialistic government demands them. "Germany," he said, "must be recognized as an equal at the table of the League of Nations."

In discussing reparations and international finance, Mr. Benn said, "No one at the time the treaty of Versailles was drafted realized the difficulty of the transfer of such vast sums, as the treaty called for, across borders. Had Germany been able to raise the full amount imposed, it would have been impossible to transfer the sum to the Allies, as events since the war have proved."

He further showed how no actual money payment has been made by Germany to the United States since the War. Germany, since the War, has by bookkeeping paid two billions of dollars to the Allies a good share of which has been paid the United States, but during this time America has increased her loans to Germany by five billions, leaving the United States such a creditor to Germany that the moratorium was necessary in order to save the collapse and disappearance of our holdings in that country.

He argued that it will be impossible for England to pay this country the vast sums owed. This country and France own most of the world's gold supply, so payment in gold is impossible. Since it cannot be in services, the only possible remaining means of payment is goods, and this country cannot accept such an amount of goods as would be necessary to cancel the debt without bringing on much worse labor conditions than exist today.

The next lecture in this series will be given on Sunday evening, April 2, by Dr. Amos Osborne Squire on "Why People Commit Crime."

Elks Win Another Ritual Contest

Officers Earn Highest Rank, 100 Per Cent Perfect

The officers of Newton Lodge, B. P. O. E. No. 1327, headed by D. Walter Kearn, Exalted Ruler, and accompanied by over two hundred Elks from all parts of this state traveled to Providence, R. I., Sunday, March 19th, to compete against the lodge in a ritualistic contest, both lodges being champions in their respective states.

The Newton officers continued their excellent work in the rendition of the Elks Ritual and received the highest mark ever given a group of officers in competition, the mark being 100%. After the contest a very excellent dinner was served to all the members and Newton Lodge received a glowing tribute from the officers of Providence Lodge and the State and Grand Lodge officers present.

Newton H.S. Ranks First In College Entrance Exams

Tenth Consecutive Year Newton Has Earned Leading Honors

Newton High School again ranks first among all the cities of its size in the number of students entering advanced institutions of learning by College Entrance Examinations. Two hundred students registered for these examinations last June when they were given and 47.5% of all the candidates received honor grades. One of the highest ratings in the country was 100 per cent recorded for Vincent Estabrook in Physics. This rating was obtained by only 3 of the 3360 candidates. This is the tenth consecutive year that Newton High School has had some of the highest ratings of the country.

Gets Suspended Sentence For Hit And Run Driving

Pleads Guilty to Hitting Patrolman McCormick

Wallace Story of 20 Brastow avenue, Somerville, pleaded guilty in the Newton court last Saturday to charges of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and to leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. Story told the court that he was the driver of the automobile which on the night of March 6th hit and seriously injured Patrolman Thomas McCormick of the Newton police department. McCormick was doing traffic duty at the intersection of Beacon and Hammond sts., Chestnut Hill when he was struck by a car and thrown a considerable distance. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to the Newton Hospital by a passing autoist. It was found that McCormick had received a severe concussion of the brain, a fracture of the right arm, right knee severely injured, back injured and contusions about the legs. It was several days before he completely recovered consciousness. According to witnesses of the accident, two men were in the car which hit the policeman. They abandoned the car and fled. Police headquarters were notified and a patrol car with Patrolmen Chadwick and Murphy, hastened to the scene and the officers started looking for the occupants of the car which had struck McCormick. On Hammond st. Chadwick came upon a man under the influence of liquor and started to place him under arrest. The man resisted and Chadwick's eyeglasses were broken in the struggle. Patrolmen Murphy and Lyons came to his assistance and the man who was resisting was placed under arrest. He was Patrick O'Reilly of 1148 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, an automobile salesman. He was charged with hit and run driving, drunkenness and assault on a police officer.

Subsequently, Wallace C. Story came to Newton police headquarters and stated that he was the driver of the car which hit McCormick. His counsel in court on Saturday was George McLaughlin of Cambridge, who is also counsel for the Newton policemen in their litigation against the 7 1/2% pay cut recently given them by Mayor Weeks. McLaughlin argued that Story should be shown leniency by the court because of his action in voluntarily surrendering himself and admitting that he was the driver of the car. It was called to Judge Bacon's attention that Attorney Hugh Boyd, who is lawyer for Patrolman McCormick in the civil action resulting from the accident, was in the courtroom. Boyd was called to the bench and informed the judge that McCormick did not desire to have Story sent to jail. Judge Bacon fined Story $100 for reckless driving and gave him a two months' jail sentence for going away after an accident. Such a sentence is mandatory, according to law. The judge then suspended the sentence. O'Reilly was fined $10 for drunkenness. The charge against him for assaulting Patrolman Chadwick was placed on file.

GASOLINE FUMES CAUSE FIRE AT NEWTON CORNER

At 6:52 Wednesday evening a blaze started in the shoe repair shop at 238 Washington st., Newton Corner, occupied by the Boodoovian. The fire was at the rear of the shop and is supposed to have been caused by the ignition of fumes from gasoline used to clean hats. A lively battle raged for a few minutes until it was extinguished by a chemical line from Engine 1.

TO SPEAK AT MEMORIAL EXERCISES FOR FATHER

Mr. Seward Jones of Columbus st., Newton Highlands, left Thursday for a week's visit to his old home town, Ephesus, Pa. While there he will speak at the memorial exercises of his father who was killed in action 68 years ago Saturday at Fort Steadman. Mr. Jones will speak on the taking over of the Petersburg battlefield as a national park, on which he is one of the commissioners.

Safe Robbed At Newton Corner

Burglars entered the office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 313 Washington st., Newton Corner on Monday night and broke open the big safe there. The safe was located near a window at the Peabody st. end of the office. It was dragged about 30 feet towards the interior of the office, its lock knocked off, and the door pried open. About $200 in cash and $13 in stamps were stolen from the safe. Captain Goode head of the detective division of the Newton police, expressed the opinion that entrance to the office was effected by the burglars using a strip of celluloid to push back the spring lock on the office door.

State Board of Health Declares Local Water Pure

Present Epidemic In City Prevailing In Other Places

The belief has been current in this city the past couple of weeks that Newton water may be responsible for the illness which has numbered many hundreds of Newton residents among its victims. The sickness usually lasts for a day or two and is characterized by intestinal trouble, nausea and pains. Some persons thought they had ptomaine poisoning. Some physicians diagnosed the ailment as a sort of gripe attack. Whatever it is, the disease is not confined to Newton. Residents of other cities and towns have also been affected by it. It seems to be widespread.

Tests of Newton water made recently both by Weston & Sampson, consulting chemists for the Water Department, and by the State Board of Health, show that it is free from any germs which might be injurious to health. The report of the State Board of Health received today by the Newton Water Department says that the test made of Newton water made this week shows that it is free from bacteria characteristic of pollution and is safe for drinking. Similar findings were made on the 21 samples of Newton water tested by the State Board of Health during 1932, and samples taken on January 27 and March 9. The State Board of Health says that the sickness now prevalent, occurs frequently in various parts of the State, usually during the cold months. It is usually accompanied by nausea and vomiting and sometimes by intestinal trouble. It has no actual influenza nature. The cause of this sickness is not known; neither is it known how it is spread.

Red Cross Chapter Sends Gift To Quake Sufferers

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has already forwarded $100.00 for the relief of the California Earthquake sufferers. It has made this temporary appropriation from the local treasury in anticipation of contributions which have been promised, and is hoping that during the coming week sufficient special funds may be collected so that the Chapter can send another gift. Chairman Donald G. Angier announces. The chairman also wishes to make it perfectly clear that not one cent from donations will be deducted by the local chapter for expenses.

The National Red Cross organization has appropriated $50,000 from its treasury to the stricken area, but much more is needed. $500,000 will be required for relief work alone. The major portion of this amount is being borne by the Californians themselves, but the balance must come from voluntary contributions from the people of the country, in order that no one shall suffer more than is necessary.

Send all checks and donations to American Red Cross, Newtonville, Donald G. Angier, chairman.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Under the direction of Miss Rosalie Wilson, Martin the Senior Class presented the play "Come Out of the Kitchen," on Thursday evening, March 23, Miss Hope Decatur of Melrose, Mass., and Miss Dorothy Day of Bristol, Conn., played the leading parts.

Lasell closed today (March 24) for a ten-day vacation.

Community Chest To Make Second Appeal for Funds

Action Is Made Necessary By Increased Dependence

According to the plans which are now being formulated, the Newton Community Chest will endeavor during the month of April to secure the $55,000 still needed. As many as possible who have not yet had an opportunity to give will be solicited, and all who may be in a position to increase their gifts or pledges will be invited to do so. It is pointed out that immediate action is essential, in order to check the trend toward increasing dependence on public funds by those who urgently need aid now.

"The Greatest Need in Newton's History" is the way the present need for relieving suffering and want among the families of the unemployed is characterized in a report which will soon be issued by the Community Chest. It is hoped that this report, the first of a series which will be prepared for the purpose of keeping contributors to the Chest informed regarding the work of its member agencies, will also be instrumental in helping to raise the $55,000 still required to meet the minimum needs of the agencies working for relief.

"More than 1,200 Newton families," the report states, "for one out of every 14, cannot exist without relief. Suffering among white collar families has increased so enormously that the relief agencies are not now able to care adequately for this group alone. The minimum estimate of the needs of the Chest for 15 months was $275,000. So far $200,000 has been raised. Today even though 75 per cent of the funds received have been allotted for care of the sick and poor, $55,000 more for this same purpose is absolutely necessary."

"Without more funds, there is only one alternative. That alternative is that more and more families must be referred to the city's Department of Public Welfare, thereby increasing the danger of a permanent additional burden on the city treasury. This means that city funds must be spent for relief in increasingly large amounts; that more and more people, against their wills, must be listed as public charges, or in plain words, as paupers; and that taxes must pay the bill."

Three Veteran City Employees Pensioned

Three veteran employees of the Newton Street Department have been retired on pensions. They are John Pope, 64 years old, of 58 Auburndale ave., West Newton, who worked 39 years for the city, in later years on the Forestry Division; John Quilty, 75, of 74 Pine st., West Newton, a yardman at the city stables in West Newton. Quilty worked 25 years for the city. The third man is Cesidio Baccari, 64, of 34 Cook st., Nonantum. He worked for the Street Department 37 years. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night $611.72 was appropriated for Quilty's pension, $661.06 for Pope's, $618.86 for Baccari's.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SQUAD AWAITING CHANCE TO GET OUTDOORS

Coach Jeff Jones and 175 candidates for the Newton High School varsity baseball team are anxiously awaiting the expected warmer weather in order that they meet out of doors where they will begin active preparation for the coming baseball season. For the past several weeks the Newton coach has had the candidates doing preliminary work in the high school drill shed. If the weather is good it is expected that the squad will be out of doors by the latter part of next week, but if unfavorable weather is experienced it may well not get outdoor work for another week.

With Phil Giles, the only veteran pitcher left on the squad, showing excellent early season form, the immediate problem of the Newton mentor is to develop other twirlers to take the places of Rhodes and Choquette of the 1932 team. Several prospects are showing enough promise to warrant an attempt to bring them along to help Giles in carrying the pitching burden. It is a possibility that Coach Jones will give Charlie Houghton, varsity first baseman, a chance to show what he can do as a pitcher, although the versatile Newton athlete, who also stars in football and hockey, is the favorite to hold down the initial sack when not called upon for mound duty. Other pitchers upon whom Coach Jones is devoting considerable attention are George Taylor and Roger Myrick of last year's intermediate varsity team. Charlie Conway and John Mascia. The latter is a possible outfielder but has possibilities also as a twirler. He is left-handed, whereas the remainder of the corps are all right-handed twirlers.

As previously stated in this column Alex Kevorkian has the inside track as the regular catcher although Babe Folsa of last year's intermediates, Bernard Wilson of last year's jayvees, and John Bevan may get many opportunities to show their abilities. With Houghton the 1932 first baseman on deck again Bill Terry, another first base prospect, will probably hold down an outfield berth as he did last year. Should Houghton draw the box assignment for any game Terry is expected to be called in to the initial sack. There is a place for both provided they can hit. Lamphren, intermediate varsity first baseman last year, and McGrath are other first base candidates.

Fully recovered from a severe football injury Johnny Waters, 1932 second baseman, is the leading candidate for the keystone sack. Eddie Grethe, football end and basketball guard, is showing up well as is Howell DuPuy, a basketball forward. Either may give Waters a close battle before the position is definitely decided.

Captain Warren Huston is a fixture at shortstop and is expected to regain his place as the outstanding shortstop in schoolboy baseball this season. Last year Huston's play, hitting in particular fell off slightly from two years ago when he received general recognition for his play.

Charlie Flag, another three sport athlete, may have a battle to clinch the third base position which Kevorkian held down the greater part of last season. His most serious opposition is expected to come from Ted Johnson and Bill McDermott. There is a place for Johnson in the outfield if he can hit it Flag clinches the hot corner berth.

Other outfield prospects in addition to Terry and Johnson are Adolph Franni, Joe Mastropieri, John Helton, and the DiRusso brothers, Louis and Ray.

Y. M. C. A.

The Annual Gymnastic Exhibition of the Gymnasium Classes and Leaders' Club of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Friday night, March 31st. The various classes, groups, and Leaders' Club have been preparing for this annual event for over a month. The Men's Leaders' Club composed of Robert Buzelle, President; Allan Stone, Vice President; John Edward Baxter, Secretary-Treasurer; Joseph Mazzola, Charles Garrett, William Young, Edgar Davidson, W. Douglas McKellar, Harold Hueg, Gilbert Grant and William Hammond will put on three numbers, Parallel Bar work and Pyramids, Wand Drill, and Ring Vaulting.

The boys' gymnasium classes are practicing these numbers: Marching by the Juniors, Swedish Free Hand Drill—Juniors High School Class, and Elephant Vaulting by the High School and Employed Boys. Special groups of boys are preparing a Tumbling number and a Costume Show. The "Duties of a Soldier" series of "My Lady's Dress" will be directed by Rosalind Harris and acted by Mrs. Allen Hubbard, Miss Sylvia Russell, William Newby and Lowell MacNutt.

A new activity of the Club is a series of weekly broadcasts over WBSO on Thursdays at 2 o'clock under the leadership of Merrill Hammond.

Wednesday, March 29, 8 p. m., "Modern Lines and Types in Dress Design," by Evelyn M. Jackson, Stylist and instructor in costumeing.

Creedy were the girl stars. Captain In an exhibition hockey game Wednesday night at the Garden for the benefit of the Boston Unemployment Fund a team of ex-collegians battled the Boston Bruins professional team although the latter won 5 to 2. The ex-collegians line-up was dominated by Newton youths. Their starting line-up had the star Yale trio of 1933 captain Allie Fletcher, 1934 captain-elect Joe Gilligan, and the 1935 star Warren Colby as its forward line and George Owen, former Newton and Harvard star and present Bruin defense player who was loaned to the ex-collegians because of his collegiate record, on the defense. Owen opened the scoring with a goal for the collegians after nine minutes of play in the first period. Clark Hodder, another Newton product and now ranked as a professional because of his position as freshman hockey coach at Harvard, was on the collegians' second line. The Newton high track athletes have elected captains of the outdoor track team for the coming spring season and of the indoor team for the 1934 season. Tom Fitzgerald of Newton, who recently set a new record in the mile race, will be the annual Bowdoin interscholastics will lead the outdoor runners and Louie Miller will lead next winter's indoor team. The past season was Miller's first on the school track team. Robert B. Swett of Newton Centre has been awarded his varsity hockey letter at Bates. A mixed team of Stoughton members, one high school defeated the high school girls basketball team on Wednesday 26 to 18. Lucille Burnham, girls field hockey coach, scored 18 points and Frank of Boston last week Thursday 29 to 21. Greene was high scorer for the winners with 16 points. Wednesday nights matches in the Newton bowl league tightened up the race considerably. Maugus dropped four points to the University Club and as Hunnewell took three from Waban the former team is now tied with Maugus for the lead. Recent Deaths

WALTER I. WOODMAN

Walter I. Woodman of 217 Bellevue st., Newton died on March 19 at Wyman House, Cambridge. He was born at Gray, Maine 69 years ago, the son of Jabez Woodman, whose ancestors were among those who settled Old Newbury, Massachusetts and New Gloucester, Maine. Mr. Woodman spent his boyhood at Portland and in 1888 moved to St. Augustine, Florida where he conducted a pharmacy. He became prominently identified with the affairs of that city. He served as captain in the Florida State Guard and as president of the Florida State Pharmaceutical Association. He was a member of the St. Augustine Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club there. In 1909 he became a resident of Newton, but he continued to maintain his home in St. Augustine and spent his winters there.

Mr. Woodman was descended from the Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth in the Mayflower and he was Captain General of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants. He was also a member of several other genealogical societies. He had been an officer in the Ancient & Honorable Artillery, and was a member of the Boston City Club, Army and Navy Club, Bostonian Society, Societies of Colonial Wars, War of 1812 and American Wars. He had been active in the Masonic Fraternity and had been an officer in Aleppo Temple. He was a member of Gethsemane Commandery and the Eastern Star. He was also a member of the Woodland Golf Club and Newton Lodge of Elks.

His funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. Rev. Laurens MacLure officiated, assisted by Rev. Richard Preston. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mr. Woodman is survived by two daughters—Miss Beatrice Woodman and Miss Helen Woodman, both of Newton.

MARJORIE WARREN LAVIN

Mrs. Marjorie Lavin, wife of Joseph L. Lavin of 100 Beacon street, Boston, died on March 22nd, at the Palmer Memorial Hospital, Boston, following an illness of several months. She was born in Newton, December 20, 1896, the daughter of Emily Stanley Warren and the late Prescott Warren. Her grandfather was the late Francis E. Stanley, famous manufacturer of automobiles. She graduated from Miss Haskell's School in Boston and then for two years attended Rosemary Hall at Greenwich, Connecticut. She married Mr. Lavin on September 3, 1932. She is survived by her husband, her mother, a brother, Francis E. S. Warren of Cambridge; and two sisters, Mrs. Frances Harding and Mrs. Travers Carman, Jr., both of Newton.

Her funeral service will be held tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her mother, 638 Centre st., Newton; Rev. Adelbert Hudson of Jamaica Plain, formerly pastor of Channing Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

PRAISE WORK OF WELFARE EXECUTIVE

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night unanimously voted to confirm the Mayor's reappointment of Miss Florence S. Fitzgerald as head of the Newton Welfare Department for another year. Alderman Floyd paid tribute to the service Miss Fitzgerald has given. He said that he has come in close touch with her department, which during the past 3 years has had a greatly increased burden to handle. This difficult task has been performed with little increase in the personnel of the department and has been handled remarkably well. He said that Miss Fitzgerald deserves public commendation, and he hoped she will live to continue in her work for many years.

Alderman Sproat said he wished to go on record as coinciding with the remarks of Alderman Floyd. President Collins of the Board commented that all the aldermen, undoubtedly, agreed with Mr. Floyd's remarks.

ATTAINED HIGH AVERAGES AT M.I.T.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology has announced that the standing earned by its students during the first term of the present school year is above the average.

The following boys from the Newtons are among those announced as having attained high averages: Elmer Wilbur Davis, Richard Fiske Jarrell, Richard Francis Bailey, Richard Lawrence, William Leslie Diten, Jr., Joth Maynard Hitchcock, and Stephen Louis Muther.

Daly Post V. F. W.

Commander David L. Keefe and Quartermaster Sgt. Ray Adams represented the Post at a meeting of Veterans' Council of Newton held at the new War Memorial on Wednesday evening.

A successful Beano, Bingo, and whist party was conducted last evening under the auspices of the Post at V. F. W. Hall.

A regular meeting of the Post will be held at Post Headquarters on next Monday evening at which time delegates to the State Encampment will be elected.

Tickets are being distributed for the dance on Patriot's Day, April 19, to be held at State Armory under the auspices of the Post and C. Co., 101st Inf. A well known orchestra has been selected for this affair which promises to be a great success.

Comrade Ernest Butler is anxious to hear from any comrade desiring to become a drummer or a bugler in the newly formed Bugle and Drum Corps of the Post.

EDDY COAL CO. WINS HIGHWAY SAFETY AWARD

The C. F. Eddy Coal Company of West Newton has won one of the trophies awarded by the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety. It is one of twelve owners of fleets of automobile trucks in Massachusetts which were among 348 competing during the year 1932. The awards will be presented by Governor Ely. Those winning had the best records for safe driving on the part of their employees. The drivers of the Eddy Company had a clean slate. There was a 14% falling off in the number of accidents among the trucks in the contest, as compared with the record in 1931.

WEST NEWTON MAN KILLS SELF WITH RIFLE

Harry Clark, 32, of 131 Hicks st., West Newton, committed suicide about 7 o'clock last Saturday morning by shooting himself in the head with a rifle. Clark, a negro, came to West Newton from Hickory, North Carolina about a year ago and had been employed as a caretaker at the Waltham Gun Club. His wife and five small children came to West Newton six months ago. Mrs. Clark told the police that she had left the bedroom shortly before the shooting occurred. She said her husband had been suffering recently from appendix trouble. Clark was hit by a bolt of lightning some years ago and lost part of one arm as a result.

Girl Scouts

To Hold Unique Scouts Own

An International Scouts Own—a devotional service planned by the Senior Patrol Leaders and lead by them, will be held at the Newton High School on Sunday afternoon from 4-5 o'clock.

The unusual feature of the program will be the assembling of the national flags of 25 countries where Girl Scouts or Girl Guides are organized. Each of these flags will be carried by a Girl Scout and will be accompanied by another girl who will be dressed in the national costume of the country.

Miss Winifred Turner, one of the four delegates from the United States to the International Girl Scout Conference last summer held at "Chalet" in Switzerland, will be the speaker. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and friends of the Newton Girl Scouts to attend this meeting.

A number of special programs have been given during the past few weeks to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of Scouting in this country. Troop 27 in Newton Centre held a very lovely Candle Light Service. Troop 11, of Newton Highlands, had a birthday party at which Mrs. Grosvenor D. W. Marey, Chairman of the Court of Awards, awarded 41 merit badges; and nine girls were invested as Second Class Scouts. The hostess class served refreshments, and a birthday cake with 21 candles was the center of attractive table decorations.

The West Newton Girl Scouts had a party at which time they not only celebrated the Organization's 21st birthday, but also the fifteenth birthday of Troop 5. The original members of the troop received a special invitation.

A Brownie Revel was held at Scout Headquarters on Wednesday to which leaders in surrounding communities were invited as well as leaders in Newton Parks. Miss Sally Stickney and Mrs. Kenneth Canfield had charge of the meeting which proved to be a most interesting one. The meeting was in the form of a Brownie Pack, and the grown-ups enjoyed an evening of Brownie Games and songs.

SCOUTS TO HOLD BIG EVENT

The Scouts of Norumbega Council will hold their next Court of Honor on Friday evening, March 24, at 7:30 in the new Memorial Hall of the Memorial Building of new City Hall.

As a special feature, there will be a demonstration of various Indian dances in costume. Awards of 2nd Class, 1st Class, Star, Life, Veteran and others will be made.

All are invited to attend this affair.

FIRST AID RUMMAGE SALE BY AID A HAND CLUB

All Souls Lend a Hand Club, Inc., will hold a First Aid Rummage Sale at the Brookline Town Hall on April 11, Brookline Village. Those who wish to aid people who are not being helped by public charities are invited to contribute articles suitable for the sale, such as draperies, baggage, clothing, ornaments and furniture. The articles may be delivered to the Boston Warehouse, Mass. ave., and Westland st., up to April 8.

Here is an opportunity to give directly, without publicity, to genteel people of any creed who are in need of first aid.

While the Club is a Greater Boston organization, all the officers and 20 of the members are Newton women. They are as follows: Mrs. Westley Jones, Pres.; Mrs. E. Melville Hill, Secretary; Mrs. Geo. W. Fuller, Treasurer; and Mrs. F. Seefert Smith, Cor. Secretary. The other Newton members follow: Mrs. Palmer York, Mrs. Fred Woodcock, Mrs. Harry Sutton, Mrs. Alexis A. Mahan, Mrs. Lester P. Jones, Mrs. Frederick G. Holcomb, Mrs. Anthony T. Martorana, Mrs. John A. Hinsdale, Mrs. Donald M. Hill, Mrs. Earle Gildren, Mrs. Julius F. Gage, Mrs. Geo. W. Fuller, Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, Mrs. John F. Davies, and Mrs. Albert Cram.

MIDDLESEX COURT, M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court No. 60, M. C. O. F., conducted the first in a series of riding parties at the Bosworth Riding School in Milton on Saturday afternoon, March 18th. A most enjoyable time was had and it gives promise of much larger classes in the future. The Court plans to have riding parties each Saturday and holiday through the spring, summer and autumn.

The members who attended were the Misses Kathryn C. Hannon, Chief Ranger of Middlesex Court, Eleanor G. Mulcahy, Dorothea Curley, Alyce Creed, Helen Trainor, Anne Hannon, Margaret Barry, Mary Murphy, Mary Fray, Margaret Colbert.

In the evening the class attended a dinner at the Hotel Somerset. Plans are being made for a dinner dance to be held at one of the Boston hotels in the near future.

WARN AGAINST FAKE SOLICITORS

The police of Newton have been on the watch for fake solicitors who have been collecting money from residents of this city on the pretence that they represent the Perkins Institute for the Blind at Watertown. These fakirs have been selling tickets. The authorized solicitors for the Institution are supplied with proper credentials.

THE MERCHANT AND THE LAW

David Greer of Newton, founder of the Boston Police School and instructor in law at Northeastern University, was the speaker on Tuesday at the Kiwanis meeting at the Charles River Country Club.

He traced the development of laws in Europe and in England during the 10th, 11th and 12th centuries. More especially, the development of the Hanseatic League which developed codes of business from the standpoint of fair dealing.

In early England the judges were not lawyers but merchants, and determined controversy according to custom rather than according to law.

"The Guilds," said the speaker, "were close monopolistic corporations. The Merchant Guild had the right to license visiting merchants and to require heavy fees." "When controversy arose between members of the Guild of visiting merchants, the officers of the Guild arbitrated differences. Later, Parliament enacted statutes which effectually incorporated the customs of merchants into the laws of England."

RECEPTION GIVEN BISHOP C. W. BURNS

On Friday evening a reception was tendered Bishop and Mrs. Charles Wesley Burns of Newtonville by the Official Board, The Woman's Association and the Clafin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

After a dinner at which there were over 200 guests served by Mrs. Melvin C. Clay and a committee of young women of the church, Bishop Burns delivered an inspiring address. The Bishop asserted that what's wrong today with the world is its mental attitude. When we compare conditions in this country with those in other parts of the world we find that we really have much for which we should be thankful. "The great need today for a new faith, a new vision and a spiritual renaissance." "The rising generation will see more clearly than we see today. If Christ were to return, he would have a better chance in the world tomorrow than he would have in the world today."

The following besides Bishop and Mrs. Burns, in the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Emig, Rev. and Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Soden, Miss Ruth Cray, Mr. and Mrs. Railsback, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Miss Barbara Burns. The affair was also the "Ladies Night" of the Clafin Club. The club members were orange and green in recognition of St. Patrick's festival.

School Notes

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

A tap dancing class for the girls has been organized for after school hours. Fifty girls appeared for the first lesson, and more have signed up.

Stamp collectors were interested in a display of stamps from England and the British Colonies which were exhibited by William Dimean. An album containing a specialized English collection, stamped envelopes and odd cancellations, newspaper wrappers, and postage due stamps represented the English. Instruments important for the work of a true collector completed the exhibit.

The program on Wednesday was presented by the Gym Team. The members performed in the following events: Pyramids, somersaults, knee stands, horse events, and bucking. Charles Callanan, as chairman, stressed the importance of good posture.

Indoor track work has commenced for the girls. The events include standing broad jump, running broad jump, high jump and dash.

DAY SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday, March 17th, three elementary school principals, Mr. Brainard, Miss Thompson, Mr. Ray, and Mr. Busbard, were served a St. Patrick's Day luncheon at a St. Patrick's Day luncheon at the Eight Grade girls. The waitresses were Mary DeSantis and Marjorie Howe.

The Ninth Graders will attend the second dance of the year today. A live-wire committee has planned games during and between dances for those who do not dance. George Whitehead is in charge. On the Punch Committee are Barbara Collins and Katherine Hayes. Harry Couch and Charles Merandahl are in charge of the orchestral arrangements and decorations are being taken care of by Clara Schwab, Barbara Emig and Phyllis Schipper.

Beginning next Thursday, a series of broadcasts, conducted by the student radio committee under the direction of Mr. Alden Read, is being planned for presentation from Station WBSO.

The Day girls are preparing for their annual gym meet that will be held on March 30. There will be the usual contest between the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade girls. Tap dancing and exercises will be included in the presentation.

The boys of the F. A. Day have been eagerly practicing for the coming meet which will be held in the Old Drill Shed at the high school soon.

Stuart White, William Wrigley, Weston Littlefield, Ruth Jean Erret, Betty Wilson, David Clare and Lawrence Chamberlain of the Marionette Club presented their puppets in assembly on March 22. Among the delightful scenes were "Father Bear's Visions."

Following the assembly program the marionettes were transferred to the library where they formed an attractive exhibit.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB NEWS

The Newton Rotary Club has arranged a meeting for next Monday evening at 6:15 at the Newton High School of more than usual interest, when the club will entertain about fifty Boston Rotarians who are residents of Newton.

The program will be devoted to "Our Schools" and the principal speakers will be the Superintendent of Schools, John Lund, and Principal of the High School, Paul E. Ellicker. Some motion pictures on school activities in the High School will be shown and the Department of Health and Physical Education of the school will demonstrate some of the work of the school through classes of boys and girls.

At the regular weekly meeting on Monday at the Brae Burn Club, Ralph Clifford, sports writer for the Boston Traveler, gave a talk on some of the leading figures in the Ice Hockey world today. He was very optimistic of the future growth in popularity of ice hockey, which has grown in twenty-five years from the "freight shed" stage to a stage of public acclaim, culminating in the Boston Garden. "The time is not far distant," said Clifford, "when there will be major leagues composed of separate American and Canadian cities and the playoff will be an international contest of first magnitude."

BROADLEYS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pollett Broadley, are celebrating their fiftieth anniversary on Tuesday, March twenty-eight in West Newton, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William G. Worth.

Mr. Broadley was born seventy-six years ago in Paterson, N. J. For thirty-five years he was connected with the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a Past Master and life member of Ridgewood Lodge 710 F. & A. M. of Brooklyn. Mrs. Broadley, daughter of John M. and Jane Mowbray Brown, was born in New York City seventy-four years ago.

In addition to Mrs. Worth with whom the couple now make their home, there is a son Harvey Harrison Broadley of Carnegie, Pa., another daughter, Mrs. Wallace G. Payne of Haddamfield, N. J., and four granddaughters, Mabel Broadley Worth.

UNEMPLOYED PUT TO WORK ON STREETS

Starting Monday men who are obtaining aid from the Newton Welfare Department were put to work resurfacing Waltham st. at West Newton. Fifty men will be employed on this job. They will work part time in shifts of 25 and will be paid at the regular welfare rate of $3 per day. This is the first time that men obtaining welfare aid have been placed on street repair work in this city. A few months ago 132 employees of the Street Department were laid off, and are still unemployed.

MOTHER CLARK WILL SPEAK

A rare privilege is possible for persons in this vicinity ever active in the work of the Christian Endeavor Society to hear and to meet Mrs. Francis E. Clark, generally known as "Mother Clark", who will speak at the 50th Anniversary Exercises of the founding of Junior C. E. next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Watertown. Delegations from the churches in the Newtons are invited to attend.

FINED FOR LEAVING DYNAMITE AROUND

Lawrence Federico of Westwood rd., Dorchester, the contractor, who for several months past has been engaged on the job of laying the water main along Boylston st. for the City of Newton, was fined $25 in the Newton court on Monday. He was found guilty of storing dynamite in violation of conditions imposed by law. He appealed and was released in $300 bail.

Chief Clarence Randlett of the Newton Fire Department was the complainant against Federico. Recently a Hyde Park boy took a stick of dynamite from the stock of a contractor engaged in work along Boylston st. and caused fear in a school at Hyde Park when he took the dynamite there. Chief Randlett has been watching conditions along the turnpike job. He testified that he found 48 sticks of high explosive dynamite stored in a gasoline power shovel used by Federico at Boylston st. The dynamite was not even in a locked container and could have been taken by anyone who entered the body of the big shovel. Chief Randlett said that Federico was supposed to keep the dynamite stored at the plant of Masten & Wells at Newton Upper Falls.

Under The Gilded Dome

Several matters of import received attention under the Gilded Dome this week of which the three leading events were the passage of the salary reduction bill in the House of Representatives and the passage and signing by Governor Ely of the first beer bill and of the bill providing appropriation for work for unemployment relief.

On Monday the House Ways and Means Committee, of which Representative Baker of Newton is an influential member, reported in a salary reduction bill affecting state employees and officers. Along with the bill were several other bills dealing with budget considerations which indicated the program the Ways and Means Committee has in mind. The salary bill in general provides for a reduction of one and a half steps on classified salaries below $5250 and two steps on salaries above that figure. It further provides a flat reduction of ten per cent on statutory salaries below $5250 and fifteen percent above that amount. In the bill the salaries of members of the legislature are reduced ten percent or from $2000 to $1800 yearly.

Action on the salary bill was put over until Tuesday when debate was opened and several amendments offered. Late in the afternoon a motion to limit debate to five minutes and order a vote a half-hour later were vigorously opposed by Rep. Martin Hays of Brighton. Rep. Hays stated that it was no time to apply the "gag" rule and that he had an amendment to offer which was not fully prepared. The motion to order a debate at the Tuesday session was defeated and the House adjourned shortly after five o'clock after three hours' debate on the question.

At Wednesday's session several other amendments were offered, including that of Rep. Hays'. All of the amendments, except one offered by Rep. Baker, sought to lessen the reductions asked by the Ways and Means Committee. Some of the amendments applied to all salaries, although many of them sought to protect the smaller salaried employees from as severe a cut as the intermediate classes. Rep. Baker's amendment, which he offered on Tuesday, reduced the amount of salaries of legislative members 15 percent instead of the recommended 10 percent. Wednesday he withdrew his amendment. Late in the afternoon of Wednesday a motion to limit debate to five-minute speeches and order a vote three-quarters of an hour later was introduced. Considerable opposition developed to the motion which was carried by a large vote majority. A few Democratic members sought and obtained a roll-call vote which only served to cut down further the time left for debate. Another roll-call vote was obtained on a motion by Rep. MacDonald of Chelsea to postpone the entire matter for two weeks in order to await the outcome of a petition being heard before the committee on Taxation regarding the taxing of intangibles. This motion was also defeated and at 4:35, time having expired, Rep. Herter who was in charge of the bill was entitled to ten minutes. He spoke briefly on the reasons for defeating the various amendments and gave the remainder of his time to "the gentlemen from Newton in the division." This proved to be Speaker Leverett Saltonstall who had left the rostrum to take the floor. The House Leader urged the defeat of all amendments and further urged that the members have the courage to go through with the economy program which must be followed in order to relieve the cities and towns from the present burden of taxation as far as possible. The Speaker's remarks seemed to have considerable influence upon members of the House who had previously been undecided as to the course to follow. At 4:45 the vote was ordered on the first of some fourteen amendments. Ordinarily many of these amendments would have been decided by a voice or, at the most, a standing vote but a group of Democratic members from Boston found enough support to force a roll-call on nearly every amendment. Every amendment was defeated with ten of the fourteen going to roll-calls. On a number of these ten there were as few as four, seven, and fourteen votes in favor of the amendment with more than 200 opposed. Some of the thirty or more who sought a roll-call voting against the amendment.

With all the amendments defeated the vote came to the question of substitution of the bill offered by Rep. Hays for the committee's bill. This was expected to have considerable support but it was defeated by a vote of 74 to 157. The question coming then upon the main bill 171 votes were recorded in favor and 81 opposed and the bill was advanced to a third reading. Representatives Baker, Brimblecom, Luitwieler and Saltonstall, who did not return to the Speaker's chair, after making his address from the floor, voted against all the amendments and in favor of the bill.

Rep. Hays gave notice that he would again present an amendment when the bill came up for its third reading on Thursday. The house then adjourned at 10:36, after having been in continuous session since two o'clock.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Scarlet fever is still rampant in Newton. So far this month 43 cases have been reported; 4 of the victims are adults. There are no cases in Nonantum, the most congested section of the city.

Lawyers are already raising the point as to how a man can be convicted of drunken driving if he can prove he only has imbibed of the legalized "non-intoxicating" beer. But, we know of one judge in this vicinity who will find anyone guilty who will become soused on the 3.20% stuff.

It is proposed to permit the sale of beer at all grocery and drug stores in this State, except in towns and cities which vote "No License," if local option is decided upon. There should be a fixed retail price for beer. However, the chain stores may sell beer at a loss, as they sell cigarettes, and practically monopolize the sale of the beverage. Such a condition would not be healthy either for a return to normal economic conditions, or for the social welfare of the Commonwealth.

The big oil companies which compel attendants at filling stations to bother customers by asking them if they don't want this and that, in an effort to get more business in the sale of lubricants and side lines, are probably losing more than they gain. The ordinary customer knows what he wants when he drives into a filling station and eventually becomes tired of repeatedly saying "No" to attendants who try to sell him something extra. And this also applies to lunch rooms which try to sell cigars and cigarettes.

We wonder if any of those eggs are still existent which used to be served with beer by common victualers before 1919? In compliance with the law in the preprohibition era, one had to purchase a lunch to obtain beer on Sundays and holidays. Many of those who imbibed, did not eat, and the same hard-boiled eggs would see long service.

Alderman Temperley continues to protest at the unlighted condition of Boylston st. and the hazards it offers to citizens residing along it. And nothing is done to correct these conditions.

Captain "Joe" Seaver of the Newton police will be missed not only by his associates in the police department, but by his thousands of friends in Newton and elsewhere. "Joe" had ever a kindly greeting and combined efficiency as a police official with human understanding and kindness.

We do not enthrone over the proposed legislation which would permit persons 16 years and over to purchase beer. The age limit should be raised. Many adults will get a "spark" after drinking several glasses of the coming beverage. Boys and girls in their teens would only have to consume a few glasses to feel the effects. More than enough reckless driving on our highways now. Conditions will be far worse with youths driving who will be "lit up" with the 3.20% liquid, or who will think they are "lit up," and will act accordingly.

amendment when the bill came up for its final reading in the House. After debate the Hays' amendment was again rejected with ten less votes in favor and on another roll-call the bill was passed to be engrossed. It will be taken up by the Senate on Monday and although it is expected that some amendments may be offered, the general opinion is that the Senate will concur with the House.

Because of the changes made between the salary bill as passed and that upon which the budget was figured action on the general appropriation bill, the distribution of ten millions of dollars of gas tax receipts among the cities and towns, and other related budget matters, action was necessarily postponed. They will come up for debate the middle of next week.

On Thursday Governor Ely signed the beer bill which puts Massachusetts in line with Federal law covering the percentage of alcohol in that beverage which will be legal, namely 3.2 per cent by weight. The measure passed both branches under suspension of the rules in the brief and probably record time of about ten minutes. Not a voice was raised either in favor or in opposition. The bill carries with it no regulations for the control of selling the product in regard to which it is expected that there will be considerable debate when these matters are presented to the Legislature within the next ten days.

Governor Ely also signed the bill appropriating $275,000 for emergency unemployment relief work, on Thursday. This bill will cover such projects as the clearing of brush on Metropolitan District property, the removal of hulks from parts of the Boston waterfront, mosquito control work and reforestation. Senator Hollis offered an amendment rejecting the section for the removal of hulks but failed to receive sufficient support when the bill went through the Senate earlier in the week.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

Physical Education Activities

Among the subjects listed as required by law in Massachusetts we find that public schools "shall give instruction and training in . . . indoor and outdoor games and athletic exercise." Physical education is a broad and rather comprehensive term and includes a variety of activities both recreational and educational. It is a vital part of a comprehensive health program and trains effectively for a healthy and desirable use of leisure time.

Personnel

To serve the 5,000 children enrolled in our junior and senior high schools fifteen men and women give full time (one less than last year), two give half time and twenty do seasonal work after school hours. These latter are classroom teachers who receive no salary except that paid for their regular work. In the elementary schools the work is carried on by the classroom teacher with help and advice from the supervisor who works on a regular schedule of visitation.

Physical Plant

There are 35,000 square feet of gymnasium floor space and about 25,000 square feet of showers, storage, office and dressing room space in the high school and junior high schools of the city. These same schools have thirty-five acres of playground and athletic fields with fourteen soccer fields, two football fields, thirteen tennis courts, four baseball diamonds, three hockey fields, jumping pits, running track and space for small games. The minimum space required for out-of-door activities in an elementary school (recommended by the National Physical Education Association) is one hundred square feet for each child in school. Newton has eight schools, or one-third, below this requirement, four schools slightly over and due to adjacent city playgrounds, eleven schools are equal to or above immediate needs. It would appear then that in Newton we still have eleven elementary schools and one junior high school which do not have sufficient play space.

The Program

With the personnel and equipment thus briefly described the Newton schools carry on an increasingly effective program. Few people would deny that such a reasonable program of physical education is indispensable for the normal growth and development of youth. It would appear axiomatic that when children and young people are denied the growth and health which come from physical activities in schools or in community life, the saving in such expenditures may be more than offset by the increase of costs for hospitals, reformatories and jails.

Next week we will describe this program in detail from kindergarten thru senior high school.

MISS HARRIET E. STURTEVANT

Miss Harriet Elizabeth Sturtevant of 59 High st., Newton Upper Falls, died at the Newton Hospital on Wednesday, March 22, where she had been a patient for five days.

Miss Sturtevant was born in Newton Upper Falls, on May 2, 1851, the only child of the late Martin and Catherine Petee Sturtevant. For many years Miss Sturtevant was a teacher of music and for over fifty years was the organist of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Newton Upper Falls.

Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Sunday, March 26, at 3 p. m. Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd, pastor of the church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Frederick Pallidino, pastor of the Baker Memorial M. E. Church, of Dorchester, a former pastor of the First M. E. Church, Mr. John Hermann Loud, organist of the Park Street Congregational Church, Boston, and a personal friend of Miss Sturtevant will officiate at the organ.

Burial will be in the family lot at Newton Cemetery.

JOHN GARVEY

John Garvey of 200 North st., Newtonville, died on March 19. He was born in Ireland 67 years ago and had resided in this city for 19 years. He is survived by four daughters—Miss Catherine and Louise Garvey, Mrs. Margaret Foley and Mrs. Mary Bradley, all of Newtonville. His funeral service was held Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

MORRIS GREENWALD

Morris Greenwald of 107 West st., Nonantum, died on March 22. He was born in Hungary 60 years ago and had resided in this city for 30 years, conducting a junk business. His funeral was held yesterday and burial was in Beth Abraham Cemetery, West Roxbury. He is survived by three daughters—Sadie, Rose and Bertha Greenwald.

OTIS R. MAYNARD

Otis R. Maynard of 34 Pilgrim rd., Waban, died on March 22. He was born in Hawley 95 years ago and studied at Williston Academy and for many years was engaged in underwriting accident insurance. His wife died two months ago. He is survived by two sons, John B. Maynard of Dorchester and Karl Maynard of Waban; and a daughter, Florence Maynard of Waban.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Gen. Daniel Needham of Newtonville, new Director of Public Safety, states that he will not tolerate "fixing" of cases by members of the State Police. Heads of police departments in this Commonwealth might well emulate General Needham.

With millions of men, women and children in this country needing food and clothing it was interesting to read the past week of $43,000 having been awarded to 47 members of the Harvard faculty for research subjects. These subjects cover a wide range, including the construction of a map of Mars, and a study of Mongolian and Chinese mammals.

With this city possessing numerous playgrounds, there is little reason for boys using small, ornamental parks in this city as playgrounds. We happened to be at police headquarters recently when an indignant mother telephoned a protest because her darling boy was ordered by a policeman to stop using a park as a playground.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It's good to have a change of viewpoint and think of the world as O.K. and no longer K.O.

Oddments

Riding on the trolley car on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, between Cottage Farm bridge and Kenmore station you behold through the left hand window the greatest collection of billboards in Boston. Then shut your eyes—they'll need the rest—and try to remember the first lines of some of the advertisements. Not bad fun. I did it and—you can prove this yourself—here is what I remember, periods and all: "Play safe. In times like these, Your Neighbors know. When you get out on the wrong side of the bed."

It isn't the same thing that interests the same people. For that reason I was slow to respond when a friend started telling me about people who, while riding in an automobile, fail to recognize friends on the sidewalk. "I've got tired of having people say that they waved to me from the sidewalk and that I was high hat and failed to see them," said he. "So I began to study the whole question. In the first place, if you're driving you're not supposed to be gazing at the people on each side of the road. You're expected to keep your eyes fixed on the road ahead. That lets the driver out. But if you're just sitting back and gazing at the scenery you're expected to notice all your friends. Well, the fact is that there may be a reflection on the glass, or a ray of light that shines crosswise. A thousand and one good reasons exist for failing to recognize pedestrians." He paused but I did not urge him to enumerate the remaining 999 reasons.

No Sleeping Allowed

Maybe you lost some sleep when the banks were closed. Had an idea possibly that things weren't coming out quite as nicely as they did. But if you remained awake any number of hours you did so in the privacy of your own home and in a reclining position. You had the opportunity to rest, which was something. All this is to bring to your attention the champions of all go-without-sleep-and-not-mind-it fellows. They are the officials of the Massachusetts Banking Department from the Commissioner down.

It started March 4—the going without rest—and has practically ended now. You see the banks are just about the most important business matters we have and when there is anything that affects them everybody is thrown into high. The first to go are the State banking officials and the next the newspapermen responsible for that branch of the news.

Two, three, four and five a. m.—just run your finger around the face of a clock for a little atmosphere—was nothing. It got to be a regular thing. Bunkers, on desks and chairs for a few hours, with your overcoat pulled across you for warmth. Smoking innumerable cigarettes and drinking much coffee. Sending out for a bite of lunch from some all-night cafeteria. Blinking at each other through the smoke and in the meantime writing, writing, or looking up to open a telegram from Washington or dropping everything to pick up a telephone. Changes of clothing were sent from home along with other necessities.

Nevertheless, before you allow your sympathy to run away with you please remember that all participants seemed to get a great kick out of it. There was plenty of excitement to keep them going. And sometimes a touch of humor. One private office door was locked, but in spite of that fact every stenographer, clerk and official seemed to be obsessed with an idea the door should be open. They turned the handle many times. Finally it was opened by one of the busiest of all State officials, who shouted, "Good heavens, can't a man have a chance to change his pants!"

Going Down!

Whatever may have been the first steps taken to convert the cellar into a second living room, where the little folks may play by day and the young and old folks by night, the fact remains that there is now more underground entertaining than ever. Since everybody seems free to drag in the Gay Nineties I recall that there were in those days homes where smoking was not permitted. Think of it! And the head of the house would sometimes sneak down cellar and have a whiff or two. If the tobacco smoke floated through the furnace pipes and reached the nostrils of the good housewife she was apt to declare herself. Properly rebuked, the husband would do his smoking far distant from home for many days thereafter.

Now the cellar has painted walls, with appropriate and inappropriate pictures. There is a collection of furniture that looks as if it belonged on a front piazza. Where cobwebs once hung there swings a ship's lantern. Odd things, nautical, military or non-descript are used as ornaments. There is a place where refreshments are served; numerous ash trays, unique containers for cigarettes and matches, and similar devices to make smoking attractive to everybody.

The last time I was lured into such a place I had a good time. In my enjoyment I forgot to keep track of the temperature. Not being used to living in a cellar I did not know that I should keep as near the heating apparatus as possible. I have learned since. The lesson would never have impressed me had it not been accompanied by a heavy cold—so heavy that I can't seem to toss it off as readily as I would. The cold and the lesson are one and the same, I guess. But I hope that after I regain my normal state of health I shall remember to pause and reflect if anybody invites me into the cellar for the evening. My motto hereafter is going to be, "Step up, not down."

Recent Weddings

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 26.

The Golden Text is: "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations." (Psalms 33:11.) Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following from the Bible: "For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end. . . . And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart" (Jeremiah 29:11,13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates all forms of reality. His thoughts are spiritual realities. . . . God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life. Material and temporal thoughts are human, involving error, and since God, Spirit, is the only cause, they lack a divine cause. The temporal and material are not then creations of Spirit. They are but counterfeits of the spiritual and eternal" (pp. 513, 286).

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Federation

The monthly Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on March 27th, at 10 o'clock, in the Library at Newton. As the February meeting was omitted by vote of the Board, a full attendance is requested at this meeting for the consideration of any business which may have developed since January 23rd.

State Federation

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE. Mrs. Hazel H. Albertson, clerk of the State Federation, and chairman of the State committee on Industry, is responsible for the innovation of a most timely Industrial Forum, entitled "The New Day in Industry," which will be held on Wednesday, the 29th, at the Hotel Statler, opening at 10:30 a. m., and continuing throughout the day, which is open to the public free of charge.

The various viewpoints of industry as affecting the life of community and nation will be presented by representatives of each angle: manufacturers, Colonel Franklin, former president of the Associated Manufacturers, in a survey of present conditions in Massachusetts as they see them; Daniel Bloomfield, as retailers see them; Robert J. Watt, this State's representative of the American Federation of Labor, as the working man sees them; Miss Margaret Wiesman of the Consumers' League, as seen through the operation of sweatshop conditions; L. B. Boston, of the State Department of Agriculture, from the viewpoint of amelioration by the back-to-the-land movement; and finally, Commissioner of Labor Edwin Smith, from the viewpoint of the State's supervision and protection.

ART WEEK. An outstanding event of the Art Week program, being sponsored in Boston from March 27th to April 1st, by the Art division of the State Federation Mrs. Roy C. Baker, chairman, will be the informal gathering at the home of Mrs. Katherine Osborne, traveler and lecturer, next Wednesday, Mrs. Osborne's residence at 81 St. Stephen street, Boston, will typify what a knowledge of art and a comparatively small expense can do to make a city residence for students attractive and homelike, and the program, commencing at 2 o'clock, will feature a guidance period, an exhibit of "Art and Life in China and Japan," Mrs. Osborne, an informal discussion, and tea at 4 o'clock.

Members of the Village Players group will be the special attraction, and added attraction will be the exhibit of photography by William Noetzel, including prize-winning studies, gardens and attractive stage settings designed by Mr. and Mrs. Noetzel of Newton Centre, for the Players. There will also be opportunity for the judging of any Massachusetts artists' work as possible entries for the Swamscott exhibit or as Penny Art prizes.

Other activities during the week will consist of the exhibit of Mr. Noetzel's work at Federation headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, every day except Wednesday; the Springfield Art Conference; and the radio broadcast when Miss Helen Cleaves, supervisor of art in the Boston schools will speak.

ART CONFERENCE. Josiah P. Marvel, director of the Springfield Museum, and Cordelia Sargent Pond, curator, will be included on the list of speakers for the Conference being sponsored by the Art Division of the State Federation, Mrs. Roy C. Baker, chairman, at the museum on Friday, March 31st, with the Springfield Women's Club as hostess.

Addresses on the topics "China," "The Romance of Fabric," "Cloisonne and Jade," and "Art in the Schools," will be given on the program which will commence at 10 a. m., and music and a guidance period will feature the noon session when luncheon will be served. Reservations for the luncheon must be made before the 25th with Miss Eleanor A. Wade of 1033 Worthington st., Springfield.

MUSIC CONFERENCE. Clubwomen are looking forward to this interesting event scheduled for Thursday, the 30th, at Hotel Bradford, Boston, opening at 10:30 a. m. The speakers and subjects were announced last week. Mrs. Ethel C. Park, 441 West Newton st., is in charge of luncheon reservations, tickets for which are 75 and 50 cents.

RADIO. For April first, Miss Helen E. Cleaves, Art supervisor of the Boston Schools, will be the speaker for the radio half-hour over WBZ, 11:30 to 12 noon, with the topic "Art in Education," and Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer, former State chairman of Literature, with the topic "April First and Reading." The Needham Chorus, directed by Mrs. F. Pierce, will furnish the music.

The program for tomorrow, the 25th, at the same hour and over the same station, has already been given in this column.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Art committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announces that an exhibition of Oil Paintings and Water Colors by All-Newton Artists will be opened on Saturday afternoon, March 25th, from 3 to 5:30 p. m., in the art gallery of the Club House. This exhibition will include works of such well-known Newton artists as Charles Copeland, Leslie Thompson, Elizabeth Paxton, and Curtis Allen, as well as many others of talent. The gallery will also be open on Sunday, March 26th, from 3 to 5 o'clock and each day thereafter through April first. Mrs. Charles K. Badger and Mrs. William C. Noetzel, Art chairman and vice chairman, respectively, have worked long and earnestly to make this a successful feature, and they invite most cordially all who are interested to attend.

The third in a series of Community "Sings," also open to the public, is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, March 26th, at 3 p. m., in the auditorium of the Club House. The Newton Choral Club will lead the singing and Miss Katherine Cunningham Gray, soprano will be the soloist. The Club's leader, Madame Apolline Blair, will conduct as usual.

The Ways and Means committee of the Club is sponsoring a lecture on "Mexico," to be given by Miss Priscilla Ordway. Mrs. Arthur H. Chester very kindly has offered to open her home for this occasion on Monday morning, March 27th, at 10 o'clock. Coffee will be served. Tickets may be obtained at 50 cents from Mrs. Chester, of Leeson Lane (off Glen avenue, Newton Centre, tel. C. N. 2737.)

The regular business meeting of the Club comes on Friday afternoon, the 31st, at which time Wilfred L. Hubbard, lecturer and motion picture photographer, and a former advertising manager for Scribner's Magazine, will entertain with a trip "Around the World in Motion Pictures."

Tea will be served, with Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. Harry Gibson hostesses.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. A. L. Pratt of 67 Fisher avenue, will be the hostess for the Shakespeare Club, on Saturday, March 25th, at 2:30 p. m.

The work for the afternoon will be Acts I, II and III of "Pericles, Prince of Tyre," in charge of Miss Edith M. McCann.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Youth and the Victorian Novelists" is the interesting subject that Miss Gladys Bigelow, of the Newton High School English Department, will discuss at the Literary meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, of 67 Clyde street, on Monday afternoon, March 27th, at 2:30 o'clock.

These Literary Afternoons have been enjoyed greatly throughout the year, and this final gathering promises to be both an entertaining and instructive one, as Miss Bigelow, the High School Librarian, has a wide knowledge of her subject, and her delightful personality is reflected in her lectures.

Dr. Warren O. Ault will give his last Current Events lecture on Tuesday, the 28th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Club House.

A delightful Children's Party is being planned for Saturday, April first, at 2:30 o'clock at the Club House.

This event is one of the April features that the Ways and Means committee has arranged. This committee, under the direction of Miss Estelle G. Marsh and her very competent corps of workers, has served the Club most efficiently this year, and the committee is to be complimented, on the splendid work accomplished.

There will be surprises for the children, and Alfred (Jake) Stafford, playing the part of a magician, will perform fascinating tricks. Reverend Randolph S. Merrill will tell stories, and each child will be given a token at the close of the party. All this is offered for only 25 cents fee of admission, and a good time is certainly assured.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The annual Guest Night will be observed by the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday.

At 8 o'clock, when the entertainment of the evening will be an illustrated lecture by Brandon DeCou on "Alaskan Wonderlands." Members may obtain guest tickets at 50 cents each. Mrs. Winthrop Stiles is Day chairman for this event.

The Business and Professional Women's Group will be especially invited guests of the Club at this meeting.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet on Monday, March 27th, at 2:30 o'clock. The subject of the afternoon's study, "Survey of Late American Poetry," will be led by Mrs. G. H. Haggood, and Current Events will be led by Mrs. Francis A. Rugg and Miss Thalia Clark.

The hostess is Mrs. Isaac Goddard of 154 Lincoln street. Members should note the change in meeting place.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet on March 29th, in the Channing Church Parlor. Mrs. Ralph Henry will read a paper on "Modern Trends in the Arts in Russia." The hostesses will be Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson and Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday afternoon, March 29th, at 2 p. m., the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold a Card Party at the Neighborhood Club, Berkeley street, West Newton, for an Emergency Philanthropic Fund, to be used in specific cases in West Newton urgently in need of immediate relief.

Mrs. George S. Fuller, of 19 Balcarras road, is chairman of Arrangements. Tickets are not limited to Club members, and may be procured from Mrs. Fuller at 50 cents per person and tables planned.

A recent innovation of the Community Service Club has been the establishment of a Club Exchange, a plan by which members who can make articles which would be of use to other members if they knew of them, may find a sale, or an opportunity to purchase. Sample tables have been presented at two recent meetings of the Club with encouraging and satisfactory results. Jellies, relishes, aprons, bridge favors, hand-painted cards and tallies have been among the articles offered. Mrs. James E. Robertson, of 85 Hillside avenue, has been appointed chairman of the Exchange, and will keep on hand at her home samples of articles which may be ordered.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

At the Annual Musicales and guest day of the Community Service Club of West Newton on Wednesday, March 15th, the president, Mrs. Frank S. Tower, extended greetings and a sincere welcome to presidents and guests from sister clubs in the Newton Federation, and to other visiting guests.

Mrs. Tower gave notice of the Card Party to be held at the Neighborhood Club, on March 29th, under the able direction of Mrs. George S. Fuller through whom tickets may be purchased and tables arranged.

Club members were indebted to Mrs. Sumner Robinson, Program chairman, and Mrs. Stanley M. Bolster, Music chairman, whose co-operation made possible the privilege of hearing Ruth Posselt in a violin recital. Besides being a real artist and a finished musician, Miss Posselt possesses a modest and unaffected charm which won the hearts of her hearers, to whom she gave an afternoon long to be remembered.

Mrs. Frank S. Webster and Mrs. Francis W. Doane were hostesses at the tea table, arranged in honor of St. Patrick's Day with green sweet peas and tall white candles. Delicious refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. Elliot S. Mildram.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock, a Legislative Meeting, sponsored by the Legislative committee of the Club, Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham, chairman, was held in the Workshop. Hon. Leverett Saltonstall spoke on "Immediate Legislation" made necessary under conditions of the past two weeks; unusual problems that the legislature is required to solve; methods of proportioning State and City taxes, the necessity for educated and intelligent men, who are progressive in City, State, and Federal positions and the sacred right of petition. A question period followed.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation which meets once a month in the Library at Newton was entertained by Mrs. J. Earle Parker, at her home on Metacomet road, Waban, on March 16th. The occasion was an informal luncheon party in honor of Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, who this spring will retire from the presidency of the Federation after three years of successful and popular leadership. Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Braham and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, president of the Waban Woman's Club, welcomed the guests. The luncheon was served at eight small attractively-decorated tables, the color motif being green. The afternoon was devoted to bridge and jig saw puzzles. Lovely small vases of flowers were presented as souvenirs to the puzzle makers, and foot plants to the three scoring highest in cards. The low score won playing cards. Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart were present at the delightful gathering which held pleasant memories of the happy occasion, and of the charming hospitality of the hostess.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met in the Community Room of the West Newton Library last Tuesday evening. The Senior Club was the guest of the Juniors. The Misses Elizabeth Bencks, Helen Brandt, Dorothy Brackett, Elizabeth Harris, Bernice MacDowell, Mrs. Rudolph Stebner, and Mrs. Gilbert Jones acted as models in a Fashion Show, staged by courtesy of the Clara Mitchell "Smart Apparel Shop," of 60 Mt. Auburn street, Watertown, and of the Ann Alare Hat Shop, of the same address, with Mrs. Mary Wilson as stylist. The pre-showing of spring fashions was greatly enjoyed. On February 28th the members of the Club met at the "Old France" for dinner and afterward went to the Plymouth Theatre, to see "The Queen's Husband."

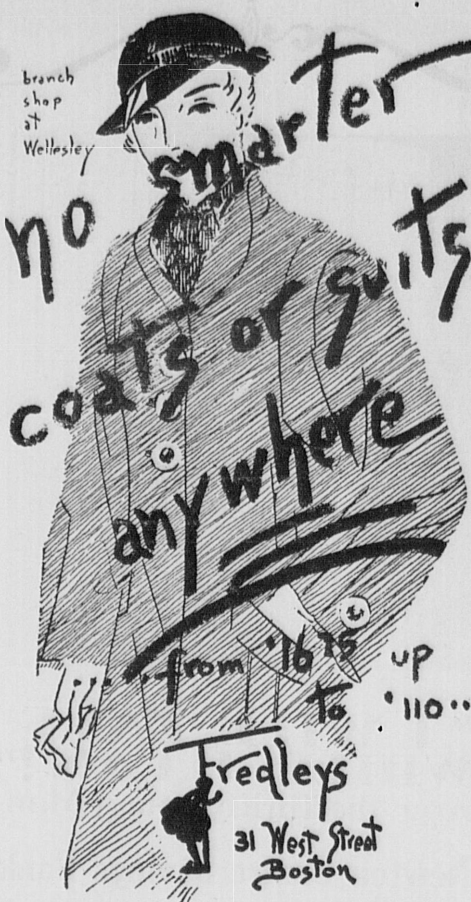

The Annual Meeting for the election of officers will be held on Tuesday evening, April 11th. The dining place will be announced later.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held its meeting Monday evening, the 20th, in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School, at which Mrs. Charles W. Taylor, of Hyde Park, gave a very interesting talk on Current Events. Mrs. Taylor is Fifth District director of the State Federation, and past president of the Hyde Park Current Events Club.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Espionage and the thrilling details concerning the lives of those connected with it were most graphically described by Major Thomas Coulson, when he delivered a lecture on "Famous Women Spies" before the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday

Aldermen Meet

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was one of the briefest in many months. It started at 8:15; was interrupted by a recess from 8:45 to 9:03; and concluded at 9:10. The regular meeting thus lasted 37 minutes. All of the members were present except Alderman Greben.

The first matter on the docket was a bearing on the petition of the Newton Auto Repairing Company for a permit to conduct a repair shop at 69 Elmwood street, Newton, and to install two underground tanks with pumps inside the building there. No opposition appeared against this petition.

The second matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Community Service Stations for an additional tank and pump at 79 Needham street, Newton Highlands. The treasurer of this company stated that it is desired to sell a third grade of gasoline. This grade is now dispensed from portable tanks, and the petitioner commented that this method is not quite safe.

Alderman Hawkins, reporting for the Licenses Committee, recommended that a permit be given the Jenney Mfg. Company to widen the entrances to its filling station at Willow and Centre streets 5 feet each. Hawkins said that drivers of cars have difficulty getting in and out of the station at present. Alderman Temperley objected. He said that during the past few years the aldermen have made it a practice to limit the width of drives at filling stations to 25 feet, to safeguard pedestrians. He contended that such a width is enough if cars are driven slowly in and out of filling stations. Alderman Holden commented that if Temperley drives a car he would realize that 25 feet is not sufficient. The Board voted to grant the change; Alderman Temperley voting in the negative.

Two petitions asking that land be changed from residence to business zones were rejected. One was that of Hagop Mekhitarian on land at Elliot and Margaret rd., Newton Upper Falls; the other that of Rudolf Arpeton of J. V. Monaghan Sons asking for additional gasoline storage at 5 Auburn st., West Newton, was refused. Monaghan operates a filling station across the street from the location in question. The petition of Thomas Flaherty and other residents of Whittemore rd., Newton, asking that an old barn on the Whittemore estate between Washington st. and Whittemore rd. be ordered removed as a fire hazard, and eyewere, was refused. Alderman Bowen said the Claims & Rules Committee agreed that the aldermen have no right to interfere with a man's use of his own land.

Approprations made by the Board included $69.25 for expenses incurred by Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans on last Memorial Day; $5000 for interest on temporary loans to the city; $9000 for emergency work at Edman's Park; and $5000 for playground to provide employment for men receiving aid; $804.46 pension for Francis Turner, recently retired from the Newton Fire Department. The $5000 for interest on temporary loans was necessitated by the fact that it costs more to borrow money since the bank holiday was declared.

Community Chest Meets To Plan Second Appeal

It Will Be Directed Principally To Those Who Have Not Yet Contributed

Representatives from eight villages in the Newton area met last night at the Brae Burn Country Club to confer with Community Chest leaders and to plan ways and means of obtaining the $55,000 urgently needed at once to provide member agencies of the Chest with additional funds for the relief of distress.

This $55,000, it was explained by Leon B. Rogers, President of the Chest, is the amount required to bring the total subscriptions of the Chest up to the $275,000 which was estimated last fall as the minimum which would cover the needs of the 14 member agencies until the end of 1933. Although the relief agencies dealing constantly with the problems of families without any means of livelihood, or without sufficient means, or without enough to pay for care in time of sickness, have been allotted more than 75% of all the funds so far given to the Chest, the continued increase in unemployment makes it necessary to apply all additional funds which may now be secured for this same purpose.

It is hoped that a large proportion, if not all of the $55,000 sought, may be secured during April. The special committee of Community Chest directors which will supervise the effort consists of Leon B. Rogers, Paul F. Baender, Nat W. Emerson, Maynard Hutchinson and Mrs. Richard M. Saltonstall. Those meeting with this group last night were Ralph C. Henry of Newton, Fred W. Rust of Newtonville, Robert Whidden of West Newton, Charles H. Cobb of Newton Centre, E. Graham Bates of Auburndale, C. Adrian Sawyer of Waban, Frank A. Schirmer and Henry M. Bliss of Chestnut Hill, and Charles P. Johnson of Newton Highlands.

An urgent appeal is to be directed by the Community Chest to many who have, as yet, made no contribution; to those who, last fall, gave cash contributions and to some who signified that they could be called on again. It is evident that the funds already subscribed will not meet the requirements for all of the year 1933.

Former Street Dept. Men Receiving Welfare Aid

About half of the 130 men formerly employed by the Street Department, who were laid off in December, have applied for aid from the Welfare Department of the City of Newton. When these men were working steadily last year and in former years, they received about $30 weekly; being paid at the rate of $5.04 per day. Men with families receiving aid from the Welfare Department are given $3 per day, and average four days' work each week, bringing their weekly stipend to $12. The new policy of the city of having street resurfacing work performed by welfare recipients, precludes the probability of the unemployed street department men being placed back on their former jobs. Since January 1st the city employees now working have received a wage cut of 7 1/2%, plus a half-day lay-off each week; lessening their pay nearly 16%.

Boy Scout First Court of Honor This Evening

Honors Will Be Awarded by Prominent Newton Men

Court of Honor
The first Court of Honor for 1933 of this Council will be held at the new Memorial Hall in the new City Hall on Friday evening, March 31st, at 7:30 o'clock. Awards will be made by the following men: 2nd Class by Mr. L. Lee Street, Director of the Division of Examinations and Awards; 1st Class, by Mr. John Lund, Superintendent of Schools; Star, by Mr. Roy V. Collins, President of the Board of Aldermen; Life, by Mr. John Bierer, President of Norumbega Council; Needlework Guild of America by Mr. E. P. Stevenson, Chairman of Troop 11 Committee; Den Chiefs' badge by Mr. C. S. Redmond, District Commissioner for the Quinobegun District of the Council; Troop Charters by Mr. G. D. Marcy, Scout Commissioner. Singing will be led by Scout "Sandy" Reddy of Troop 4B, Newton Highlands, with Mr. Louis Hafermehl at the piano.

As a special feature of the Court, Mr. Leigh Nisbett will appear in Indian costume, give a brief talk on Indian lore and the Indian sign language and perform several Indian dances.

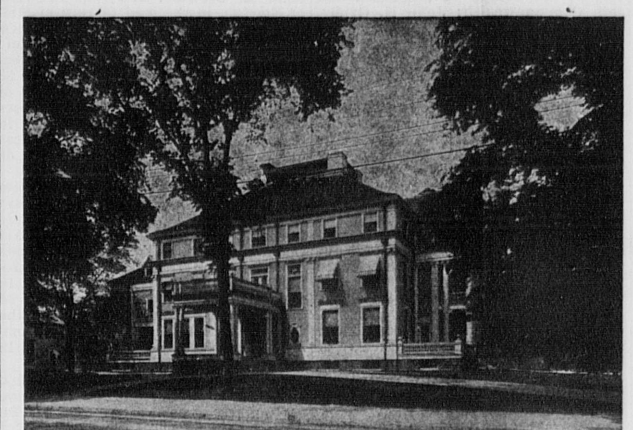

Scouters' Training Session
April 1 and 2 there will be a training session at the Nobscot Reservation for men of Newton and Wellesley, who are in or are interested in Scouting though not officially connected with the organization, who wish to become Certified Examiners in 2nd and 1st Class requirements. The course is in charge of Deputy Commissioner F. W. Gilcrease, Chairman of the Committee on Standards and Examinations with group leaders Scoutmasters F. E. Lichtenthaller and Schroeder, Assistant Scout Executive Speirs and Scout Executive Bruce. Training will be given in cooking, compass, judging, signaling, pace, tracking and other 2nd and 1st Class requirements. All men who complete the course satisfactorily will be certified as examiners and qualified to pass Scouts for advancement. The usual camp-fire will be held at the Legion Cabin on Saturday evening at 7:30 and a Scout Service there at 8:30 on Sunday morning. The course will close at 4:00 on Sunday with a closing talk by Scout Commissioner Marcy.

Troop News
Troop 4B, Highlands, had a parents' dinner on Monday evening last, with an attendance of about 100. Program and dinner were planned and handled by the Scouts of the Troop. Brief talks were made by Scoutmaster R. F. Schroeder, the Assistant Scout Executive, Mr. Speirs and the Scout Executive, Mr. Bruce. Following dinner and a demonstration of roping by one Patrol, everyone moved upstairs to see the play "After Dark" presented by the Troop. A most successful affair.

The Nonantum Athletic Association, which is sponsoring Troop 3 in that village, gave an evening's entertainment on March 28th, with amateur boxing, to raise funds for the Troop treasury. The Troop is reorganized with L. A. Bruce, Jr. as Scoutmaster and Mr. George Fremault as Assistant Scoutmaster. Mr. Fremault is a former member of Troop 3 and was a member of the Council's Jamboree Troop in 1929.

Troop 2, Auburndale, recently had an inter-Patrol swimming meet at the Y. M. C. A. Pool. The pool is used

Newton Club Building Being Demolished; Was Social Centre of City

Famous Clubhouse at Newtonville, Now Being Torn Down

Talk about the irony of fate. Rapidly disappearing from view is the once imposing structure which, a generation ago was the centre of Newton's social life and the place where political affairs of the city were decided. Within a few days the erstwhile home of the Newton Club on Walnut st., Newtonville, will be but a memory. For the past couple of weeks unemployed men of his city have been tearing down the building where in the Gay Nineties and the early years of this century the social life of Newton was centered.

In 1902 a book was published by the NEWTON GRAPHIC entitled "Newton," which sketched the upbuilding of the city and contained biographies of citizens who aided in developing Newton during the first quarter of a century of this community's progress as a city. The author of the book was John C. Brimblecom, publisher of the GRAPHIC. The accompanying photograph of the Newton Club was made for that book. Mr. Brimblecom introduced his sketch of the club by saying "The most potent influence in the unification of the various Wards of the City of Newton, and in its social and material development was the organization of the Newton Club in 1887." In following paragraphs he wrote:

"This club by bringing together various powerful social and financial influences was the first great step in making Newton a city, rather than an aggregation of little villages. These elements, by developing the social life of the city in new lines, and on a broader and more generous scale, brought Newton to the attention of the whole State in a most enviable light, and attracted to it the wealth and refinement that was seeking a suburban residence with city advantages."

"A neighborly chat between Congressman Samuel L. Powers and Mr. William J. Pollett was the atom from which grew the present Newton Club with a membership of 400 gentlemen. The first meeting was held at the residence of A. R. Mitchell in Newtonville in the autumn of 1887, and the charter members were Hon. Heman M. Burr, Hon. Robert Bishop, Hon. William Claffin, Hon. Samuel L. Powers, Edward W. Cate, William J. Pollett, James W. French and Albert S. Glover. It was located in Newtonville in order that it might be convenient to all parts of the city, and its first home, the Hull Mansion, built in 1766, stood at the corner of Austin and Walnut sts. from 1846 until its demolition some years ago. The first reception was held in this house December 19, 1887. Among the notable events in the history of the club are the following: Reception to Rear Admiral Lewis A. Kimberly (of West Newton) March 28, 1890; reception to Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, wife of President Harrison, and her daughter, Mrs. McKee, Sept. 26, 1891; formal opening of the present clubhouse, November 16, 1892. The open air band-concerts in June have been noteworthy features since 1895."

Seascouts of Ship 13 went to the Navy Yard last Saturday to inspect ships there. They are going to Harwichport on March 31st to spend the week-end at the summer home of Mr. Palmer York, a member of the Ship Committee. The Ship has increased greatly in the last few weeks and Skipper William V. M. Fawcett now reports a membership of 26, with more wanting to get in.

The school committee also voted to refuse the application of the Caney Creek Community Centre of Kentucky for the use of the hall in the Angier School at Waban for a series of entertainments. This is in accordance with the rule not to permit the use of Newton school by outside organizations.

Toxin-Antitoxin Immunization 100 Percent Effective

Not One Immunized Child Has Ever Developed Diphtheria in Newton

Dr. Francis George Curtis, chairman for the past 40 years of the Newton Board of Health, is authority for the statement that efforts to wipe out the scourge of diphtheria through immunization by the use of toxin-antitoxin treatment has been 100 percent effective where used, since the inauguration by the Board of Health of its intensive campaign in 1921.

Since it has not as yet been possible to secure the cooperation of all parents in this important health measure, there are still a few cases occurring each year. During the past four years there have been 17 cases and two deaths, and since January 1st there have been five cases, four of which were in one family, and no deaths. None of these cases have been children who had been immunized. One of the two deaths since 1923 was a child brought to the Newton Hospital in a moribund condition, and was not properly charged to Newton.

The results of immunization are striking, indeed. During the four years 1918 to 1921, there were 511 cases of diphtheria in the city and 38 resulting deaths. Since 1921 the case rate has dropped from 320 per hundred thousand population to 3.5 in 1923, and the death rate has dropped from 6.1 to 1.4. During this time there have been five years during which there were no deaths from the disease.

Starting in 1921 with the immunization of 100 children, the work has steadily increased. Last year 788 children received the treatment, bringing the total number recorded by the Board of Health as having been immunized to 5,157. In addition to this number, many children have been given the treatment by private physicians.

The immunization work is done by three physicians employed especially for the task by the Board of Health. It is accomplished during one month's intensive campaign, so that the expense to the city is small. When first undertaken, the children were given the Schick test to discover if they already possessed natural immunity. After it was found that uniformly only a small proportion of children were naturally immune, the test was discontinued as a preliminary measure. This has resulted in a saving of much time and expense.

The Newton District Nursing Association last year inaugurated diphtheria immunization as one of the services offered through its well baby clinics. There were 130 young children immunized through this means, and 27 children more would have been completed by them, had their parents returned them for all three inoculations. The Board of Health also makes a special drive each year to reach children of preschool age, as the disease is potentially most prevalent and dangerous during the first years of life. Many children of the city under two years of age are in this way protected.

Newton's case rate of 3.5 per 100,000 population makes a favorable showing with other communities comparable in size. The size of a community is an important factor, as it is generally true that the smaller the community the easier it is to secure parental response in immunization campaigns. Lawrence, with a case rate of 3.7 last year was the only city in the State larger than Newton which had a lower case rate, but there were nine smaller communities with a lower rate. On the other hand, there was one city in the State with less than two-thirds the population of Newton which had a case rate of 119.3. It is universally true that where immunization is most thorough over a period of years, the case and death rates are lowest.

Newton's favorable record in the control of diphtheria seems to be due in the first place to the energetic and persistent efforts of the Board of Health, for immunization to be effective must be systematically followed up each year. The success of the measure is also in a large degree due to cooperation given by parents, private physicians and to our public health nurses, both those employed by the Board of Health and those employed by the District Nursing Association.

No Decision By Mayor Weeks on Beer Sale Here

Awaits Passage of Bill Before Making Statement

Mayor Weeks has made no decision as to whether, or not, he will permit the sale of beer in Newton should the bill as proposed by the Committee on Legal Affairs of the Legislature become law. The report of the committee recommends that Mayors of cities and Selectmen of towns shall be authorized to determine whether their communities shall have beer licenses. Mayor Weeks has made no statement regarding his inclination on this important matter, and will not, until the bill shall have been finally passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. The Mayor will then study the bill and make his decision.

In pre-prohibition days, when local option prevailed, Newton consistently voted "No License." While there were no saloons in the city, plenty of liquor, both malt and distilled, as well as wines, was consumed within its confines. The working element in the city obtained their liquor for immediate consumption by journeying to saloons in Brighton, Boston, or Waltham, coming home in various conditions of sobriety or intoxication. For home consumption they obtained their beer by means of the so-called pony expresses, which for years were a vexatious problem in the city because of the impractical laws under which they operated. The wealthier residents of the city in those years quaffed their liquor in clubs, either in Newton, Boston or elsewhere, or had it brought to their homes by teams operated by Boston merchants. Some had this liquor delivered undistilled; many residents of Newton had it brought to their homes camouflaged as groceries, and one grocery company in Boston did a whale of a business in the Newtons in bottled goods.

Mayor Weeks has a vexatious problem to settle. Much pressure may be brought to bear on him by both proponents and opponents of License. Beer will be consumed in this city; so will wines and spirituous liquors if the 13th Amendment is repealed. The question before the Mayor at present concerns only the less potent liquor. He must decide whether local merchants will derive the benefit from profits made on beer sales, or whether merchants in other cities will get such benefit. He must determine whether, or not, the malt beverage shall openly be sold here, or whether Newton, as in the past, shall outwardly, at least, be a "dry" community.

Ask Bus Permit At Oak Hill

The Metropolitan Coach Company of Belmont has petitioned the Board of Aldermen for a permit to operate a bus line on LaGrange st., Oak Hill. The route traversed by this line within the city limits of Newton would be only for a short distance between the Boston (West Roxbury) line at Vine st., and the Brookline-Newton line on LaGrange st. The proposed bus line will run from the Chestnut Hill section of Brookline to West Roxbury.

Asks Damages For Fall on Sidewalk

As a result of the failure of the city to spread sand on icy sidewalks this past winter, a claim has been entered by Mrs. Gertrude Truesdell of 18 Washington terrace, Newtonville. Mrs. Truesdell states that on the morning of February 11th, on which there was a heavy snowfall, she slipped on the Walnut st. bridge at Newtonville and broke an arm.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

The patrons of the Paramount Theatre will receive a great treat next week when they see John Barrymore in the role of "Topaze," the role he chose above all others in the play that made Broadway laugh and cry for a year. In this picture he is supported by Myrna Loy. The whole family will enjoy "Topaze." On the same program Nancy Carroll and Gary Grant will be seen in "The Woman Accused"—with Irving Pichel in the supporting cast. This is a society drama which takes place on an elaborately appointed pleasure boat.

For the last half of the week, Bill Boyd and Dorothy Wilson are featured in "Lucky Devils," a story of a romance among the stars of Hollywood. On the same program John Boles and Nancy Carroll will be seen in "Child of Manhattan." Nancy Carroll's acting is much more colorful than any of her most recent pictures. John Boles plays opposite.

On Thursday and Friday of next week, Hank Keene and his Connecticut Hillbillies will play at the Paramount afternoons and evenings. They are well known among the radio audiences. Mr. Keene will give local auditions to the young ambitious folks. Applicants should get in touch with the management for information. There will not be a bargain matinee on Friday of next week.

COMMUN. WELCOMING COMMITTEE APPROVED

Work Appreciated by Both Clients and Newcomers

At a well attended meeting of the clients of the Community Welcoming Committee, held at the office of the Committee at 555 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, on Friday evening, general appreciation was voiced of the work of Mrs. Miriam H. Clark, chairman, and her associates. The many who took part in the discussion of the service of the committee, including a representative of The Newton GRAPHIC, gave it as their experience that families moving into the Newtons do appreciate the service rendered as a real friendly and helping greeting from the firms represented, and it leaves the traditional New England cold shoulder a myth.

Mrs. Clark explained that newcomers are not merely presented with an attractive basket of gifts from the members of the committee, but are also given much helpful information in getting their bearings.

The committee is fast becoming sort of a bureau of information for newcomers, said she.

DRAMATIC CLUB BROADCASTING

An entirely new endeavor in the field of amateur dramatics is being developed by the Newton Dramatic Club. The Newton Dramatic Club has presented plays in Newton, has now organized a distinct and separate branch which devotes itself entirely to the presentation of radio plays.

Each week from Station WBSO, in Babson Park, the Newton Dramatic Club at 2:30 p. m. on Thursday presents the radio version of a current motion picture. In addition to the actual reading of the continuity, certain members of the club are studying the simulation of sound on the radio. Others are interested in the preparation of continuity, and it has been the experience of these neophytes of the air that radio offers a much wider range of settings for dramatic presentations than the legitimate stage.

The players directed by Merrill M. Hammond, Jr., of the staff of WBSO. Members of the cast include Rosalind Harris, Don Logan, Clifton Follansbee, and Samuel Fuller.

JR. DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS "SEVEN CHANCES"

On Saturday evening, April 8, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House the Junior Dramatic Club will present the comedy "Seven Chances" written by Roi Cooper Megrue. Those who will be in the play are: Gardner Reynolds, Elizabeth Campbell, Anita Fisher, Betty Jane Dockstader, Polly Sweet, David MacKillop, John Tower, Sterns MacNutt, Peter Kilby, Kitty Whalen, Ellen Weston, Rosalind Bleglow, Duncan Cotting, Esther Merchant and Mary Hill.

The play is directed and produced by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. The business manager is Frederick Hammond. The two leads are Gardner Reynolds and Elizabeth Campbell, Mrs. Roy Merchant and Mrs. C. Burton Cotting have charge of the stage setting and candy with competent committees.

AUBURNDALE CLUB PLAYERS, APRIL 7TH AND 8TH

The Auburndale Club Players will present as their play of this season "White Collars." It will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 7 and 8, at the Auburndale Club under the direction of Florence Grueger.

Emily Pacher is the "leading lady" in the part of the young wife and Edward Parent is the young millionaire. They are ably assisted by a cast which includes Dorothy Bates, Marguerite Meland, Grace Gellins, Lowell McNutt, Dudley Braithwaite, Jack Purple and Francis Feeney.

In keeping with the spirit of the times, the committee has established a low price of admission. Auburndale audiences have an enjoyable evening before them because "White Collars" is remarkable for its human qualities and humor.

Coffee and cigarettes will be served as usual in the lounge of the club between the acts.

"THE NEW POOR" BY HUNNEWELL PLAYERS

The Hunnewell Players will present "The New Poor," a play by Cosmo Hamilton, at the Club on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. The cast is as follows: The Grand Duke Boris Igorvitch—Donald L. Gibbs

Count Ivan Andreievitch Storocov—William Parker
Prince Vladimir Dionsievitch Darsky—Vladimir Dionsievitch Darsky
Princess Irina Petrovna Shakova—kaka
L. Linder Greavatt

Fifty-Eight Entries For Badminton Spring Tourney

Preliminaries Are Being Played Off This Week

The Spring Badminton Tournament at the Waban Neighborhood Club is under way with 58 entries in the six classes. The preliminaries are being played off this week and so far there have been some very close contests. In the mixed doubles games played so far Mr. and Mrs. Norman McCutcheon took Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Evans 2-0; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Webber beat Mr. and Mrs. William Plumer 2-0.

In the women's singles Mrs. William Bell took Mrs. Arthur Davis to the tune of 2-1 in a closely contested match; Mrs. Merrill Delano took Mrs. Evans 2-1. Mrs. Tolman took Mrs. Webber 2-0, in an unexpected upset, and Mrs. Irving Townsend Jr. bowed to Mrs. George Mandell 2-0.

In the only women's doubles match played so far Mrs. Mandell and Mrs. Townsend took Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McCutcheon 2-0.

No matches have been played as yet in the men's singles.

In the junior boy's singles "Cal" Hill, brother of the famous tennis player, took Brewster Williams in an exciting match 2-1, and in the sub-junior boy's singles, "Jim" Cawley took "Bob" McCutcheon 2-0.

The rest of the preliminaries will be played off over the week-end. The Badminton court has been a popular place during the last two months. "Brad" Gove, manager of the club, has been teaching the juniors how to play and every afternoon the courts are filled with sons and daughters of the members, all rapidly improving as players of this ancient sport. In the morning the women hold sway, among whom there are several beginners, and in the evening men and women both are using the court steadily.

Daly Post V. F. W.

AUXILIARY INSTALLED

About 800 persons attended the first Installation of Officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daley Jr. Post No. 2384, V. F. W., on Tuesday evening at State Armory, W. N.

Mrs. Bessie Olson, Senior Vice President, State Dept. Aux., and her suite officiated at the installation exercises, assisted by the degree team of the Overseers Post Auxiliary of Lynn in command of Captain Hazel Shields. Preceding the installation the team gave an exhibition drill which received tremendous applause. The following officers were installed:

Helen B. Keefe, president; Helen Anderson, senior vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Marden, junior vice president; Elsie Walker, treasurer; Sadie McLaughlin, secretary; Mrs. Hilda Shaughnessy, chaplain; Mrs. Helen Arata, conductress; Mrs. Sarah McHard, guard; Mrs. Bertha Elliott, Mrs. Florence M. Taffe, and Nellie Walker, trustees; Mrs. Mary Treddin, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Clara Cloran, Mrs. Annie Donnelly, Mrs. Ellen Bennett, and Mrs. Minnie Murphy as color guards and bearers.

Invited guests included Mrs. Beattie Hanken, past national president, V. F. W. auxiliary; Mrs. Helen Henderson, vice president Newton Post 48, A. L. Aux.; Mary Hughes, Jr. vice pres. State Dept., V. F. W. Aux.; Mary Grennan, past president, State Dept. V. F. W. Aux.; Mrs. George Henikuss, past president, Newton Post 48, A. L. Aux.; Mrs. John McDermott, president Lieut. Manson Carter Post V. F. W. Aux.

Mrs. Prince, vice president Waltham Post V. F. W. Aux.; Mrs. Sadie Blake, guard, State Dept. V. F. W. Aux.; Mrs. Irene Hurley, national honor chairman, V. F. W. Aux.; Commander Thomas Brassill, Middlesex County, V. F. W.; Commander John McDermott, Carter Post, V. F. W.; Commander Myrshall, Waltham Post, V. F. W.; Commander Robert L. Cunningham, Newton Post 48, A. L.; A. Leslie Moriarty, Pres. City Laborers' Union; Commander Shortman, Dedham Post, V. F. W.; and several other representatives of veteran organizations from neighboring communities.

A feature of the evening was an exhibition drill by the Elsie Janis Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Commander Mildred McNamee of West Newton. The corps executed excellent maneuvers under the guidance of Drum Major Margaret Walker and received a tremendous ovation.

Several speakers addressed the gathering with brief remarks, congratulating the new officers and extending their well wishes for the ensuing year. Commander David L. Keefe presented President Keefe with a bouquet on behalf of the Post assuring her the wholehearted support of the Daley Post on her every endeavor.

President Keefe addressed the gathering and urged the co-operation of all of the members of the new unit, requesting the eligible ladies to "sign up" as soon as possible. The new president is a sister of Past Commander John J. Keefe and also first commander of the Daley Post. Miss Keefe resides at No. 26 Wiswall street, West Newton, and is employed at the Middlesex & Boston Railroad office at Newtonville.

After the ceremonies dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, music being furnished by a well known orchestra. Meetings of the auxiliary will be held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at V. F. W. Hall, West Newton.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Woman's Association of Central Church will meet on April 5 at 10 o'clock for sewing and a food sale sponsored by Mrs. Robert Whill's group. Mrs. C. A. Wentworth and Mrs. W. F. Warner are in charge of the luncheon. Mrs. Mary R. Carver, secretary of the Massachusetts Congregational State Office will speak on "The Work We Share."

Large Audience Listens to Doctor Grigg's Lecture

Subject of Human Relations Proves Interesting

The size of the audience which listened to Dr. Edward Howard Griggs in the third of his series of lectures in the Read Fund course at the Underwood School Auditorium last Friday evening, proved the truth of his first statement that supreme interest centers around human relationships. His subject was: "The Problem of Personal Relationships, Friendship, Love, Marriage."

Dr. Griggs considers sincerely what he called "moral reality" the first basic law of friendship, then likeness of tastes, although unlike personalities have more to give. The deep friendships of Goethe and Schiller and of Michelangelo and Vittoria Colonna are examples of the working of the latter law. In each case there was an idealist and a creative nature. There must be a continuity of experience and a growing along together. A moral and spiritual equality is another need for a true friendship although personality should not be sacrificed. The ashes of a dead friendship should not be disturbed.

Love is fulfilled in marriage, which means a drawing together of the opposite sexes and a spiritual union, although here too independence should not be sacrificed. Dr. Griggs warned against the danger of accepting the half for the whole in marriage. Many couples come to the crossroads where their ways separate because of differences in age. The marriage of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning was an exception to this. Parents neglect the proper education of their children. There is too much sophistication. Courtesy is the result of behavior of loving hearts although there is too much pretence in the home. Periods of solitude and repose of spirit are necessary for everyone.

School Notes

"A Girl from Newton" is the title of the opera to be presented on Friday evening, April 7, at eight o'clock, in the school auditorium. The actors and actresses who are members of the dramatic club, The Ace of Clubs, will be assisted by a chorus composed of pupils of the seventh grade music classes. The musical organizations, the Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club will furnish selections during the evening. Over two hundred pupils will participate in the program.

A very excellent production of "In Ancient Days," a Roman play in seven episodes, was presented by eighth grade pupils who are now studying Latin. Each scene portrayed the customs of the Roman people in connection with the observance of a wedding. The scenic effects and costumes were cleverly carried out in tune with the times. Both Latin and English were used in the speaking parts, although the choruses were entirely in Latin. The cast consisted of Philip Phaneuf, Richard Lovell, John Bishop, Robert Pollett, Gordon French, Edward Wallace, Chester Newey, Joseph Lockett, Walworth Williams, Anne Riley, Marjorie Moncrieff, Barbara Barlow, Dorothy M. Laughlin, Dorothy Elftman, Jane Underwood, Joan Marble, Geraldine Graves, Anne Hitchcock, Nancy MacNeill, Eldora Kirtch. Ellen Watne announced the program.

DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

About ninety of the Ninth Grade pupils enjoyed the dance held on March 24th. Between several of the dances various stunts were put on under the supervision of George Whitehead. Music was furnished by Bob Adams' Musiquedancers.

Room 28 is fortunate in having a superb book of the Hardings while they were in the White House. This is the possession of Harriet Barker. Many interesting poses of Laddie Boy, beloved by Newton citizens, are shown. The girls of room 18 have the enviable record of No tardy marks since November 10!

The March 29th assembly was devoted to club reports. The work and accomplishments of each club, actually illustrated whenever possible, were described by the club presidents. The program anticipates club choices for next year. Phyllis Schipper was chairman for the day. The day made its first public appearance of the year.

BIGELOW NOTES

Friday, March 24, the French Club presented the play "Cendrillon" or "Cinderella." Marcella Kittredge made a very real Cinderella, and it wouldn't be surprising if even the audience fell under the spell of Laura Gallant's magic wand. David Collins was a gallant prince. He even subdued those haughty sisters, Jean Patterson and Emma Dorr and humbled the stern mother performed by Barbara Drake. The little French servant, Nancy Argy, announced with much ceremony the arrival of the prince and his loyal herald, played with much feeling by Sam Wyatt.

Between the tableaux, Janet Raser, our competent pianist, entertained with a few choice selections and a French song.

The members of the Bigelow ninth grade are selecting their courses and electives for high school. A great many are still undecided as to which course is the best for them to take and are consulting with Mr. Chase on their subjects. The principal courses which may be taken are Mathematics, General Academic, Language, Scientific, and Business Preparatory.

RELIGIOUS DRAMA

A religious drama, "On the Third Day," by Belford Forrest will be presented by the Vesper Players of Boston and Cambridge on Sunday evening, April 2nd, at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, at 7:45 o'clock. The public is invited. No admission will be charged.

"Some car, Ed! Salary up?"

"No. Hudson and Essex prices down. This Terraplane 8 is the lowest priced straight 8 in America."

$565
F. O. B. DETROIT

What do present low prices buy in an Essex Terraplane?

Champion performance. The Terraplane out-climbs and out-accelerates every other stock-car—under official A. A. A. supervision. (Proof: won the all-time stock-car record up Pike's Peak, broke 12 speed and acceleration records at Daytona Beach.)

Unequaled ruggedness. Engine does less work—the Terraplane uses only 1/3 of its total energy at sixty miles an hour; Patented Duo-Flo oiling system assures more efficient lubrication; stronger unit-built chassis. (Proof: maintained speed of 62 1/2 miles an hour in second gear at Daytona; broke all records over rocky mountain roads in Capetown-Johannesburg run.)

Low price? You bet it's important, when you can get Terraplane values!

Warren Jr. High

Throughout the school posters on the walls of preventing fires have been put up and the ten pupils in the seventh and eighth grades who memorized the largest number of ways of fire prevention had their names read in assembly.

Big Brother, who, for the past five years has each year spoken at our school, brought with him Jerry Martell, Bill Murphy, and Frances Lyons. They entertained us with songs and recitations, the way they do nightly over the radio.

The final game for the Warren varsity was played on March 14, at home, between the Warren and Bigelow basketball varieties. Of the Warren team, Boudreau Shaw, and Medlicott played best. The sportsmanship of all teams was exceptional. The first team lost to Bigelow, 14-13, and the second Warren team was defeated, 11-10.

The basketball season has closed with Warren winning over the first teams of Day and Weeks and losing to Bigelow's first team. The girls' basketball team consisted of the following girls: Forwards, F. Boudreau, B. Stephen, M. Medlicott, H. Shaw, R. Wheeler, E. Karol, and M. Gorzone; guards, N. Durbin, R. Fulton, B. Allen, M. Hanlon, and F. Smilie; centers, E. Ainslie, J. Wilson, M. Collins, R. Harvey, and V. Amesbury. The teams have been coached by Miss MacLean, Mr. Surabian, and their captain, Hildreth Shaw.

TEA ROOM OWNERS INVITED

Tea room owners, present or prospective, are invited to attend a meeting on Tea Room Management at the office of the Middlesex County Extension Service, 19 Everett st., Concord, Mass., on Friday, April 7th, from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. The discussion will be led by Mrs. H. J. Haynes, home management specialist from the Massachusetts State College, who speaks from a thorough background of study and experience. The specific discussion will concern food likes and dislikes of the public, points for those who hire helpers, and menu making, with suggestions for determining a fair price to ask. Any special problems in connection with the work will be given consideration by Mrs. Haynes.

WEST NEWTON SAVINGS BANK ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the West Newton Savings Bank Corporation will be held in its banking rooms on Tuesday, April 11, 1933, at 8 o'clock, P. M.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Cars driven by Albert Rochette of 1349 Centre st., Newton Centre and Raymond Ferrar of Waltham collided Saturday night at 7 at Homer and Walnut sts., Newton Centre. Ferrar's nose was injured and he was treated by Dr. Nutter of Centre st. Rochette reported that his hands and chest were injured.

"WHY PEOPLE COMMIT CRIME" SUBJECT OF W. NEWTON LECTURE

Dr. Amos Osborne Squire, for many years the chief physician of Sing Sing Prison, will speak in the West Newton Unitarian Church on Sunday evening, April 2nd, at 8 o'clock, on "Why People Commit Crime and How to Meet the Problem."

Dr. Squire has had a unique opportunity for studying the innermost mind and heart of the many thousands who have passed through the world's most famous Penal Institution, so that he can speak with authority on this subject which bears so intimately upon our modern communal life.

The lecture which is open to the public will be preceded by an organ recital at 7:30 by William Ellis Weston. No charge for admission will be made but a collection will be taken to defray expenses.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Young People's Council held their March meeting last Saturday at the Newton Methodist Church. The opening worship service was in charge of Roland Jones of West Newton. Miss Virginia Brown of Newton was in charge of refreshments. A very interesting address on Russia and conditions in Europe was given by Mr. Sterling Williams of the Newton High School, and appreciatively received by the fifty young people who attended.

Further plans were announced for the Easter Sunrise Service, April 16, at Waban Hill Reservoir. Dr. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville will speak on "High Hopes." Mr. Page, leader of the Young People's Choir at Eliot Church, will have charge of the music.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be celebrated at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, April 6th, at the home of Mrs. Leslie Sanderson, 56 Hartford st., Newton Highlands.

Mrs. Alice G. Ropes, State President of the Mass. Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will speak on the subject "Bread or Beer."

All interested women are cordially invited to attend.

During the month of February, 179 families were the recipients of 2270 articles of clothing distributed through the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. 1100 garments were made by volunteer sewers throughout the city in February, including such articles as flannel shirts for men, flannel suits for small boys and flannel dresses for small girls, Hoover aprons for women and sweaters and socks. At the present time work is going on in the making of night-clothes from light-colored flannel received, and the knitting of sweaters, which are particularly useful as they may be used in the place of coats. There is also yarn on hand for other knitting now and during the summer.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

No possible return of the saloon, the three-point-two supporters declare. Just what will they call it—biergarten?

Oddments

What, I ask you, would be your reaction under circumstances that I shall try briefly to describe. You are at your desk. It is a busy day. So busy, indeed, that you feel submerged, with little hope of rising to the surface for hours. At the point when you are ready to fly off the handle a solicitor for a publishing firm centers. You merely notice him as you pause to convey by your glance an inquiry as to his errand. He is a swift worker and meets you with a challenge. Placing before you a large volume he commands, "Read that." You observe the title. It is, "Man vs. Ape." All that I could think to say was, "Well, which do you represent?" He was not upset at all and proceeded with his sales talk while I suspended all business for 15 minutes.

The jocular reference last week in this column to the first lines of billboard advertising signs brought several returns. A young lady said that from a close scrutiny of street car cards she made this sentence out of a string of first lines: "No beauty shoppe smells for me. Why you want the original. Is he foolish or is he not?" From another reader: "Your apartment home is ready. The perfect Hyde."

Old School Dignity

The philosophic utterances the other day of a man whose judgment I respect caused me to halt for a moment or two of thought. He referred to the dignity of labor. Not that I needed to convince myself, for long ago I learned my first lesson. That was in the days when I was seeking laurels as a youthful and energetic gatherer of news.

Connected with the scene of my toil was a printing shop. Among its employees was an elderly man. He was a printer, through and through. Expert at the case he made his thin and bony fingers fly among the type. At the same time he absorbed the "copy" before him, providing, of course, he deemed it worthy of his concentration. He was a scholar, knew his classics and the Scriptures. It is chanced that in setting up the sermon of a local clergyman he covered an erroneous quotation, he would pause and mark the place. Then when the preacher dropped in to look over the proofs he would call the matter to his attention.

This, however, is not the tale of a printer's erudition. So many have won distinction for that. My printer impressed me in another way. It was the manner in which he approached his task. Entering the shop in the morning he was dressed invariably in black or very dark clothes. They were worn but not wrinkled or shabby. It made me think of Sunday every time I saw him in his street attire. Even his black spats had an ultra-dressy touch.

In a deliberate and careful manner he removed his suit, drew on an old pair of trousers, drew an apron about his waist and hung upon his stooped shoulders an ancient colored vest. But before picking up his type stick he unstuffed his detachable cuffs and placed them on the top shelf of the little dressing closet. The change of raiment made no difference. He was as much a gentleman as ever. Type-setting to him as a cherished art. No master of the painted canvas, no surgeon of great renown, no learned jurist or doctor of philosophy undertook his daily task with a finer sense of pride. His skill was but a part of it. Here was a man who honored his calling.

Under The Gilded Dome

By Edw. H. Powers

The general appropriation bill, commonly known as the State budget, will be taken up in the House next Monday. This decision was reached last Wednesday the day on which the lower branch was expected to act. The fact that the bill for the reduction of State salaries had not been passed by both branches at that time was the reason for postponing action on the budget. Any change in the salaries bill would necessarily affect the budget so that it was deemed wise to wait until next week when the salaries bill will have been finally disposed of before taking up the general appropriation measure. It has been threatened by certain Democratic House members to demand a roll-call on each of the 50 or more items in the budget. Some doubt as to the carrying out of this plan has been expressed as it would accomplish nothing and place the legislators in the role of chronic filibusters. This may happen and if it does the legislative session will reach well into the summer as these tactics are likely to be employed on every measure.

The Senate did little to the bill reducing State salaries although a large number of amendments were offered. Senator Hollis tried unsuccessfully to have the measure changed to provide that there be no reduction for employees receiving less than $1000 a year. Although defeated it got more support than any other of the rejected amendments and was lost by a vote of 20 to 20. The adopted Senate amendments provide that the reductions take effect April 1 and continue until Nov. 30, 1934 and allowed contributions to the retirement fund to be made under the amount of salary received prior to the reduction. These amendments met the approval of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The opinion of the Supreme Court is sought under an order introduced in the upper branch by Senator Parkman of Boston for the Committee on Taxation, as to the constitutionality of a general sales tax and special taxes on tobacco and soft drinks. The subject is one of those on which there has been much agitation, largely from manufacturers, business men and others who have vigorously opposed the plan of State Tax Commissioner Long to increase the State's revenue by these proposed additional taxes.

The House accepted the adverse reports of the Committee on Public Health on this bill relating to vaccination. The first was on petition of Commissioner Bigelow of the Health Department requiring the vaccination of children attending private schools. The others were on petitions of the Citizens' Committee Opposing Compulsory Vaccination. The subject is one of those on which there has been much agitation, largely from manufacturers, business men and others who have vigorously opposed the plan of State Tax Commissioner Long to increase the State's revenue by these proposed additional taxes.

Governor Ely this week issued two proclamations which were not among the customary announcements of the Executive. The first sets apart April 3 to 7 as "Conservation Week" and urges organizations and individuals to devote their thought and energy to conserving and increasing the natural resources of the State. The second deals with the subject of fire prevention and calls for the careful observance during the entire month of April of fire laws, particularly as applying to outdoor life. Carelessness in the use of matches either for lighting fires or by smokers is deplored and the importance of safeguarding property and woodland is emphasized.

By Edw. H. Powers

The imperative need of the new sewer which is now being constructed in this city, at Newton Corner and Newtonville, is evidenced by the condition the past two weeks of Laundry Brook at its open stretches between Dexter road and Gay st., Newtonville, and along Jackson rd. at Newton. During the thawing period following the winter months much water gets into the sewer mains throughout the city, in one way or another and overtaxes the capacity of the main sewer line which empties into the Metropolitan Sewer at Jasset road, near the corner of the city. The conditions of the Metropolitan Sewer at this season of the year is also overloaded and this retards the proper run-off of the Newton sewage into it. In order to prevent sewage backing into houses in this city while this condition prevails, emergency measures have been necessary in the past few years. This emergency measure is taken when the water flowage in the brook is of such volume that no undue health hazard is created. The completion of the new high level sewer within the next few months will end the necessity of resorting to this emergency condition in coming years.

All this blather about beer is somewhat tame to begin with. The alleged health hazard is alleged not to be intoxicating. While it is true that a capable drinker would have to take an internal bath to get soaked on the 3.20% stuff, a large percentage of those who will quaff it, will become pepped up, or drowsy, as they are variously affected, after drinking several glasses of the brew. This "out of the depression" beverage really doesn't give satisfaction to many. The "drys" are opposed to it because they claim it is an intoxicant. The "wets," millions of whom have been making home-brew of 6% and 8% alcoholic content for years at a cost of a couple of cents the bottle, are not going to run to purchase this 3.20% liquid to the extent that will obtain for the Federal government the huge tax revenue estimated.

The State Legislature, in our opinion did a good job with this vexatious matter. The men on Beacon Hill voted against the asinine proposal to allow the sale of this beer to boys and girls of 16. The speedy element among our youths and youthesses will get their beer, even as now they get their hooch; but the large majority of our boys and girls will not have the legal invitation to become guzzlers of beer, and will not do so. And the fewer "lit-up" youths we have driving cars on highways, the better for public safety. God knows there are enough of this type now.

The Legislators also acted wisely in specifying that each city and town can have a beer store for every 2000 of population. What grafting would have resulted if beer stores had been limited to one for every 5000 of population? Good judgment was also displayed in limiting chain stores to a 3 license limit. Otherwise, these altruistic corporations would, in all probability do with beer what they have done with cigarettes; sell it without profit to lure customers, and practically monopolize the beer trade.

John J. Hart of Waban Park, Newton, who for the past 27 years has been associated with leading Boston stores as a rug buyer, has entered business for himself and offers Newton people exceptional opportunities to buy rugs direct from importers and manufacturers.

COMING EVENTS

State Federation

RADIO. Conservation Week is to be celebrated from April 3rd to the 7th, and it is, therefore, most appropriate that on the program for the State broadcast of Saturday, the 8th, Mrs. Robert Parmenter, State chairman of Conservation, is to speak to this timely subject. With many projects of beautification finding enthusiastic sponsorship, and with new opportunities lending themselves in the coming of spring for cultivating beauty spots, discussion of how to safeguard the natural scenery and resources that make for the pleasure and even life of man should be of special interest and appeal.

Educational in value, also, is the fitting second topic to be presented on this same program, when Mrs. Edgar Tregoning, chairman of the State division of Education, will present opportunities in her field, under the title "At Your Door."

Music will be furnished by Mr. Howard Harrington, Concert Tenor, and Mrs. Edwin Biltcliff, Pianist.

The program for April first, over WBZ, at the usual hour 11:30 to noon, has already been given in detail, but clubwomen are reminded that Art in Education, and hints for "Reading" are the main topics to be heard at that time.

CLUB INSTITUTE. Clubwomen who have enjoyed the Club Institute, which is a feature devoted to items of club policies, plans, achievements, and business, will have presented for their information on Thursday morning, April 6th, from 10:30 o'clock to 12:15, in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Clarendon and Stuart sts., the topic Club Courtesies and Activities. Mrs. George A. Mellen, of Lawrence, chairman of this department, presents presidents or other officers of club who describe methods and ideas as carried forward in their circles, with successful and happy results.

Waban Woman's Club

Miss Eunice H. Avery will be the speaker at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on April 3rd, taking for her subject "The News Behind the Headlines." Miss Avery is well known to Waban Club members through the Current Events courses given by her in previous years, under the auspices of the Civic committee. She spent the past summer visiting the main capitals of Europe, newly-independent Egypt, and the Mandates of Palestine and Syria, and became more than ever convinced of fundamental and constructive changes in world trends. With her grasp of world problems, and of their relation to the United States, she comes prepared to talk on a subject that is of vital interest to all.

Feeling that this program would appeal to many residents of Waban who might already have exercised their privilege of attending one meeting, it has been voted to invite any Waban resident to attend this meeting upon payment of the regular guest fee of 50 cents.

The hostesses for the social hour are Mrs. Austin Bourne and Mrs. William R. Ewing.

The Education committee of the Club, of which Mrs. George Sneath is chairman, is offering two valuable opportunities for all interested to learn about courses for students in High Schools and Junior High Schools, in lectures to be given on Tuesday, April 4th. These are open to the public, and parents, especially, will welcome the chance to become informed upon matters of such vital importance to the school careers of their sons and daughters. At 10:15 at the Union Church, Miss Riley, advisor on Courses in Senior High Schools, will discuss "Courses and College Boards" and at 3:30 o'clock in the Angier School, Miss Cleveland, Guidance advisor on Courses in Junior High Schools, will discuss "Courses in Junior High Schools."

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Howard Brenton MacDonald, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of Great Britain, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Viking Empire" at the regular meeting of the Club on April 4th, in the Congregational Parish House, at 2:30 p. m.

A second interesting event of the week for the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands is that arranged by the Dramatic committee, Mrs. Herbert N. Odell, chairman, an evening of Play Reading on April 6th, at 8 o'clock, in the Workshop.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Elizabeth Woolley, who has been associated with nationally known landscape architects, and has made an extensive study of the different types of garden designs, will address the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, April 4th, at the Club House. Miss Woolley will discuss "European Inspiration for American Gardens."

Gertrude B. Fish, chairman of the Music committee, whose efforts the past season have given so many splendid musical programs to the Club, will sing several contralto solos.

It is urged that all Club members be present at this meeting and discuss freely the proposed amendment to the Constitution, that of adding 30 cents to the usual yearly fee, this additional money being paid by each member as her Federation tax, rather than paying the entire sum from the treasury.

The Tea following the program will be the contribution to the social life of the Club, of the Conservation committee, under the direction of Mrs. Perez B. Howard, chairman, who will donate and serve the "tea."

"Around the World for Fifty Cents" is surely a trip worth looking into. All the thrills of adventure, and of visiting the quaint places of the world, may be had by attending the "Around the World Movie" lecture, that will be given on Tuesday evening, April 11th, at 8 o'clock at the Club House.

This is the final offering of the Ways and Means committee, and every Club member now has the chance to show her appreciation of the splendid efforts put forth this past year by this committee in helping to defray the expenses of the new Club House. Tickets may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Thomas Shepherd, N. N. 3676-M, or any member of the committee.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its last program meeting of the season on Tuesday, April 4th, at the home of Mrs. Wickcliffe J. Spaulding, 429 Wolcott street.

Mrs. William N. Tenney will review the "Life of Jennie Lind," by Edward Waganknecht; and Mrs. Nelson Freeman will take the place of Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, who is ill, and tell of the "Life of Mozart," by Marcia Davenport.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will hold a business meeting on April 5th, in the Channing Church Parlors. Guests may be invited to be present at 10:45 o'clock, to hear a program of Russian Classical and Russian Gypsy Folk songs, by Joseph Shnell. The hostesses will be Mrs. Fred T. Field and Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

This evening, Friday, March 31st, the Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club is meeting at the Club House at 8 o'clock to hear a lecture by Dr. Charles Tozier.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Home Talent Day, a program always eagerly anticipated by Club members, is to be celebrated by the West Newton Women's Educational Club next Friday, April 7th, instead of the 14th as originally planned. Mrs. E. A. Dockstader is in charge of the affair. The Club meets at 2:30 o'clock in the Unitarian Parish House.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Friday, March 24th, with the president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, in the chair.

Music for the program was furnished by three pupils of the All-Newton Music School: Miss Jean Kenway, violinist; Miss Eleanor Lord, cellist, and Miss Virginia Kenway, pianist. Their selections were particularly well rendered and were enthusiastically received.

Mr. R. Sherborn Whitney, of the Industrial Film Service, addressed the Club on "How They Gather News." He spoke, briefly, of the history of the Associated Press which was dedicated in 1907 to newspaper correspondents all over the globe, and through which news is flashed to all parts of the world in ten minutes.

His resume of the outstanding news in the past twenty-four years, such as the World War, Panama Canal, and the Peace Conference at Geneva, was most interesting and instructive. "A Trip on a United Fruit" was the subject which Mr. Whitney chose as his topic, and his audience on a delightful, imaginary trip to Cuba, Jamaica, and Costa Rica.

Newton Federation

A busy and interesting session was held in the Library at Newton on March 27th by the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Samuel N. Braman presiding. The corresponding secretary Mrs. George H. Jackson, read a letter from Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, secretary of the Girl Scouts, applying for associate membership for that organization in the Federation. Vote being taken, the application was accepted.

The work of the Community Service committee at the Clothing Chest in the old City Hall being one of the Federation's principal projects, the Board was intensely interested in the plan for soliciting and dispersing clothing in practice in the West Newton grade schools, evolved by Mrs. Raymond Piper and put into effect with the co-operation of the principal, Mr. Elmer E. Ellsworth. It is efficient in supplying the needs for children's apparel, and many times assists those families who do not apply at regular agencies for clothing.

The school nurse is a most important factor in this work. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the clothing relief work in the Federation, heartily endorses the plan, and if it is feasible to carry it into other sections of the city, the Federation will assist.

Mrs. Waldo W. Walker stated that the Conservation committee hopes to improve Jackson Park in the Nonan-
